NO. 33—SEVENTY-SECOND YEAR | VICTORIA, BRITISH COLUMBIA, SATURDAY, JANUARY 18, 1930 | TWENTY-FOUR PAGES

EX-PREMIER WARNS U.S. AGAINST STANDING ALOOF

City of Victoria Has Cash Surplus Of Nearly $35,000

Comptroller D. A. Macdonald Releases Figures Revealing $203,098 Cash on Hand at End of 1929, as Against $168,399 at December 31, 1928—Cut in Mill Rate May Be Made

City Council to Receive Budget Monday Evening

THE City of Victoria completed its business for the year 1929 with a cash surplus of $34,699 to turn over to the reduction of the levy this year. Figures released yesterday by City Comptroller D. A. Macdonald revealed that the balance on hand at December 31, 1929, was $203,098, as compared with the sum of $168,399 at December 31, 1928.

The city collected 91 per cent of its current general taxes last year as against 89.596 per cent in 1928. This signifies that a smaller amount of taxes were unpaid at the end of 1929, and therefore there will be a smaller amount to be collected from tax arrears this year. This will, to some extent, affect the tax rate, but Mayor Herbert Anscomb's suggestion of a forty-mill rate for 1930, a reduction of one mill from last year's levy, contained in His Worship's inaugural address to the City Council recently, appears quite feasible.

Mayor Anscomb stated yesterday that in view of the city having a cash surplus of some $35,000 and the increased building undertaken in 1929, which of course, would produce additional taxation to the city, it would allow the city to have approximately the same amount of money for expenditure in 1930 as in 1929, provided by the proceeds of a forty-mill rate.

City Comptroller Macdonald will introduce the budget of civic estimates and expenditures for the year 1930 to the City Council, at its meeting next Monday night. It is expected that the City Fathers will give initial consideration to the budget at that time.

The comptroller said that the general revenue cash on hand at December 31, 1928, was $52,593, and at the end of 1929, $90,902. With unpaid accounts and prepaid taxes for the following year deducted, the net balance from general revenue was $21,620 in 1928 and $72,734 in 1929. With the addition to these latter figures of collections from tax sales lands of $146,779 in 1928 and $130,364 in 1929, the net cash on hand or balance in 1928 was $168,399.

Italy to Finish Naval Programme Two Years Hence

By WILLIAM H. STONEMAN
(Copyright, 1930, by The Chicago Daily News Foreign Service.)

ROME, Italy, Jan. 17.—Italy's postwar naval programme, which was supplemented last January by a decision to build thirteen ships, will be completed by the end of 1932, thanks to appropriations calling for an expenditure of 600,000,000 lire ($30,000,000) during the years 1930-31 and 1931-32. Italy has no projected programme for naval construction beyond those ships already under contract.

DIFFICULT TO CHANGE TERMS OF COVENANT

Newly-Appointed Commission Will Find It Troublesome to Combine Covenant and Kellogg Pact

SOME EXPERTS SAY LEAVE IT ALONE

By WILLIAM MARTIN
Foreign Editor of The Journal de Geneve.

GENEVA, Switzerland, Jan. 17.—The general impression here is that the commission just appointed by the Council of the League of Nations to try to revise the League Covenant in order to make it harmonize with the Kellogg Pact will not reach a solution. It is feared that if the Covenant is enlarged to cover all kinds of hostilities, either the sanctions would become universally applicable, too, which is just what some states do not want, or would in practice never be applied, which is just what other states do not want. Hence the feeling that the best thing is to let both pacts stand as at present and consider them complementary to one another.

Right Hon. Arthur Henderson, British Foreign Minister, who favors revision of the Covenant, bases his view on the following arguments: the Covenant, in certain cases, permits war. World opinion has evolved considerably since 1919, and the Covenant, which was then in advance of opinion, is now behind it. Divergences between the League Covenant and the Kellogg Pact are unfortunate, because they lead on the one hand to doubts regarding the sincerity of the signatories of the Kellogg Pact, and on the other to the possibility of the Kellogg Pact becoming a mere

Genius for Government of British People Greatest Feature of Empire Growth

VANCOUVER, Jan. 17.—To the genius for good government of the people in the little isles in the North Sea, Hon. R. B. Bennett today attributed the success of the British Empire. And to the women of Canada, the mothers of Canada, the Dominion leader pleaded for a continuation of their part in the moulding of this Dominion as part of the great British Empire, occupying one-quarter of the world's surface and constituting one-quarter of the world's population.

Mr. Bennett spoke here before the Women's Canadian Club, which filled the ballroom of the hotel where the luncheon was held.

GENIUS OF GOVERNMENT

The essential element of government within the British Empire, he proceeded, had been justice. "If Great Britain," the Opposition chieftain declared, "were to perish today it would not be remembered so much for the matchless achievements of her soldiers, but for its government—the government of India for instance." The whole basis of success of the Empire, Mr. Bennett exclaimed, had been good government.

Through the heroism of its soldiers, annexation, treaty, secession,

Claim They Have Exposed Plot to Kill King Zogu

BELGRADE, Jan. 17.—The newspaper Pravda in a dispatch from Debar, on the Albanian frontier, today said that gendarmes had located an arsenal containing 10,000 rifles and other war stores, and had arrested five Albanian chiefs on charges of plotting a rebellion against King Zogu.

NIGHT CLUBS GIVE POLICE MUCH WORRY

Proposals of Lord Byng to Curb Activities Are Now Being Studied by Licensing Commission

WANT TO PREVENT INFORMER METHOD

LONDON, Jan. 17—Clubs in the "Metropolitan District," especially night clubs, are proving an increasing source of worry to the Metropolitan Police. They have increased in number from 1,285 in 1921 to 1,823 in 1928.

Before the Licensing Commission today, Mr. Norman Kendall, assistant commissioner of the Metropolitan Police, outlined a plan formulated by Lord Byng, chief commissioner and head of Scotland Yard, which would strengthen the law by giving the police the right to enter any club at any hour.

LORD BYNG'S PROPOSAL

Lord Byng had suggested, according to Mr. Kendall, that police should also have power to seize the clubs' books and any liquor they found.

Mr Kendall emphasized that such regulations would not interfere with the comfort and privacy of the legitimate clubs. He declared the police, unless granted these powers, must continue the practice of being "informers," a practice hated by the police and condemned by the public.

The commission is considering the suggestion.

No Pay for Employees Of Chicago

CHICAGO, Jan. 17.—Yesterday was pay day for Chicago's 5,000 policemen, but nothing happened. Today is pay day for 3,000 employees of the Board of Education, and ditto.

Office employees, civil service workers, engineers and miscellaneous workers were the ones who failed to receive cheques. Next Friday is pay day for the teachers, and the school board is dubious about making salary payments to them. The reason of the board is the same as that in the case of the policemen, "haven't got any money."

Urge Electors to Decide on Oak Bay Bus Franchise In Light of Changed Status

Mr. Harold L. Sangster, managing director of the Royal Blue Line, in a statement issued last night, points out that the transportation company has been negotiating with the Oak Bay Council during the past year, and that the company can legitimately claim that the council is satisfied. The encouragement offered by the council has induced the company to go into Oak Bay and give a service satisfactorily for four months. The council has agreed to give a franchise, and an agreement has been prepared with adequate public safeguards, as the council has told the ratepayers. The vote on Saturday is to confirm such arrangements as have been already tentatively agreed upon.

Mr. Sangster considers that the electors should enable the council to complete the agreement by voting for the plebiscite, and thereby secure continuity of street transportation by a regular schedule. "As this council," Mr. Sangster said, "has recently been returned by acclamation, it is to be assumed that the acts of its members in supporting the company's advent in the municipality are approved by the ratepayers, and that a favorable vote may be a definite confirmation that the residents want this form of transportation."

A statement on the Oak Bay referendum regarding the bus service was issued yesterday by Mr. A. T. Goward, vice-president of the B.C. Electric Railway, in anticipation of the vote today. It said:

"Tomorrow you are asked to vote on the question of authorizing the council to give a franchise to the Blue Line Bus Company to operate motor buses in the municipality to the exclusion of any other company. We wish to draw attention to the far-reaching effect of such a franchise and to point out that it is not necessary, that it is not in the best interest of the citizens, and that it may very seriously prejudice the existing transportation system.

"The B.C. Electric has been giving a street railway service to the municipality for nearly forty years. We have a large investment in the railway track, street cars and equipment. We have in addition a large investment in light and power equipment, and we are negotiating with the council in regard to extending our gas service into the municipality.

PAY HIGH WAGES

"We pay the highest wages in Canada to our street car men, many of whom have lived with you for

Hon. R. B. Bennett Guest of Honor at Vancouver Banquet

VANCOUVER, Jan. 17.—Hon. R. B. Bennett, Dominion Conservative leader, and General A. D. McRae, chief Conservative whip, were the guests of honor at a dinner tendered tonight by party admirers. Mr. Bennett was the guest of members of the executive of the Vancouver Conservative Association. General McRae was likewise honored by a dinner given him by North Vancouver Conservatives.

CABINET HEARS B.C. FREIGHT RATES APPEAL

REDUCED RATES TO AID ALL INDUSTRY

OTTAWA, Jan. 17.—Hearing of the Western freight rates appeal by the Dominion Privy Council concluded this evening. Decision was reserved.

Arguments by counsel for the provinces which had not been heard during the afternoon sitting were brief, and the presentations of railway counsel were equally so.

Thus Premier Mackenzie King and his colleagues were able to hear arguments presented on behalf of British Columbia farmers, the Government of Manitoba, the Winnipeg Board of Trade, the Province of Ontario and the Canadian Pacific and Canadian National Railways all before 6 o'clock.

CASE FOR B.C.

Appearing for British Columbia farmers, Mr. G. G. McGeer, K.C., declared the Privy Council would not hurt the large reserves of the Canadian Pacific Railway very much by granting relief to farmers in the Fraser River Valley.

Reserves of the C.P.R. now amounted to something over $200,000,000, and at the end of 1928 that railway had cash on hand of $52,000,000. If all Canadian institutions were as prosperous in the matter of reserve as the C.P.R., Canada would be in a very happy position, Mr. McGeer asserted.

In asking for reduced grain rates from the Prairies to British Columbia, he was asking for development of the Canadian dairying and poultry industries, said Mr. McGeer. Development of these industries meant development of Canada's foreign trade in the commodities they produced.

Surely this was more worth while than to permit the railways to add to their income. The domestic rate on grain from the Prairies to British Columbia was too high and should be reduced.

POLLING IS HELD TODAY

Four Districts of Vancouver Island Take Opinion of Electors on Numerous Subjects

PUBLIC INTEREST IN BUS APPEAL

Oak Bay, Esquimalt, Saanich and North Cowichan will be the Vancouver Island district municipalities to vote today on members of councils, school boards and commissionerships, and to express opinions of by-laws and referenda.

In Saanich and North Cowichan there are pollings for reeve, in each case the retiring reeve being challenged by a competitor, in seeking re-election. Mr. William Crouch, in Saanich is opposed by Mr. F. V Hobbs, who until recently has been the chairman of the district school board. In North Cowichan, Mr. E. W Carr-Hilton, who served three terms on the council, is contesting the return of Mr. G. A. Tisdall, the sitting reeve.

There are contests for three wards in Saanich, in Wards Two, Three and Four, for the council and for the police commissionership.

Great interest in the Saanich election has centred in the two school by-laws, which have been strenuously defended by the trustees at a series of ward meetings designed to educate the electors. The majority of the council members have been critical of the proposals for two high schools and additions to graded schools.

In North Cowichan, in addition to contests for various offices, there

BRITANNIA BRANCH IS CLUB HOST

ASSISTANCE FOR DISABLED VETERANS

Patriotic Addresses Are Given by Lieutenant-Governor, Premier Tolmie and Others

"BEFORE we left Government House my secretary said I was only to say a few words at this gathering tonight," said His Honor Lieutenant-Governor Bruce to the Britannia Branch of the Canadian Legion at the dinner last evening. "Somebody or other has said it was a pleasant experience acquiring a swelled head, and you might think that I am so afflicted when I state I am flattered in responding to this toast. It is not proposed to myself, but particularly to my position as the representative of His Majesty in this province.

"I recall," continued His Honor, "that last year just as we were leaving Government House for the annual dinner of the Britannia Branch, the last bulletin issued that afternoon was received concerning the badly-stricken man of Buckingham Palace who was recovering and attributed that recovery to the prayers of his people through the Empire. On Tuesday next, the eyes of the world will be again focused on the King, when the gathering of the five great nations will consider the reduction of armaments as a first measure for the relief of a war-worn world. It is fitting that the King should be a leader in this great movement.

TO THE END OF THE ROAD

"I consider it a great privilege as your governor to stand side by side with you and pay silent tribute to those who paid the supreme sacrifice, as well as to those gallant members of the Britannia Branch who have been gathered to their fathers since the war. In this connection, I have in mind the late Colonel Robertson, who had so ably responded to the toast "Britannia Branch" a year ago. I would say to you, carry on in the same spirit as those who have gone, even to the very end of the road.

"I must thank you for asking me here and cluding my guests at Government House. I thank you also on behalf of my niece, and feel that

Temperature Rise May See Snow or Sleet

Rising mercury readings, in the face of a high barometer, gave confidence to the forecast of Mr. F Napier Denison, superintendent of Gonzales Observatory, of milder weather, but the prognostication is tempered with the fact that a storm is blowing in from the Pacific Ocean, already influencing reports on weather conditions from the West Coast. Prospects of some sleet or snow are viewed as a sequel to the change, but will be local in application. The maximum reading yesterday was thirty-seven degrees above, the night reading being twenty-nine degrees. Cold weather is general throughout the Interior of the province and to the South.

STORMS ARE RAGING AND COLD SEVERE

LAVA DUST STORM STRIKES PORTLAND

DENVER, Colo., Jan. 17.—Extreme low temperatures which rode into the Rocky Mountain west last night on a howling blizzard tonight had left in their wake severe suffering, apprehension for the safety of several motor parties and at least one death.

In general little relief was forecast by the weather bureau from the biting cold. Snow was predicted tonight for New Mexico and Northeastern Arizona, and a severe cold wave was clamping icy fingers on Colorado, New Mexico and half of Arizona. Wyoming caught the brunt of the storm. Tonight more than a score of persons were unaccounted for, apparently marooned by snow on highways swept by the worst blizzards the state has experienced in thirty-five years. The body of an unidentified man, who had been frozen to death, was found on the Anaconda-Phillipsburg Highway in Montana.

In most instances wire communications were paralyzed. Fear was expressed that many sheep herders in Wyoming might be lost with their flocks. A party of six men was unaccounted for between Rock Springs and Superior, and an interstate bus, operating between Salt Lake City and Wyoming points, was unreported.

STRANGE DUST STORM

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 17. — Driven by a relentless east wind from the Cascade range, volcanic ash as fine as talcum powder swept over Portland today, turned a white, eight-inch blanket of snow into a dusty hue and sifted through window and door casings in volume most

Will Government Assent to Abolition of "Iron Wall?" Question for Naval Parley

By NEGLEY FARSON

LONDON, Eng., Jan. 17.—Perhaps the only thing certain about the naval conference which King George will open on Tuesday in the House of Lords with a speech broadcast to the world, will be that the opening chanson will not be "Rule Britannia, Britannia Rules the Waves." But not many thinking decent people will derive much satisfaction from that fact. The London Conference will probably sound the death knell of the finest navy and as gallant a service of men as this world has ever seen.

The Royal Gallery, in which the delegates will be seated on Tuesday, has a heroic-sized painting of the Death of Nelson at Trafalgar, and Nelson is the name of the present British battleship which is the finest in the world and can outshoot, outspeed and outfight any other battleship afloat. She has a sister ship, the Rodney.

DESTROYING "IRON WALL"

The British have fourteen other battleships and battle cruisers faster than any possessed by the United States. The British battle cruiser Hood, 41,000 tons, is by far the biggest fighting ship afloat. When the British propose eventually to abolish this magnificent fleet they willingly relinquish one of England's greatest glories—they destroy their "iron wall."

This they propose to initiate under the painting of the Death of Nelson. And his historic words at Trafalgar that day, "Kiss me, Hardy," will really be "kismet" the dying word that Nelson actually spoke.

Recent history has stamped its mark on that historic painting in the House of Lords. On the white thigh of one of the gunner's bend-

GEN. SMUTS SPEAKS OUT TO STATES

Asks If People Are Using Power Mischievously or Wisely for General Human Welfare

PERTINENT QUERY PUT TO COUNTRY

Avoidance of Entanglements Commendable but Aloofness Impossible to Any World Power

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 17. — Men of war have become the most practical men of peace, General Christian Smuts, former Premier of the South African Union, and Boer War hero, told a meeting of the Philadelphia forum.

Conquest and exploitation of alien people, he added, is impractical, dangerous and old-fashioned.

He asserted that avoidance of foreign entanglements was commendable, but national aloofness was impossible.

"The United States is in her national adolescence," the speaker said, "has acquired an amazing amount of world power. But wisdom was never a characteristic of adolescence. Adolescence has a tendency to be mischievous if accompanied by power.

USING POWER WISELY

"There is a question I want to put to the American people before I leave this country for England tomorrow night—do you believe that you are using your power wisely and not mischievously; in other words, for the general human welfare or simply for your own selfish pleasure?

"But my first trip to this country has convinced me that wisdom will come to you people as a nation. It probably will come sooner to you than it has come to other nations, like your world power did. As a people you already are instinctively liberal minded.

"Greatness and strength in a nation only excites envy and malice in other nations. If that greatness and strength is not mellowed by kindness, made gracious by benevolence, as a nation you have yet to learn that."

UNEMPLOYED AID DEMANDS CO-OPERATION

RAP INDIFFERENCE OF GOVERNMENTS

VANCOUVER, Jan. 17.—Deploring the attitude of the Provincial and Federal Governments in not sending official representation, Vancouver's unemployment conference requested, at the closing session Friday, that both Governments take immediate action to co-operate with the city of Vancouver, and other municipalities, public and semi-public bodies represented.

The resolution in this connection, which was first on a long list of resolutions dealt with, stated that the conference realized that it is only by the co-operation of all public and semi-public bodies, but more particularly of the governing organizations, that the present national problem can hope for a solution.

As a means of providing immediately relief for the situation, the conference approved several suggestions advanced by a representative of Hope Board of Trade.

These included opening with Government assistance of one or more wood camps, within 100 miles of Vancouver, to accommodate as many unemployed as possible, paying a fair price for each cord of disconcerting to housewives. At times the rain of lava dust assumed the proportions of a fall of discolored snow and unless snow falls tomorrow, Mr. Edward L. Wells, Government meteorologist, said the dust would continue.

Reports received here indicate the dust blanket deposited east of the Cascades by the wind was thicker than west of the range. The dust originated, the weather bureau said, somewhere in the interior of the state.

The lowest local temperature of the present cold spell was recorded early today when the mercury dropped to thirteen degrees above zero. A rise of only five degrees was noted during the day.

this will be her last appearance at a dinner of the Britannia Branch of the B.E.S.L. I understand that she is going to take on a new job. In the meantime I have been given six months' notice of the fact. I can only say he is a very lucky fellow, for she will be a great help to him.

"In adopting the name, Britannia Branch of the Canadian Legion, you have done a very fine thing, a wonderfully inspiring thing, I should say. It suggests 'Britannia needs no bulwarks'; for what better bulwarks could be found than in men like yourselves."

LAMPS OF BENEVOLENCE

His Honor complimented President Cassidy on the wonderful success of the Branch during the year. "It has kept the lamps of benevolence burning," he concluded amid applause.

Responding to the toast, "Our Empire," which was proposed by Comrade Snow in a few brief words, Hon. S. F. Tolmie thanked the Branch for the invitation extended to himself and Mrs. Tolmie. He paid a tribute to the singers who entertained with songs, comparing their renditions with the radio selections regularly heard. "The toast allotted to me is an all important one," said the Premier. "What does our Empire mean to us? Have we ever realized that one fourth of the earth's territory, one-fourth of its people, more different races of men, more religions belong to it. Of North America, the greater portion is British, and similar conditions prevail in South Africa. We are producers of the world's largest gold output. We have done much in the advancement of civilization and contributed greatly to literature.

SELF-SUSTAINING

"We should not be dependent upon other nations for anything, and can be self-sustaining within the Empire if the British people so will. We are the largest exporters of wheat. We should boast about our heritage and what we can do with it. If we wait for 'George to do it,' we'll wait a long time. We should develop a greater knowledge of one another. When we realize how little we in Canada know about one another, east and west, we can get some idea of how necessary it is to develop a better understanding for the ultimate good of the Empire.

"In the matter of pensions, the returned men should be extended every assistance." The Premier advised the members of the Legion to persist, and by continual pressure they would undoubtedly attain success; for they were only asking for what was coming to them. He would assist as Premier of British Columbia, and they could rest assured they would have his hearty assistance.

GENERAL LAKE

Comrade W. G. Stone proposed the toast, "The Canadian Legion of the B.E.S.L.," and apart from the toast to "The King," considered it the most important toast of the evening. The problem of civil reestablishment was being solved through the efforts of the Legion, and the men who led the men in war were now leading them. There was present General Sir Percy Lake, who had given of his time in the interests of the returned men, and was an example for the younger men to emulate.

Responding to the toast, Sir Percy Lake said he would speak about the work the Legion was now doing. It had three great ideals—loyalty, comradeship and the pursuits of peace. The Legion was loyal to the core, and comradeship was demonstrated by the care it was taking of members and others not able to care for themselves. Due to the Legion, a committee of the House of Commons had considered an amendment to the Pensions Act, and it was put through. The Legion was still hard at work pressing for new amendments in the coming session of the Dominion Parliament, and there were splendid chances for success. The Legion was keen about soldier settlement. The employment and care of returned men suffering disabilities or burned out and who were not getting proper consideration under present conditions was most important. It was hoped that something might be done as in England, and in the Red Cross workshops, where a man could render such service as he was capable of doing and at the same time save his self-respect by earning a partial living at least.

POLICEMAN OF WORLD

The Legion, while four square for peace, supported the idea of Canada maintaining a sufficient force to protect itself if necessary. "Total disarmament is out of the question. Britain has hitherto had to do police work throughout the world, and very likely will have to do it again," Sir Percy said, as he pointed to the situation in different parts of the world where trouble was likely to break out if disarmament became a reality. The speaker concluded by hoping that the Legion would always be able to live up to the three great ideals already quoted.

The toast to "His Majesty's Forces" was proposed by Comrade Dempster. He stated he knew very little about the navy or air forces, but he did know something about the army, particularly the infantry section. Had it not been for the navy, there could not have been an army, said the speaker. The air force was the baby of His Majesty's forces and had been growing rapidly since the war.

Responding on behalf of the Navy, Commander Murray said it was a personal honor to be present at the dinner. There were few naval men in the city who had served during the war, the men here belonging to the Legion were mostly those who had served in the trenches. It was very gratifying to point out that the present head of the Legion was none other than Lord Jellicoe, of whom all were so proud.

PRAISES AIR FORCE

Brigadier-General Sutherland Brown, on behalf of the Army and Air Forces, could not see how he was going to say very much about the Army in the time allotted to him. He told something of soldiering history, and said it was a pleasure to be with the soldiers at any time. He had started in the Army when quite young and was glad he was still in it. He had seen something of the Air Service while in England last year, and while the flyers did not go in for stunts and advertising, he assured his hearers that they need not worry about Britain's air legions. They would be able to take their part when called upon.

"Our Guests" was proposed by Comrade Blair, who coupled the ladies present with it. It was the second time the ladies had been present at a Britannia Branch annual dinner. He attributed much of the success of the branch to the Ladies' Auxiliary.

Comrade H. D. Twigg, M.P.P., responded to this toast. And speaking for all the ladies, he would address Miss Mackenzie, wishing her a long and happy life. Her charming manner had endeared her to the people of Victoria and the province, who would long remember her.

INFLUENCE ON PUBLIC LIFE

Mr. C. H. Dickie, M.P., who was asked by President Cassidy to speak a few words, said, apropos of the possibilities evolving from the efforts of the Legion, that the secretary, Major Saunders, had arrived at Ottawa to get some consideration for pilotage matters. He happened to be a member of the Marine Committee of the House, and was in frequent touch with Major Saunders. With British tenacity, the Major had stuck for the British Columbia board's requirements, and secured what he asked for in the end. In addition to his personality, the major was backed by the Legion. Its members did not realize what a potent factor the Legion was in the public life of Canada. If the Legion united with certain other organizations anything would be within its reach. "I realize what you have done for civilization, and thoroughly approve of the statements made by Sir Arthur Currie in regard to pensions." Mr. Dickie said he would like to see the day when all men who fought would have a pension. There was no reason why the time should not come when the country would be able to treat its returned men better than returned men of any other country on earth were treated.

Between the speeches songs were rendered by Miss Howe, Mr. R. B. Lee and Comrade Jackman. On the arrival of the Lieutenant-Governor and party "God Save the King" was sung by those present, followed shortly after by "O Canada." The two-minute silence was observed and the toast to "The King" honored. Canon Hinchliffe, M.P.P., said grace.

President Cassidy reported a successful year for the branch and read a letter of regret at not being able to be present from the the provincial president.

The joint committee responsible for the dinner was: Mesdames Sheret, Dempster, Hood, Bloomfield and Blair, and Messrs. Sheret, Blair and Dempster. The guests included His Honor Lieutenant-Governor Bruce and Miss Mackenzie, Miss Ward, Colonel and Lady Constance Fowkes, Premier Tolmie and Mrs. Tolmie, General Sutherland Brown, Commander Murray and Mrs. Murray, Sir Percy Lake, Hon. Hinchliffe, Mayor Anscomb, Messrs. D. B. Plunkett, M.P., C. H. Dickie, M.P. and H. D. Twigg, M.P.P., Colonel Gilman, Colonel D. B. Martyn, Messrs. H. Palmer, C. Gill, W. Simmonds, A. Calvert and W. H. Hadley, Captain Molson, Dr. Baillie, Colonel Smyly and Mr. W. J. Stone.

Plane of Record Holder of U.S. Greatly Damaged

WEST PALM BEACH, Jan. 17.—Captain Frank Hawks, noted aviator and holder of the coast-to-coast nonstop flight record, wrecked his record-making plane and badly damaged three other ships at Roosevelt Field here today in attempting to take off for New York.

Hawks was not injured, but two occupants of the machine were, Hal P. Henning, Houston, Texas, received a broken arm, and P. J. Clausen, New York, mechanic, had several ribs broken.

AIRPLANE CARRIER HAS LEFT TACOMA

TACOMA, Jan. 17.—The airplane carrier Lexington, which for the last thirty days has acted as an auxiliary power plant for the city of Tacoma, sailed from the harbor today. Power lines between the city and the navy ship were severed last night.

years. Our purchases from the merchants in Victoria run into the hundreds of thousands of dollars annually, and our street car fares are among the lowest on the continent.

"We have been charged with being dilatory in establishing this bus service. We freely admit this, and believe we made a mistake. All companies composed of human beings as they are, make mistakes.

"But what you, as a resident of Oak Bay, are really interested in is: 'What is in my best interests at this particular moment?'

"We have definitely stated to your council that we will put on a motor bus service, operating in the municipality and running into Victoria along routes satisfactory to your council with free transfers to any point on our system, either street railway or bus service.

FOR TWELVE YEARS

"You are asked to give an exclusive franchise to a bus company for a term of twelve years. Have you considered what your position will be if you do so? Is it conceivable that any street railway can continue giving its street railway service if patronage, the one thing that keeps it alive, is taken away from it?

"What, then, will be your position? Do you want to be tied up for twelve years to any concern that cannot give you free transfers to all points in Victoria, such as James Bay, Foul Bay, Fernwood, Cloverdale, Outer Wharf, Victoria West, Esquimalt and parts of Saanich? This is what the the B.C. Electric has promised to do.

"In conclusion: What you, as a resident in Oak Bay, have to make up your mind upon, is: What, in the end, is in the best interests of the residents of Oak Bay? To tie yourselves up to any concern for a term of years to the exclusion of all others, or to leave the door open and make absolutely sure that you get the best?"

Restore Traffic On C.N.R. Line Near Cowichan

VANCOUVER, Jan. 17.—Complete main line service was resumed this morning on the Cowichan subdivision of the Canadian National Railways. All delayed traffic is moving and the regular service will be maintained. The temporary halt in train operation was caused last Saturday when the bridge at Mile 24.6 was completely destroyed as the result of a derailment.

"We immediately put on a repair crew and by dint of steady and hard work a new bridge has been constructed, and the complete service was resumed today," stated Mr. B. T. Chappell, general superintendent, Canadian National Railways, British Columbia district, Vancouver.

"The bridge is 187 feet long and had to be completely rebuilt. However, everything is ready now to carry on as usual," he stated.

wood cut; immediate clearing by unemployed men of the right of way for the Hope-Princeton Highway; construction by the Vancouver Parks Board and the Provincial Government of the Marine Driveway, recently suggested by Mr. Jonathan Rogers; clearing of the "green timber" lands for a provincial nursery or replanting grounds; start on a motor road circling Vancouver Island; investigation of possibilities of clearing and cultivating vacant spaces in the city, clearing of Hastings mill site, and other works by the Harbor Board; consultation with large employers of labor as to ways of creating outlets for the present surplus supply of man power.

Copies of all resolutions adopted, it was decided, will be sent to the Dominion and British Columbia Governments, cities and municipalities of Western Canada, and Federal and Provincial members in British Columbia.

Claiming that the unemployment situation has been aggravated by assisted immigration, the conference asked the Dominion Government to take care of all unemployed and their families, by means of work or relief, who have not been domiciled in Canada for two years; and to take steps to stop assisted immigration.

It requested also that the authorities see that the policy of the Department of Immigration and Labor be co-ordinated.

Unemployment insurance, urged in several resolutions submitted, was endorsed.

IN AWKWARD POSITION

If the Kellogg Pact is ever violated without the Covenant being violated at the same time, the League Council would be in an awkward position. This might happen if a state went to war after fulfilling all League formalities. The Kellogg Pact forbids all war, but proposes no remedies in case a war happens, while the League allows war in certain cases, but provides severe sanctions in all others. The two can be reconciled only by weakening the League sanctions along the lines of the Kellogg Pact, or extending them to all cases along the lines of the Covenant.

Mr. Henderson has declared that he is not trying to weaken the League sanctions, as some had feared. But if the League obligations are made to cover all cases like the Kellogg Pact, then a blockade and all the obligations of Article 16 would apply to all cases. This is considered here to be virtually what was sought in 1924 through the Geneva Protocol, which Great Britain rejected.

Some French observers have therefore suspected that the British aim in trying to enlarge the scope of the Covenant was at the same time to weaken the sanctions, and despite Mr. Henderson's reassurances on this point, Foreign Minister Arlstide Briand declares that not only must Articles 12 and 15 be amended to outlaw all wars, but at the same time the sanctions must be strengthened. In other words, France seems to be desirous to revive the Geneva Protocol.

AMENDMENT DIFFICULT

This being the case, amendment of the Covenant appears to be difficult. Every time it has been proposed jurists have rediscovered that the Covenant is a unit and can scarcely be modified in one place without the whole being affected. Many people, therefore, feel it best to let it alone, especially as ten years is too short a time in which to form a safe judgment of its efficacy, and the Kellogg Pact is still brand new.

From the precedents of the Bolivian-Paraguay controversy over the Gran Chaco and the Manchurian Railway dispute, it is argued here that the League's first step, in case of war, will be to get in touch with the United States and invoke the Kellogg Pact, and to utilize the Covenant only if the Kellogg Pact proves insufficient. In short, it is said that the two texts converge and overlap in such a way that they are mutually supporting, and that the proposed revision is unnecessary.

is also a school by-law, the consolidated district being asked to approve with Duncan the building of a new high school. On Thursday the vote was insufficient to pass a money by-law, when Duncan electors voted, but the loss may be offset today.

Esquimalt has only to choose school trustees and one commissioner. The by-law there affects the future of the Gorge Vale Golf Course, which has been strongly recommended by members of the council and public bodies in the district.

In Oak Bay great interest has been aroused by the referendum on the bus situation, to confirm an agreement between the council and the Royal Blue Line for motor bus service. There the only vote will be for school trustees among offices to be filled.

Polling will take place from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m.

NOT PERFECT

The vicar was new to the village. At his first service he preached a vigorous sermon against betting. He was horrified afterwards when the churchwarden told him that the squire, who had been in church, was a notorious gambler.

Hoping to get out of the great man's bad books at once, the vicar made straight for the squire's house.

"I'm afraid I must have offended you this morning," he said, in apologetic tones.

To his surprise, the squire gave a loud guffaw, and patted him on the back.

"Don't worry about that, old man," he replied. "It's a mighty bad sermon that doesn't hit me somewhere."

TAX RATE BY-LAW

Mayor Anscomb is very anxious to get the estimates of the various civic branches of government completed and the rate by-law passed by the end of the present month in order that tax notices may be in the hands of the ratepayers very early this year. His Worship has requested the co-operation of the City Council, School Board and Police Commission in making this proposal possible.

The Police Commission has already commenced consideration of its 1930 estimates and has made good progress with them. The City Council will have the budget for the current year before it for the first time next Monday night, while the School Board will get under way with the school estimates at a meeting which has been called for Wednesday night next.

Want to Prevent Manufacture of Home Brew Beer

TORONTO, Jan. 17.—Representations against present Canadian legislation permitting the manufacture of home brew beer is being sought at Ottawa by members of the Dominion Brewery Association, it is learned here.

"The members are making their annual pilgrimage to Ottawa," said one brewery executive, but they are particularly sincere in their request that home brewing be restricted.

Among other things sought by the association members is the withdrawal of the sales tax and an increase in the tax on imported malt.

Samoan Natives Arrested Under Rioting Charge

APIA, Samoa, Jan. 17—First arrests were made yesterday of members of Mau (League of Samoan Natives), who took to the bush recently to avoid punishment for opposing New Zealand's Government. Six mounted policemen captured seven natives and brought them here under guard.

Seventy-eight Mau members, wanted in court to answer charges growing out of the fighting on December 28, in which one white constable and eight Samoans were killed, escaped to the hills, and with them went many others in the Mau. Administrator S. S. Allen sent police and marines in pursuit.

J. H. FORREST IS TRIED IN COURT

Evidence Is Presented Against Promoter of Victoria Ejector Syndicate

Trial of John Haddow Forrest on a charge of obtaining money on false pretences opened in the County Court yesterday, before Judge Lampman. Hearing of witnesses called by the prosecution occupied the day and was not concluded when the court adjourned until this morning. Mr. W. C. Moresby, K.C., appeared for the Crown, Mr. A. J. Patton for the complainant, and Mr. H. C. Hall, K.C., for the accused.

In opening the case for the prosecution Mr. Moresby said that Forrest was charged with obtaining money by falsely representing that he was the owner of certain patent rights in respect to a pumping device designated as an ejector.

The accused upon being called to do so, confirmed the admission made at the preliminary hearing to the effect that in last March, on the date of the alleged offence, the patent referred to had not been issued to him.

THE EJECTOR SYNDICATE

J. W. Gosse, the chief witness for the prosecution, said that he had been induced to take one hundred shares in the Victoria Ejector Syndicate, for which he paid Forrest $100 by cheque, on the strength of the statement made to him by Forrest that the latter had the patent for the ejector. The members of the syndicate were to subscribe to twenty units of one hundred shares each, paying in to Forrest $100 for each unit. With the funds thus provided Forrest was to organize a company for the manufacture and sale of the ejector, which company was to have exclusive right to manufacture under the patent. The company was to be capitalized at $50,000, and each member of the syndicate was to receive 500 shares in the company, to the par value of $500. The business of the company, and the patent rights it held, were to be highly profitable and the members of the syndicate were assured that the 500 shares to be allotted to each unit in the syndicate would be very valuable.

THE OUTCOME

Time went on, however, witness continued, and Forrest had not organized the company, and the members of the syndicate had not received the 500 shares, or any of the expected benefits from their investment. He and others had taken joint action, with the result that they learned that the patent had not been issued, and that there was serious doubt whether Forrest would ever obtain it, or whether he was, in fact, the inventor of it, as he had stated.

Similar or corroborative evidence was given by T. A. K. Turner, A. J. Patton, A. E. MacEachern and John Acreman, the prosecution seeking to show that Forrest had obtained money paid for units in the syndicate by representing that he was in actual possession of patents for the ejector in Canada and the United States, had not merely applied for them, but had actually secured them.

CROSS-EXAMINATION

The defence in cross-examination sought to show that what Forrest had represented was that he was in the same position as if the patents had been issued to him, in that the application he had made had established his right to the patents which would certainly be issued in due course. The defence further sought to show that the prosecution had been instituted with a view to obtaining for the members of the syndicate the benefits for which they had contracted and of securing performance of the agreement made by Forrest.

Returning Officer Post Is Permanent

OTTAWA, Jan. 17.—The revised Dominion election law provides that the returning officers for Federal elections be appointed by the chief electoral office. The object was to take the election machinery out of politics.

Jules Castonguay, chief electoral officer, today made public his appointments for every constituency in Canada. These returning officers can only be dismissed for cause, and accordingly it is expected much permanency will be added to the election machinery.

'DRIVE YOURSELF' METHODS SLATED

Magistrate Jay Censures Lax Practices Followed in Letting Cars for Hire

H. Beaveridge, who appeared before Magistrate George Jay in the city police court yesterday, on a charge of obtaining money by false pretenses, was found guilty and was remanded for sentence until today.

Evidence was given that Beaveridge, when hiring a "drive yourself" car, had given as a deposit a forged cheque for $20. Later, on his return with the car, he had cashed a cheque, over his own signature, for $10. On presentation of the cheque at the bank it was found that he had no account there.

In commenting on the case, Magistrate Jay severely censured the ease with which "drive yourself" cars can be hired by young men who cannot afford to pay for them, or for the damage they may do, while driving them, to other persons or cars. It was very dangerous to the public that so little care should be taken to see that the irresponsible youths are not supplied with cars in which to drive at large upon highways. Even although the driver is licenced, he may be accompanied by several others who are not, but who may take turns at attempting to drive. Very many serious accidents have been caused, some of them quite recently, the magistrate pointed out.

Court of Appeal

Victoria Sittings

Kerchner et al. (Appellants) vs. The Convention of Baptist Churches of British Columbia (Respondents)

—Appellants were assignees of a judgment debt against the South Hill Baptist Church. The judgment was duly registered in the Land Registry Office. Respondent is mortgagee under an assignment to it of a mortgage over the property of the South Hill Baptist Church which had been duly registered in the Land Registry Office prior to the registration of the judgment. The South Hill Church had obtained a loan from a bank for the purpose of constructing some buildings. A Dr. Goostrey had made himself responsible to the bank for the payment of the amount advanced and had taken a mortgage over the property. This mortgage was assigned to the bank. Respondent came to the assistance of the South Hill Church, and, out of its own moneys and funds placed at its disposal, paid off part of the loan to the bank. The bank then assigned the mortgage to respondent.

The amount stated to be secured by the mortgage was $12,000, with interest at 8 per cent. Appellants contend that the greater portion of the mortgage has been satisfied and the payment made by respondent to the bank on account of the mortgage was so made with the intention of freeing the church of its liability and without any intention of requiring payment from the church, and that they are entitled to have the mortgage discharged and the property made available for payment of the judgment debt.

The trial judge found that respondent had used the funds which came into his hands with the intention of preventing appellants from recovering the full amount of the judgment, and further, that respondent had no intention of ever enforcing its claim under the mortgage, subject, however, to the claim of a party who had subscribed a portion of the funds used. It was suggested that respondent was acting in an unconscionable manner. It would, however, be inequitable to permit appellants to collect the full amount of their claim, which was absolutely valueless until respondent had raised money to pay other creditors, and respondent was still willing to pay appellants in the same proportion as other creditors were paid. Respondent had received certain moneys to be applied for the relief of Baptist churches. It had set aside a portion of these moneys for the relief of the South Hill Church, and it had raised by subscription and loans sufficient funds to complete the relief intended. The South Hill Church or other parties interested in the disposition of the funds by respondent had rights with regard to the disposition of the funds, but appellants were strangers and could not enforce those rights for their own benefit without consent. The action was dismissed.

The Court of Appeal reserved judgment.

Mr. C. W. Craig, K.C., and Mr. J. H. MacGill for appellants; Mr. G. R. Long for respondent.

Minister of Interior Declares Definite Forest Policy to Conserve Resources Is Necessary

OTTAWA, Jan. 17.—Canada requires a definite forest policy to conserve resources, regulate the cutting of timber, promote settlement of the land and encourage greater efforts to prevent forest fires.

This was the pronouncement last night of Hon. Charles Stewart, speaking at a dinner which concluded the twenty-second annual convention of the Canadian Lumbermen's Association.

"To my mind, Mr. Stewart said, "there is nothing difficult about the essentials of a proper forest policy, nor can there be anything antagonistic to the lumbermen or any other forest user."

The trouble had been, he pointed out, that in the past the producing power of the soil has been entirely disregarded.

TIMBER AREAS REDUCED

The operations of the lumber industry, together with the ravages of forest fires, have reduced large areas formerly of high value to barren waste. "My point is," he continued, "that we have ill-treated these lands and now have on our hands, in many parts of the country, acres of land, nonrevenue producing and a burden to the communities to which they exist.

"The question is untimely tied up with settlement of lands," Mr. Stewart pointed out. A forest policy should lie in with the proper direction of land development, the first step in the evolution of such policy must be a proper land classification.

"I am glad to say that arrangements have been completed for the conduct of a national inventory of the forest resources of Canada," Mr. Stewart announced. In carrying them out, the Minister asked for the co-operation of the operators.

JURY ACQUITS DRIVER OF CAR

Verdict of Accidental Death Given at Coroner's Inquest on Late Mr. J. Rothwell

An inquest was held yesterday by Coroner E. C. Hart upon the death of John Rothwell, aged sixty-three which resulted from his being struck by an automobile on January 8 as he was walking on Pandora Avenue, pushing a bicycle. The jury returned a verdict pronouncing the death accidental.

Evidence was given by Captain McBrayne, the driver of the automobile, and by Dr. T. McPherson, Constable D. McPherson, Miss Ethel Bruce and Mr. Robert Harvey. Witnesses stated that Captain McBrayne was driving at a speed not exceeding fifteen miles an hour when the accident occurred, and that every care was given to the victim of the accident.

The evidence of Captain McBrayne was that he was passing through the "Dardanelles" when he noticed a man, who was pushing a bicycle, swerve out from the curb into the road in front of the car. Captain McBrayne had tried to avoid him by turning his car to the left, but had not got clear, the right-hand fender striking the man. Witness had stopped instantly and, with the help of others present at the time, had carried the victim of the accident into the car, and had then driven him to the hospital.

Mr. J. B. Clearihue appeared for Captain McBrayne.

DRY SUPPORTERS TAKE CHALLENGE

Dry Section in Congress Ready to Vote Against Repeal of Eighteenth Amendment

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17. — Supremely confident, Congressional drys today snapped up the challenge of Senator Blaine, Republican, Wisconsin, for repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment, and passed the word they were ready for a vote.

Senator Borah of Idaho, one of the dry champions, said he welcomed the direct issue on the Eighteenth Amendment, and said: "I am ready to vote."

"I think it might be well to have Congress go on record and make it clear that this amendment is there to stay," he asserted.

Senator Blaine's resolution is before the judiciary committee, and Chairman Norris of that committee said he was ready to give it consideration at the next meeting on Monday.

Why has a giraffe such a long neck?

Answer—The long neck of a giraffe is absolutely essential because the head is so far away from the animal's shoulders.

Stubborn Coughs Ended by Recipe, Mixed at Home

Here is the famous old recipe which millions of housewives have found to be the most dependable means of breaking up a stubborn, lingering cough. It takes but a moment to prepare and costs little, but it gives real relief even for those dreaded coughs that follow severe cold epidemics.

From any druggist, get 2½ ounces of Pinex, pour it into a 16 oz. bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup or strained honey. Thus you make 16 ounces of better remedy than you could buy ready-made for three times the cost. It never spoils and tastes so good that even children like it.

Not only does this simple mixture soothe and heal the inflamed throat membranes with surprising ease, but also it is absorbed into the blood, and acts directly upon the bronchial tubes, thus aiding the whole system in throwing off the cough. It loosens the germladen phlegm and eases chest soreness in a way that is really astonishing.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway Pine, containing the active agent of creosote, in a refined, palatable form. Nothing known in medicine is more helpful in cases of distressing coughs, chest colds, and bronchial troubles.

Do not accept a substitute for Pinex. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

GOLD STANDARD MAY AID TRADE

Monetary Changes Announced in China Are Expected to Give Impetus to Commerce in General

By REGINALD SWEETLAND

NANKING, Jan. 17.—Measure to be taken of a nature affecting imports to China by which the Nanking Government hopes to stabilize financial conditions in the country are announced by Finance Minister T. V. Soong, who declares that, owing to depreciation in the value of silver, the Government gold payments have increased 60 per cent.

In view of this and other facts, Minister Soong announces that beginning February 1 customs duties on imports from abroad will be collected on a gold basis, though other customs, dues and charges will continue to be collected as heretofore.

Until now, China's customs have been collected on the basis of the fluctuating Haikwan tael (not an actual coin but a unit of calculation). By the new system the tael will be discontinued, says Minister Soong in his statement, and a new gold unit, worth 60.1866 centigrams pure gold, will be used instead. Asserting that "this unit will therefore be equivalent to forty cents gold, or 19.7265 pence sterling, or 0.8025 yen," he continues:

"In converting specific rates to a gold basis, the approximate aggregate of exchange for the last quarter of 1929 will be used from February 1 to March 15 of 1930. On and after March 16, the approximate rate of exchange for the month of January, 1929, will be used."

CONVERSION OF UNIT

The Haikwan tael, from February 1 to March 15, will be converted to the new unit on the basis of one tael equal to 1.50 of the new unit, whereas beginning March 16 it will be on the basis of 1.75 of the new unit. Dollars, taels and other currencies will be received as payment for duties. Mr. Soong further says:

"The rates at which such currencies will be accepted in payment of duties as expressed in terms of the new unit will be officially announced from time to time."

Three days' notice will be given in event of a change in the rates, but no attempt will be made to follow daily exchange fluctuations, although the rates will closely approximate the market rates between the local and gold standard currencies.

Minister Soong affirms that the new basis of conversion will not be unduly favorable to the Government, saying:

"In view of the fact that such increases in duties as may result after March 16 would in most cases be only 2 or 3 per cent of the value of the imported goods and would be even less on the basis to be in effect between February 1 and March 15, this new order should have no appreciable effect upon trade."

BOARD ENDORSES GORGE VALE BY-LAW

Esquimalt Organization Also Favors Sidney Board of Trade In Regard to Breakwater

At a meeting of the Esquimalt Board of Trade a discussion of the Gorge Vale By-Law for a fixed assessment for fifteen years, resulted in it being unanimously supported by the board. The board also endorsed the Sidney Board of Trade's effort to have the Federal Government build a breakwater at Sidney.

A large amount of other business was discussed, including the report of the Federal commission on radio broadcasting. Gratification was felt at the progress Esquimalt has made in the past year, and the brighter prospects of 1930.

Esquimalt Board of Trade is showing a steady growth in membership, but there is still a large number of residents of Esquimalt who should realize the possibilities of helping their own municipality in its forward progress by becoming members of the board. The board meets on the second Tuesday of every month, and anyone wishing to join will be cordially welcomed.

POLICE ADMINISTRATION

The strictures put forward by Police Commissioner McGavin in relation to matters affecting police administration in this community call for very careful consideration by those in authority. The extent to which he is correct in his criticism of the methods employed should be determined. All residents of this community have equal rights in the face of the law. The law itself is not just a matter of securing convictions; it has a preventive duty as well. There is one thing we can say, without hesitation, that should be divorced for all time from the pursuits of law administration in this community and elsewhere in British Columbia, and that is the employment of "stool pigeons." That is the resort of a form of mentality which regards convictions as the be-all and the end-all of police administration. It is the antithesis of the foundational conception of justice, namely, that every person accused is presumed innocent until proved guilty.

Commissioner McGavin stresses the preventive duty of a police force. He stresses also the need of courtesy where members of the public are being asked to facilitate the course of traffic. His ideas on these subjects are wholly in line with those which should govern conditions in any well-ordered community. The police force is not, and should never come to be regarded as the enemy of the public. It is the authority which the public itself erects as the barrier against evil doing. It should inspire respect without the exercise of severity and command confidence without arrogance or suspicion. It may be that there is some exaggeration in Commissioner McGavin's arraignment, but his strictures are too serious to pass by without notice. The Police Commission owes a duty to the public in investigating the causes of complaint. That body should insist that all sections of the populace are on the same plane where the operations of the law are concerned, and possibly through the medium of an inquiry there will arise a reminder of the preventive quality of the law and of the manner in which even-handed justice should govern all its applications.

GROWING DEATH RATE IN U.S.A.

A calculation of the death rate per thousand in each age group of American adults compares unfavorably with a similar calculation affecting the death rate in England. In the Old Country such calculations have been made for a long time past; it is a new departure in the United States. In England, according to The Realist, the death rate per hundred thousand at every age up to sixty is decreasing fairly steadily from year to year. Above sixty it is rising, though slowly. This favorable condition is assigned to advances made by modern hygiene in grappling with the diseases of infancy and maturity. In the United States, however, since 1921, the death rate of males in every age group above thirty has been rising with very slight fluctuations. The rate does not rise as high in the case of females as with males, but the general trend is towards death. The Realist says: "It is only by a successful struggle with infantile mortality that the United States is preventing a catastrophic rise in the death rate of the country as a whole."

The causes of this rising death rate in the United States are matters of speculation. An American professor (Mr. Forsyth), responsible for making the calculation from the mortality statistics, says increased urbanization is one of these, but The Realist does not believe this would account for the difference between England and the United States to the disparagement of the latter. That publication says: "The special characteristics of American industrialism may perhaps be blamed. It seems at least probable that 'hustle' is playing a considerable part in killing off the workers who are beating the world's records of production."

INADEQUATE PLAYING FIELDS

Since the agitation started in this community for better municipal playing field two undertakings have been put in hand by the municipal authorities. One of these is a new grandstand erected at the Royal Athletic Park. The location of this is wrong, as was pointed out before construction commenced. The expenditure indulged in is too great considering the cramped character of the ground. So cramped, indeed, are the facilities that baseball, Rugby and association football have to be played over the same terrain. If our municipal authorities were possessed of the knowledge which might be expected where municipal playing fields have to be handled they would realize that, to a large extent, separate playing fields are required for separate sports. Most assuredly a Rugby football field should never be used in the Summer months as a baseball diamond whereby the surface is worn bare in the course of play. It is a questionable policy, too, to use the same playing field for both soccer and Rugby games, which are played during the same season each year.

The conditions of the playing field at the Royal Athletic Park during the last Rugby game between Victoria representative players and the University of British Columbia should have proved an eyeopener to the municipal authorities. Not only is the field wholly inadequately drained but its surface is in large measure devoid of turf. A turf playing field, cut close during the non-playing season, renewed wherever the turf is worn away from time to time, and well drained so that no water will lie on the surface during the rainy season, is the proper venue for Rugby. Presumably the desire of the Rugby Football Association to secure a lease of the Royal Athletic Park is due to a desire to make the playing field one on which the game can be played properly. So long as it remains as it is the risk of injury to the players is a serious one. In this particular the municipal authorities, as the owners of the ground and those responsible for its maintenance as a playing field, will have a moral if not a legal responsibility.

The other undertaking commenced by the municipal authorities as a sequel to the agitation for better playing fields has been the laying out of a ground for association football at the Heywood Avenue side of Beacon Hill Park. This field will be available for play next Autumn. These two undertakings constitute all that has been done up to the present. In the meantime the playing fields at both the Royal Athletic Park and at the Willows continue to deteriorate because of lack of proper attention. Nothing whatever has been done to improve the other playing fields in Beacon Hill Park or in Central Park. The fact of the matter is that adequate facilities are unlikely to become available until the sport-loving public take the matter in their own hands. A very great deal has to be done to supplement municipal effort which drags its apathetic way without a clear realization of sporting needs.

SKATING FACILITIES

During a cold spell such as the present one, when skating constitutes the principal outdoor amusement of the public, some measure of co-operation in popularizing that sport should be expected from the authorities, not only of this city but of the neighboring municipalities. Elsewhere there is such co-operation, and very often of a character that adds substantially to the attractiveness of a health-giving and bracing recreation. Whenever Elk Lake is considered available for skating the least that can be expected from this city, as the owner of that property, is to rope off the good ice from any dangerous portions and provide lighting so that skating can be enjoyed in the evenings. The necessity of putting one or more policemen on duty to warn skaters away from dangerous ice is something that should be taken for granted, and is a precaution that should exist wherever there is any large frozen body of water frequented by the public at this time of the year. At Elk Lake the co-operation of the Saanich authorities can logically be expected.

In most communities, where opportunities for outdoor skating arise, the municipal authorities are quick in co-operating with the public, because, for one thing, they realize instinctively their responsibility for safeguarding life. They go beyond this, however, in providing lighting facilities on frozen areas, where possible, in roping off the skating surface and in providing the necessary patrols. Our municipalities have a lesson to learn in what can be done and what should be done. They will, if frost continues, have the opportunity in the case of Elk Lake where the connection exists from which lighting arrangements can be effected. The co-operation suggested would be a popular move and provide a much-needed precedent for the years to come.

THE FUTURE

You will never, never catch it,
Though you run with all your might,
For it lies just round the corner,
And 'tis always out of sight!

You think perhaps to reach it
On the summit of the hill,
But fresh heights tow'r above you
And you are climbing still.

E'en if you go a-sailing
New countries to explore,
You will scarce discern the outline
Of that undiscovered shore.

'Tis the voice which bids you follow—
Heights unattained—supreme;
'Tis the far and unknown country
Where you anchor'd in a dream.

Yet—you "hope" it lies before you—
That one day you will attain
To a land where all is beauty,
And a world grown young again!

—Anne Macdonald, in Chambers' Journal.

Note and Comment

By R. B. D.

"No rogue ere felt the halter draw
With good opinion of the law."

The above may not be the exact version of the well-known couplet, but it will serve. A few mornings ago, for the first time in a fairly long and more or less blameless life, we felt the halter draw, and would have made public confession of the fact (probably with some comments befitting the gravity of the offence) but for apprehension that the lines we have quoted might be thrown in our face as a judgment against us.

Yesterday morning when we opened The Colonist and glanced over its teeming columns of news we discovered that Police Commissioner McGavin (more power to his tongue) had taken the words out of our mouth and said some of the things we had intended to say, and would have said but for dread of being charged with harboring malice against the institution which had thrown the rope around our neck and drawn it, though not to the point of strangulation.

After reading Commissioner McGavin's criticism of the administration of the police department we felt like saying what Fitzjames said to Roderick Dhu before the gallant twain began their mortal combat: "I thank thee, Roderick, for the word. It nerves my arm; it steels my sword." The thought which arose in our mind must have been the thought in the minds of many when they, with conscience void of intention to commit offence, fall within the meshes of the rope of the law.

That thought is: Is the Victoria police force maintained for the purpose behind all properly administered police forces in the British realm—for the purpose of crime prevention or for the purpose of concealing itself behind a blind and pouncing upon inadvertent offenders against by-laws and creating a public impression that a police force is not so much a crime prevention agency as a revenue collecting machine?

The Victoria police force is undoubtedly a most efficient machine for the collection of revenue from Orientals and Occidentals, from the Orientals whose fastnesses are battered down by battleaxes in the hands of the Chief Constable or pried down by crowbars in the hands of ordinary constables, and from Occidentals who may be momentarily confused in mind by the multitude of yellow-bonneted stop signs which are scattered like pepper from a caster at several street intersections.

Our fall and humiliation, not to mention the feeling of desolation occasioned by thought of an impending fine (minimum, five dollars), occurred upon a bright Sunday morning. The old flivver was hitting harmoniously upon every cylinder (maximum, four), but we were not "driving to the public danger" nor thinking of violating any of the laws or by-laws. Our conscience was patting our back approvingly, for we had just conveyed a convalescent patient from St. Joseph's Hospital to her home on a street running out of Douglas.

Returning, we were very careful to observe the spirit of the law by stopping before entering Douglas Street, which is an arterial highway, although there was no stop sign there. If we had continued to run along Douglas Street, our neck would not have felt the halter draw, for on that thoroughfare there are no yellow-bonneted obstructions to traffic.

But fate played a dirty trick upon us, and instead of continuing along Douglas Street we sauntered cautiously into Government Street, where the law, mounted upon a motorcycle, pounced upon us and, with a cynical smile upon its face but with courteous words out of its mouth, told us that we had not stopped at a place where we should have stopped. The law was very sorry, but it must have our name and address. The law has our name and address, which it may keep for future reference, and our five dollars, which it will keep and add to the total of its accumulations, including those collected from Chinatown, and publish for the purpose of demonstrating to citizens that Victoria is blessed with a highly efficient police force and with a chief constable who is always on the spot when there are constabulary duties to be done.

More than once have we written in complimentary terms about the efficiency of the officers and men of the Victoria police force; but on one occasion at least have we criticized the administration of the force, particularly on its policy with reference to the Chinese and the ineradicable but harmless Chinese habit of gambling. One of the admirable characteristics of British administration in all parts of the world is a wise and wide tolerance of the habits and the beliefs of the natives of the countries whose affairs have fallen into the hands of the British for administration. The treatment of the Chinese of this city by the police force cannot be called by any other name than the ugly name of persecution, and we are glad that Commissioner McGavin has had the courage to declare an end must be made of it.

OAK BAY REFERENDUM

Sir,—With reference to the forthcoming referendum on the question of a franchise for the Blue Line in Oak Bay municipality, it would appear from this morning's press report of last night's meeting that some persons are under the impression that the Oak Bay Council is unanimously in favor of such a franchise being granted. The fact is that, if the taxpayers wish the municipality to grant a franchise to the Blue Line, the council is unanimously in favor of the agreement which has been prepared as the best possible in the interests of the municipality.

It should, however, be clearly understood that on the main question of whether a franchise should be granted or not the individual members of the council are free to exercise their own judgment.

HEW PATERSON,
Councillor.

VETERANS IN TRANSPORTATION

Sir,—I beg leave to trespass upon your space to ask, having heard so much of this Veteran Blue Transportation Company, how many veterans there are employed by this company? I doubt if there is one.

The reason I write this is to point out that many people are being misled by the use of this term, "Veteran," and I feel the term could better be applied to the B.C.E.R. employees, one hundred and seventeen of whom from Victoria alone served overseas (two of them being Contemptibles). Many gave their lives. Others returned minus their limbs; and all who returned were reinstated by the company or given work suitable to their disabilities.

I think it only fair that this should be pointed out to the public in order that a mistaken impression with regard to the term "Veteran" may be corrected.

As an Imperial Reservist I had to leave at a moment's notice and leave my wife and family at the mercy of the world; and I shall always feel indebted to the B.C.E.R. for prompt and liberal assistance extended to my wife and family during my absence overseas.

E. D. BUKIN,
Late 460th Battery, 29th Division.
120 Sims Avenue, Victoria, January 17, 1930.

OAK BAY REFERENDUM

Sir,—I see that the electors are requested to decide for the next fifteen years the transportation question for Oak Bay district.

I am convinced that if the electors read the statements of the two companies, as printed in The Colonist, and judging from the past service of the B.C. Electric, they will decide in favor of the old company. One must remember the loss the B.C. Electric has suffered through the owners of motor cars. I have used the Oak Bay route for some seventeen years and so can appreciate the service given. The statements and insinuations in the advertisements of the Blue Line are unfair, in my opinion, in the face of the report of the Oak Bay Council. The apparent readiness to barter for $30,000 something they had no claim to shows that it was a personal question of what they could make and the Oak Bay residents were a secondary consideration. For those people who travel to the city on the Blue Line the one fare is sufficient, but to those—and workmen especially—who wish to go any farther, it will be a serious question of paying again.

It would appear that so far the Blue Line has made a loss by the experiment that other transportation companies apparently saw looming if they took the chance to operate buses on a low fare.

In conclusion, I wonder what the Blue Line's position will be if the B.C. Electric cut into their business in other locations during the Summer months, which it has the right to do. A company like the B.C. Electric could run cheap buses in conjunction with its present system.

The Blue Line has placed a value of $30,000 on the right to run—this is in writing. What do the taxpayers think of this? If there is a value of only $5,000, as offered by the B.C. Electric, this surely belongs to them, and they should consider very carefully before giving any company a chance to profit by a franchise, even the B.C. Electric.

This is an opportunity that will be lost if the vote is in favor of the Blue Line.

Electors, look after your own interests first.

JOHN DAY.

THE GARBAGE QUESTION

Sir,—With reference to Mrs. Lucy Prescott Jackson's letter in The Colonist today, I should like to suggest to her that she should pay particular attention to the coal she purchases.

In Victoria there is one dealer, if not more, who boosts U.S.A. coal.

I have tried scotless coal, Yankee coal, Alberta coal and the Extension coal, or Ladysmith coal as it is called here in Victoria, as an experiment.

I burn as much as anyone, and find there is less ash and waste with the Ladysmith coal than any other. Another thing, you are providing work for British Columbia people, when you burn British Columbia coal.

Empty tins that litter garbage cans can be burned in the furnace, also all the peelings, as they are excellent soot cleaners. A garbage can should hold ten days' supply of ashes. Of course where there are quite a number in the house, as there are in many homes, such as housekeeping rooms and young married people living with their parents to save expenses, well, of course, one garbage can may not be sufficient.

I think that the garbage system in Victoria is a good one. Why not buy two cans? They should be cheaper than $4.00 as stated by an earlier correspondent. My motto is: "Buy B.C. coal, mined in B.C. by B.C. miners, who buy B.C. goods, but do not always get B.C. treatment.

INEQUITY OF TAXATION

Sir,—I often wonder if some person who has made a study of unfair taxation could answer these questions: If I send three children to school and a man in the next street has none and never had any to send, should he help to pay my school taxes. If I fill three garbage tins full of rubbish and ashes, and the other man does not fill half a tin, should he pay for my three tins being removed?

AN AMERICAN'S IMPRESSIONS

Sir,—As an interested visitor I would like to reply to three of the letters appearing in your paper this morning. The first was from one, Mr. Ridgeway-Wilson, and he started off by inquiring why Canada should have a distinctive flag, and wound up by describing a distinctive flag that Canada should have. Well, Mr. Ridgway-Wilson is at least two-sided, so if the "ayes" don't want it, let the "nays" have it.

Then Mr. Maurice R. Corrie suggests that the unemployed be hired by the city to cut down all the broom in Beacon Hill Park. This broom is a wonder and a delight to the city and its inhabitants, when in bloom, and it would be an act of sacrilege to cut it down.

And last, but not least, Annie F. Woodley Dod complains of the "movies" showing the new American Secretary of War being sworn in as "our" New Secretary of War. Well, all I've got to say to that is that if Miss Woodley Dod expresses the feelings of the Canadian people (mind you, they were viewing an American film), I would have said when I saw the picture, "Why don't they say 'American Secretary of War?' or not include these pictures up here."

FIFTY YEARS AGO

Sir,—In reading "Fifty Years Ago Today" I find some wrong names as councillors elected in Victoria. I was elected in Yates Street Ward, and John Kinaman in Johnson Street Ward, instead of Captain Clark.

C. W. R. Thomson was found not to be qualified and his name was not on the list. I am the only one living out of that party unless Mayor Turner is still alive.

REINCARNATION

Sir,—Your correspondent's excerpt from Victor Hugo was interesting—interesting because it was short, and contained seventeen "I's" and many "me's." He (Hugo) was fully conscious of his ego and appreciated his talents with assiduity. So, "My work will begin again tomorrow," "The tomb is not the end." In other words, the beginning shall be the end, the end a commencement of another circle. Like unto "a puppy chasing his own tail." And, "With the Winter on his head," he feels that his spirit is not entirely dependent on his body. For, "I smell the lilac, violet and the rose."

Here, it seems to me, the writer is inconsistent, because he has always the touchstone of his senses, his satisfaction, to test the reality of the spirit. He is not a coward, but self-blind, and maybe a little afraid. No doubt the experiences of such a writer are multifarious, but, judging by the excerpt, not for a moment does he risk himself along the rock-strewn way which Christian mystics would show as leading to the canopy of Heaven.

Spurious emotions are often like the real thing than genuine emotions and they have, for a time, a greater effect, a blissful circular haze.

But all the time, somewhere, we doubt them; and, forever fluctuating, we resort to superficial reading to strengthen doubt.

Finally, mind, thought, sense, color, etc., are His gifts when seen and set aright—steps as it were, to be valued and discarded in the finding.

But it is virtue, and contemplation of virtues, that carries the soul up to the threshold of God, which, in my humble opinion, has nothing to do with reincarnation.

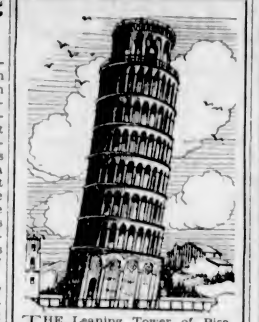
Jots From Geography



THE Leaning Tower of Pisa, Italy, completed in 1350 by Tomaso Pisano, is considered one of the world's wonders. Its six galleries of pillars rise to a height of 179 feet. The tower deviates fourteen feet from the perpendicular. The phenomenon is probably due to an earthquake that occurred after the completion of the tower.

This Week's Great Day

CAPT. SCOTT AT THE SOUTH POLE

On January 18, 1912, Capt. Robert Falcon Scott, after making one of the most arduous journeys in the annals of Antarctic exploration, arrived at the South Pole with four comrades—Dr. Wilson, Capt. Oates, Lieut. Bowers and Petty Officer Evans.

All the joy of their great achievement in attaining the long-sought-for goal was crushed by the heart-breaking discovery that they had been beaten in their race to the pole by Roald Amundsen, the Norwegian explorer, by the narrow margin of thirty-three days, for he had reached the pole on December 16, 1911, and had left behind him the flag of his country floating above a small tent in which he had deposited the record of his visit.

After a brief rest on the spot they had labored so long and strenuously to reach, the five bitterly disappointed men turned their faces northward and commenced the perilous and wearisome march of 800 miles back to their base. Petty Officer Evans fell sick and, growing weaker every day, died on February 27.

Their progress northward, which had been hindered by a series of violent storms, was further delayed by the terrible sufferings of Capt. Oates, whose feet had been so severely frozen that mortification set in. On the night of March 16 the gallant captain, who had vainly begged his companions to leave him behind so that they might make a dash for safety, determined that he would retard them no longer. He staggered out of the tent into a blinding blizzard to meet a hero's death, and was never seen again.

The three survivors tramped northward for three more days, and on the evening of March 19 they pitched their tent for the last time. In the night a blizzard sprang up, which continued for at least eight days and rendered it utterly impossible for the men to venture outside the tent, much less to make any attempt to reach a depot, only eleven miles away, where they had deposited supplies on their outward march. On the first day of their enforced imprisonment they used up the last of their stock of food and fuel, and there are few events in history that can be compared with the grandeur and the pathos in the closing scene in the lives of those three valiant men who calmly awaited the slow but certain approach of death by starvation and exposure.

Dr. Wilson and Lieut. Bowers passed away first, and with his comrades lying stiff and still in their sleeping bags on either side of him Capt. Scott wrote farewell letters to his wife and friends and made entries in his journal until the pencil dropped from his dying grasp.

Eight months later a search party from Scott's ship discovered the frozen remains of the three heroes, which were reverently laid to rest on the spot where they had died, and brought back with them Scott's letters and journals, together with Dr. Wilson's sketches and undeveloped photographs, which revealed to the world another glorious story of British courage and endurance, one which sent a mingled thrill of pride and sorrow throughout the Empire.

WINDOWS

Through another's eyes I see
Life that was not meant for me,
So thus joyously I go
Ways which else I could not know.
I, who dwell always at home,
Glimpse the majesty of Rome;
I, who never sailed the seas,
Drift beyond the Hebrides
Through another's eyes I see
Strange designs of tragedy,
Like a scene upon the stage
Watch mad passions strut and rage.
Through another's eyes I learn
How men's joys and sorrows burn;
Dear eyes, that unfold to me
All the world I could not see!

JAPANESE TO ASK KEEPING BATTLESHIPS

Do Not Consider Mr. MacDonald's Proposition for Abolition as Practical at Present

MIGHT AGREE AT SOME LATER DATE

TOKIO, Jan. 17 (Canadian Press Cable).—An official spokesman for the Japanese Foreign Office today said that while Japanese opinion in general hardly was ready to accept Prime Minister MacDonald's idea of eventual abolition of battleships, it was arousing sympathetic response in a wide influential circle. He said that Japan was agreeable to an extension of the holiday on construction of capital ships to 1936, and "if within that period American and British opinion approved the abolition of the ships the Japanese people probably would be ready to follow their lead."

The spokesman pointed out that Japan's fleet of battleships had cost a larger proportion of her national income than was the case of any of the other powers, hence the strong conservative feeling against the scrapping of the ships for which the nation had sweated to pay.

ACCEPTANCE NOT PROBABLE

By WARD PHELPS

TOKIO, Japan, Jan. 17.—Tokio receives Premier Ramsay MacDonald's suggestions for abolition of capital ships and limitation of submarines as a sincere effort to further the coming Naval Conference, but it sees certain practical aspects which make it seem unlikely that the British Prime Minister's proposals will be accepted.

Authorities here still refrain from official comment, but certain positions are known. While agreeing that the development of air forces is continually lessening the effectiveness of warships, the Japanese point out that all modern navies are built around capital ships, and that hence their abolition at once is rather difficult.

As for submarines, Tokio is willing to consider their limitation, but puts the minimum figures in this case at 78,000 tons, which is considered a necessary defensive quota. Mr. MacDonald's reference to cruisers has evoked little reaction because his words are considered rather vague.

ISLAND PRODUCES HALF OF COAL

B.C. Output for December Was 189,657 Tons, to Which Island Collieries Contributed 95,195

The province of British Columbia produced during the month of December of last year 189,651 tons of coal, of which amount Vancouver Island provided slightly over 50 per cent. The output from the collieries of the Island was 95,195 tons.

In connection with the Vancouver Island production the Western Fuel Corporation, with its mines in and about Nanaimo, had an output of 46,968 tons. This was distributed among the various mines as follows: No. 1 Mine, 29,572 tons; Reserve Mine, 12,373 tons, and Wakesiah Mine, 5,023 tons.

At the collieries of the Canadian Collieries, the Comox Colliery produced 18,865 tons, and the Wellington Collieries, 11,968 tons, or a total for the Comox mines of 30,833.

The other collieries on the Island had a production of 17,394 tons, divided among the various mines as follows: Granby Consolidated, 15,478 tons; Fiddick Mine, 194 tons; Little Ash Mine, 510 tons; Lantzville Colliery, 1,000 tons; Biggs Mine, 68 tons, and Richardson Mine, 144 tons.

In the Nicola-Princeton district there was produced during the month 20,435 tons. In Northern British Columbia the Telkwa Collieries produced 268 tons. In East Kootenay the output from the collieries was 73,753 tons.

The coke production for the month of December was 2,027 tons at Coal Creek Colliery, and 3,366 tons at Michel.

Well Poised

(Health Service of the Canadian Medical Association)

We all admire the graceful, well-poised woman and the man of good carriage. There is in the appearance of these individuals a look of efficiency, energy and of physical and mental alertness which we admire. The drooping round shoulders and relaxed abdomen of persons who are careless of their posture do not give the impression of the existence of those qualities of life which we know make for success and happiness. We should not judge by outside appearances, because it is quite true that appearances, on occasion are deceiving. This is not so often the case with the human body because, outwardly, it is the reflection of what we might call the true or inner man.

Right posture, good carriage, proper poise are all desirable. Their absence constitutes a serious loss to the individual. This is not merely a matter of an attractive personal appearance, but is considered rather on the physical basis that when for example, the person is flat chested, the organs of the chest—the lungs and the heart—are constricted, and the abdominal organs are forced downwards and out of place. When the internal organs of the body are forced out of their natural position, they cannot do their work properly, and so we see that poor posture may be indirectly the cause of some internal organs being displaced.

In good posture, the individual stands at his full height, head up, chin in, chest high, the lower abdomen flat and the spine straight. In sitting, the forward bend should be free from the hips, the head and body should be in a straight line, with the feet resting evenly on the floor. In lying, the body is stretched out, not bent, constant lying on one side is avoided, a low pillow, or no pillow at all, is used.

To secure and maintain good posture, the body must be given attention. The muscles of the back and the abdominal muscles are not sufficiently used by such people as office workers, with the result that they give way and the lower abdomen becomes prominent. Exercise, in any form of games or otherwise, which brings into play the muscles which are little used in our work life, is needed. Specially devised exercises to deal with particular posture defects generally give good results. Good posture is a product of good health, which comes from proper care of the bdy.

Questions concerning health, addressed to the Canadian Medical Association, 184 College Street, Toronto, will be answered personally by letter.

Battleship Abolition Has Support of Some British Papers Which Want Action

LONDON, Jan. 17.—The ultimate abolition of the battleship indicated by Prime Minister MacDonald yesterday as the high point of the British policy at the Five-Power Naval Conference, is the subject of widespread comment in Great Britain.

It was noted in many quarters that Mr. MacDonald only proposed the abolition of this type of warship, if international agreement on it could be obtained, but the suggestion reveals a loss of confidence in the battleship as the backbone of Great Britain's naval defence. This is likewise borne out by the British alternative proposition that, failing an agreement on the abolition of the battleship, the ones to be built should be of a smaller size and gun calibre.

CONDEMNS HUGE SHIPS

Many commentators today, including The Manchester Guardian, note that the Prime Minister's remarks provided "the first official condemnation of the highest authority of the ship that has dominated naval thinking for several generations."

These are the words of The Guardian, which adds that "the battleship therefore is to be tackled seriously and that is all to the good."

The London Evening Star is more emphatic in approval. "If the doom of the battleship, as we know it today, can be pronounced by the naval conference it will be a good business. Unless the life is to be crushed out of us by these juggernauts, something will have to be done about them."

REPORTS UNTRUE

Official Japanese quarters said today that reports emanating from Tokio to the effect that the delegates in London were dissatisfied with the progress of conversations between the British and the Japanese were "exaggerated and untrue."

They denied that any fresh instructions had been sent to the London delegation or that the Japanese general plan had been modified. They also denied that Prime Minister MacDonald had rejected any of the Japanese proposals.

Trustees Present Saanich By-Laws In Gorge District

SAANICH trustees who have spoken at a number of meetings in a campaign of education of the voters on the two money by-laws had the best meeting of the series last evening at Tillicum School. They were asked a number of questions which were answered to the apparent satisfaction of questioners, and promises were made of support at the poll today.

Skating Gains As Ice Waxes Stronger Daily

Skating is now general everywhere, with only a few places subjected to running water and to similar causes remaining dangerous to the pastime. As the ice has increased, the shallow places have been deserted for the lakes and larger sheets of water, and there is now abundance of opportunity for the exhilarating exercise.

Langford Lakeside reports that the ice is fit for skating on Langford Lake, with a hockey rink available. Some parts of the lake are still unsafe, but information about danger areas will be readily supplied at the tea rooms.

Milne's Pond, at Sooke Harbor, has been widely patronized, and hockey played by day and by moonlight each night this week.

ARE GRANTS FOR BUILDINGS TO GO?

School Boards May Not Receive Proportionate Allowances for New Structures, Hitherto Allowed

Hon. J. Hinchliffe, Minister of Education, is not inclined to make promises with regard to special grants to various school boards in the country to assist in the construction of new buildings.

This is borne out by the statement of the Minister, when his attention was called to the fact that in connection with the election campaign in Duncan the trustees had issued a statement that the Minister had promised a contribution toward the construction of a new high school there, and suggesting if action were delayed the grant might not be forthcoming.

Mr. Hinchliffe said that if such a statement were made it was incorrect. He went on to say that the matter had been discussed with the trustees in Duncan, but he had refused to specify any sum as being available.

The Minister went on to explain that until the estimates for the province for the year had been approved by the Legislature, it was impossible for him to say what distribution would be possible in the matter of aiding schools. He had heard the case presented by Duncan, and he was anxious to do the best he could for that district, but it would be idle for him to promise any definite sum at this time.

MRS. M. P. HORTON CALLED TO REST

There passed away in this city yesterday afternoon, Mrs. Margaret Mills Patison Horton, aged eighty-nine years and six months, a native of Glasgow, Scotland, and a resident of Victoria for the past sixty-seven years. She leaves to mourn her loss three daughters, Mrs. L. H. Hardie, Mrs. G. A. Heimore and Mrs. J. H. Brookes; three grandchildren and one great-grandchild. The funeral will take place Monday at 1:45 o'clock from the Thomson Funeral Home, proceeding to St. Mary's Church. Oak Bay, where service will be held at 2 o'clock, Rev. Canon Nunns officiating. Interment will be in the family plot in Ross Bay Cemetery.

Britain Trying To Give Relief To Its Farmers

LONDON, Jan. 17.—An official attempt to discover remedies for the depression in British agriculture was inaugurated today when an agricultural conference opened at No. 10 Downing Street, residence of the Prime Minister. Representatives were present from the National Farmer Union, the Union of Agricultural Workers, the Transport and General Workers' Union, the Central Landowners' Association and the Land Union. The proceedings are being conducted in private.

ALASKA ROAD IS TO BE STUDIED

U.S. Congress Road Committee Approves Commission to Investigate Proposed New Highway

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17. — The House roads committee yesterday approved the Sutherland bill to provide for investigation by a joint commission, chosen from the United States and Canada, of construction of a highway to connect the United States with Alaska.

The road would run through British Columbia and the Yukon.

Representatives of the War Department, the Alaska and Pacific Coast Chambers of Commerce appeared in support of the measure, which would provide $25,000 for the expenses of the investigation.

Delegate Sutherland, of Alaska, said the highway, if built along the interior route, would be 1,400 miles long, but would need run only 1,000 miles if constructed along the coast route.

Captain Howard M. Yost, of the Army Engineers, read letters from the Alaska Highway Commission and the Secretary of War in favor of the measure. Adam E. Goodner, of Los Angeles, who said he spoke for all the Coast chambers of commerce, endorsed the project.

Coroner to Hold Inquest on Death Of W. Whitehouse

The death of William Whitehouse, who was killed on the Dallas Road waterfront, near Douglas Street, on Thursday, by a shot from his own .22 rifle, will be the subject of a coroner's inquest this morning in the B.C. Funeral Chapel.

Mr. Whitehouse, it was reported to the police, had been shooting birds off the waterfront, and, after taking apart the rifle, was dropping the two sections into a sack resting on a rock, when, it is thought, the pin at the end of the barrel struck the rock and exploded a cartridge which had been left in the breech. The bullet penetrated his head from front to back and death followed within a few minutes.

He had been married only a month ago.

To the Electors of Esquimalt

Gorge Vale Golf Club Limited By-Law

Your Vote and Support for this By-Law, fixing the assessed value of the Club's Property with improvements at the sum of $60,500.00 for a period of 15 years, is solicited on the following grounds:

1. The property is assessed at a considerably enhanced figure over previous assessments and produces a much larger amount in taxes, more than double.

2. The Golf Course will enhance the value of the surrounding property and make it marketable by the present owners at a profit.

3. The subdivision by the owners of the immediate surrounding property will increase the assessed value and the increased rates they pay will relieve the other ratepayers.

4. The Golf Course will give regular employment to fifteen to twenty-five people and casual employment to fifty or over as caddies.

5. The Golf Course will bring thousands of visitors in close touch with Esquimalt who would otherwise never see or appreciate its beauties.

6. The Golf Course will bring new residents and ratepayers into Esquimalt which will help the present ratepayers.

7. The Golf Club will help you in several ways, and the By-Law cannot hurt you in any way.

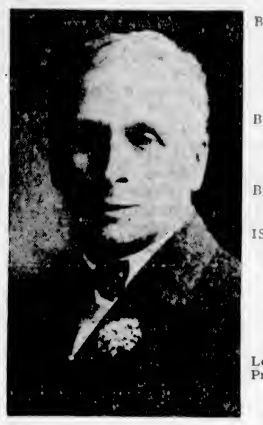
Your Vote and Influence

ARE RESPECTFULLY ASKED FOR

Reeve William Crouch

FOR ANOTHER TERM AS REEVE



WHY?

BECAUSE the Municipality under his Reeveship was never in a better position, or things looked so promising. Her financial position is second to none in the Province.

BECAUSE he can and has given the whole of his time and attention to the Municipality and the duties of Reeve.

BECAUSE the only thing his opponents can say is "It is time for a change."

IS IT because they want to "Increase the tax on Improvements"?
"To again stir up discord regarding Secession"?
Or because I have not been able to see eye to eye with them on School matters?

Leave the Reeveship in the Present Reeve's Hands and Again Elect

EXPECTANT

The vicar paid a visit to the parish school, and after addressing the boys upon various subjects, he asked them by way of encouragement to put any question to him, and promised that if he could not supply a satisfactory answer he would give the boy who asked it sixpence. A smart youth promptly jumped to his feet, and said: "Why am I like a dead horse, sir?"

The vicar promptly confessed his inability to give an answer, and asked the boy why he was like a dead horse.

"Because," the boy answered, "I am waiting for the tanner!"

Two Men Will Be Deported by U.S. For Law Breach

SEATTLE, Jan. 17. — Pleading guilty to charges of illegal entry from Canada, George Dickson, a Scot, and William Duerden, an Englishman, were ordered deported today by Federal Judge Jeremiah Neterer, after each had been given a suspended sentence of six months in the county jail.

On direction from the court, they were surrendered by the United States marshal's office to representatives of the immigration service.

SAANICH IS PREPARED FOR POLLING DAY

Arguments Are Closed at Lake Hill Meeting, When Candidates Appeal for Support

MR. HOARE SPEAKS ON LIGHTING

MR. DENNIS HOARE
Candidate in Ward 2

Mr. Dennis Hoare, who is candidate for the position of councillor for Ward Two, addressed the final meeting in Saanich election last evening at Lake Hill. He said he was not only concerned with the requirements of the ward which he hoped to represent, but also with those of Saanich as a whole.

He wished to correct an impression which had been given by an error of type in the local press. He was quoted as "having no idea of improving the lighting situation," whereas the press reports should have read that he suggested that keeping the lights burning after 1 o'clock in the morning was unnecessary. If, after burning for a certain number of hours all the lights were turned out simultaneously, the municipality could use twice the number of lights for the same amount of money.

Mr. Hoare dealt with the question of the oiling of the roads, at which point Reeve Crouch interjected that the roads in Ward Seven had all been oiled and would not have to be reoiled until next year.

Questions were asked Mr. Hoare relative to his attitude regarding the buying of lots by Hindus and Chinese. The Reeve interposed at this point to explain that the matter was outside the province, not only of the municipality but of the Provincial Government, and could only be handled by Dominion legislation.

CANDIDATES FOR REEVE

Reeve Crouch read his annual report to the meeting, which dealt with a number of subjects, ranging from roads, school matters and parks to finance, sewers and secession.

Asked whether he was in favor of increasing taxes on improvements, the Reeve stated that he was most emphatically opposed to an increase on the 15 per cent tax which was in force at the present time.

Mr. F. V. Hobbs outlined his platform as "fair play, equal rights to all and special privileges to none."

In answer to a question, he stated that he would not only encourage British industries, but would work for the benefit of local industries.

Reeve Crouch stated that, like Mr. Hobbs, he was seeking re-election on the basis of his past record. His opponent had said that he was leaving a dissatisfied municipality; he wondered whether Mr. Hobbs was leaving a satisfied school board.

MR. KING SPEAKS

Mr. Charles E. King reiterated many of the statements which he had made at previous meetings during the past week.

"I think," he said, "that my record in the past will prove that I have attended to the police affairs of Saanich. It has been suggested that I have not sufficient time to devote to the office of police commissioner. All I can say is, that I have no business which is sufficiently important to keep me away from any municipal duty once that duty has been undertaken.

"I have nothing but my record to place before you, but, if you should be satisfied with this, I hope that you will elect me."

The reeve stressed the fact that Mr. F. Cawsey, candidate for police commissioner, had been asked to retire from the police force of Saanich "for the benefit of the municipality," and that he had now decided to run as police commissioner "with a chip on his shoulder."

Mr. Cawsey, on the other hand, maintained that he had the time, experience and inclination for the post.

KIWANIAN CHIEF SUFFERS ILLNESS

POCATELLO, Idaho, Jan. 17.—The condition of Mr. Horace W. McDavid, of Decatur, Illinois, president of Kiwanis International, today was reported by his physician as "satisfactory." He was taken to a hospital here yesterday suffering from a hemorrhage. It is expected he will be confined to the hospital for a week or ten days.

City & District

Routine Business—Following a meeting of the Executive Council yesterday afternoon it was announced by the members of the Government present that only routine matters, and those relating to the coming session had been under consideration.

Expected on Tuesday—Mr. Grant Hall, vice-president, and Mr. D. C. Coleman, vice-president in charge of Western lines, Canadian Pacific Railway, who are on a Western tour prior to the preparation of the annual estimates, will reach Vancouver Tuesday morning, and probably will come on here the same day.

Kresge Building—Tenders are to be called shortly for the construction of the business block to be built at the northwest corner of Douglas and Fort Streets for S. S. Kresge & Co., chain store operators. The present buildings on the site will be removed next month, to be replaced by a two-story pressed brick structure, with full basement.

Fire Limits—At Monday night's meeting of the City Council, the fire wardens, under the chairmanship of Alderman R. A. C. Dewar, will submit a recommendation that fire limits No. 1 be extended to include 100 feet south of Belleville Street, from Blanshard Street to Government Street, and along Government Street to Superior Street.

House Burned—Esquimalt firemen prevented a fire at 904 Craigflower Road, home of Mr. I. M. Sangster, from spreading to neighboring houses early yesterday. The fire was too far advanced at No. 904 to effect its check, and the building, a one-and-a-half-story structure, was destroyed. The loss, estimated at about $2,000, was partially covered by insurance.

Election Results—Radio Station CFCT will at 11 o'clock tonight announce final returns furnished by The Colonist of municipal elections being held in Saanich, Esquimalt and Oak Bay. In addition to the contests for various municipal offices in each of the districts, the outcome of the three by-laws and one referendum, which are being voted upon, will be made known.

Fire Car Strikes Truck—Answering a fire call yesterday morning, Deputy Chief A. Munro's car came into collision with a Palm Dairy delivery truck, near the intersection of Yates and Vancouver Streets. Both cars were damaged, but the occupants escaped injury. The truck was thrown on its side and the deputy chief's car was forced on the boulevard.

Explision of Kitchen Stove—To the number of explosions of kitchen stoves during the cold wave was added that at 2640 Rosebery Avenue, where Mrs. Southern and her baby were thrown down when the explosion took place yesterday morning. Both were fortunate in escaping with bruises. The water had been turned off overnight, but that remaining in the circulating pipes had frozen, occasioning the accident.

Apartment Block—A fifteen-room apartment house, containing three suites, will be erected on the northeast corner of Fernwood Road and Vining Street, by Parfitt Brothers, who are the owners and builders of the project. A permit for $8,000, covering the cost of construction, was taken out yesterday at the City Hall. Excavations for the work are already in progress, and construction work will be commenced shortly.

THROUGH RATES ARE NECESSITY

HEAD OF PANAMA-PACIFIC GRAIN TERMINALS, LIMITED, IN CITY

Says Canadian Pacific Terminal Rate to Port Needed to Fill Elevator

Victoria's 1,000,000-bushel grain elevator at Ogden Point docks would have been filled with wheat long ago, and the plant would be doing a heavy export business if the city had through grain rates on the Canadian Pacific Railway, according to Mr. J. A. Maharg, head of the Panama-Pacific Grain Terminals, Limited, who was here yesterday.

Mr. Maharg summed up the situation by saying that the Canadian National Railways, which have through rates to the port, serve only the northern part of Alberta, which had only a light grain crop last year.

"We have been working for six months to get the Canadian Pacific Railway to give a through terminal rate to Victoria and are at present awaiting a favorable decision," said Mr. Maharg.

During 1929 Ss. Kofuku Maru called here for 74,426 bushels of grain on February 10; Ss. Yomei Maru for 1,000 bushels on March 2, and Ss. Egypt Maru for 1,000 tons on July 1.

ing over the dying Nelson is a jagged scar made by a piece of shrapnel fired through the House of Lords window during the Great War. The hole in the window is still preserved.

INSTRUCTIVE PAINTINGS

Paintings will play a significant, though silent, role in the House of Lords on Tuesday. One on the left wall is a gigantic painting the size of a baseball diamond, showing Bluecher greeting Wellington after Waterloo—the French delegates will be seated with their backs to this picture. It is no use making them feel uncomfortable from the start.

In adjoining room is the Gallery of the Wives of Henry VIII, where guides when taking gaping tourists through, say on passing Henry's loves: "Divorced," "Beheaded," "Divorced," "Beheaded," "Survived."

St. James' Palace, where the three or four months of actual arguments will take place, is an inconspicuous soot-stained, rambling, brick structure, almost lost amid the palatial clubs that line the Pall Mall. Two or three storys high, its white battlements show like old bones through the ever-present London mists.

It is built on the site of the ancient hospital for the "fourteen maidens that were leprous," and was once the home of Henry VIII. Until quite recently it was the residence of the Prince of Wales. It has been the scene of at least one previous conference, that for the ill-fated treaty between the Balkans and Turkey.

It is the original "Our Court of St. James," to which foreign Ambassadors and Ministers are still officially accredited. From its balcony on Friary Court on the death of the Sovereign will still come the call, "The King Is Dead! Long Live the King!"

VANCOUVER ISLAND IN SECOND PLACE

During 1929, British Columbia canneries packed 1,423,020 cases of salmon, according to a copy of the official summary supplied The Colonist by J. H. Todd & Sons, Limited. Figures for 1928 show 2,035,629 cases, 612,609 cases ahead of last season.

Fish packed included sockeyes, fancy red springs, standard springs, white springs, blue backs, steelheads, cohoes, pinks and chums. Canneries were divided into districts, which were Fraser River, Skeena River, Rivers Inlet, Smiths Inlet, Naas River, Queen Charlotte Islands, Vancouver Island, and outlying districts.

On Vancouver Island the B.C. Packers, Limited, packed 3,701 cases of sockeyes, 332 cases of standard springs, 474 cases of white springs, 285 cases of blue backs, 15,454 cases of cohoes, 30,246 cases of pinks, and 87,169 cases of chums.

J. H. Todd & Sons, Limited, put up 3,480 cases of sockeyes, 9,628 cases of cohoes, 13,347 cases of pinks and 842 cases of chums.

The Canadian Fishing Company, Limited, put up 1,689 cases of sockeyes, 274 cases of standard springs, 156 cases of white springs, 100 cases of blue backs, two cases of steelheads, 3,397 cases of cohoes, 16,034 cases of pinks and 18,060 cases of chums.

The Nootka Packing Company, Ltd., put up 7,153 cases of cohoes, forty-three cases of pinks and 43,991 cases of chums.

Clayoquot Sound Packing Co., Ltd., put up 2,324 cases of sockeyes, 1,334 cases of cohoes and 12,313 cases of chums.

Quathiaski Canning Co., Ltd., put up 2,400 cases of sockeyes, twenty-seven cases of standard springs, thirteen cases of white springs, 2,989 cases of bluebacks, 834 cases of steelheads, 9,586 cases of pinks and 1,522 cases of chums.

Deep Bay Packing Co., Ltd., put up 226 cases of sockeyes, forty cases of fancy red springs, 236 cases of standard springs, sixty-nine cases of white springs, 6,908 cases of blue-backs, 1,069 cases of cohoes, 4,765 cases of pinks and 9,436 cases of chums.

Francis Millerd put up twenty-four cases of standard springs, 683 cases of cohoes and 9,709 cases of chums.

Taking the districts in order, Fraser River canneries packed 426,483 cases of all kinds of salmon; Skeena River, 220,245 cases; Rivers Inlet, 70,653 cases; Smiths Inlet, 13,213 cases; Naas River, 29,185 cases; Queen Charlotte Islands, 16,924 cases; Vancouver Island, 321,368 cases; outlying districts, 324,949.

Aside from the outlying districts, Vancouver Island ranked second in number of cases of salmon packed, being beaten by the Fraser River by 105,115 cases.

In 1928, Vancouver Island packed 393,239 cases of salmon, 71,871 cases ahead of last season. Last year the Island accounted for 22 per cent of the salmon packed in British Columbia.

Scores Rendered Homeless in Big Apartment Blaze

RAYMOND, Wash., Jan. 17.—In a spectacular fire which left between thirty and forty persons homeless by destroying two hotels and some apartment rooms, and which also did damage to other business houses and structures for a total of $50,000, firemen with difficulty saved the balance of what is considered the longest all-frame block in the State of Washington. It is located in the centre of the business district of Raymond and consists of 420 feet of continuous two and three-story frame buildings.

The fire was discovered at 8:30 o'clock last night in a flue running through the bathroom of the Raymond Rooms, owned by Mr. Andrew Willis.

South Africa to Raise Duty on Wheat Imports

CAPETOWN, S.A., Jan. 17.—Increased import duties on wheat were forecast in the opening of the South African House of Assembly today. Mr. N. G. Havenga, Minister of Finance, gave notice of a motion to legalize the Board of Industry's recommendations for increases amounting to 14 cents per 100 pounds.

Under the board's recommendation the duties on wheat would be increased from 34-38 cents to 48-52 cents per 100 pounds, and the duties on flour from 80-88 cents to 96-104 cents per 100 pounds. The increases would be made effective from today.

Alberni Guides

Mrs. George Robinson was re-elected to the presidency of the Girl Guides' Association at the annual meeting held at Best's Hall, Alberni, on Monday afternoon. Other officers elected were: Vice-president, Mrs. J. L. Dunn; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. S. W. Walters; executive committee, Lieutenant Mrs. H. N. Wood, Captain Mrs. S. G. Cozens, Mrs. Stewart Carter, Mrs. P. Olson, Mrs. A. A. Lynn, Mrs. D. Ferrier, Mrs. W. G. Bigmore, Mrs. H. Williamson, Mrs. A. N. Marriott, Mrs. L. Pineo, and Mrs. George Forrest. Mrs. Walter, in her review of the work accomplished during 1929, reported receipts as $72; expenditures, $64.50; balance forward) $22. Lieutenant Mrs. H. N. Wood, official Brown Owl, submitted the report for the Brownies, stating that receipts had been $37.35; disbursements, $23; and balance, $13.75. A year of activity and successful undertakings had been achieved by the twenty-six Brownies enrolled. In combination with the Guides, two social affairs had been staged, a very successful concert, a social evening as hosts to the Boy Scouts, a float in the July celebration parade, which had secured second prize, a special tea arranged in honor of Mrs. A. Wood-Lee and Mrs. McMinn, who had trained the members for their concert, and the church parades to the Anglican and United Church, respectively. Many promotions had been earned, thirteen meetings held, and an average attendance of fifteen members were present. Captain Mrs. S. G. Cozens, in presenting her account of finances for the Guides, reported the sum of $45 received from activities, etc., $33 expenditures and $12.30 balance in hand. Success had attended all efforts of the members throughout her supervision, none of them experienced their first attempt at camping. Mrs. H. M. T. Hodgson conducted the election of officers and made an interesting address on procedure and attainments of the association. Weekly meetings of the Brownies are now being resumed at Best's Hall each Thursday afternoon.

Dr. O. M. Jones Chapter

Mrs. W. Ellis was elected regent of the Dr. O. M. Jones Chapter, I.O.D.E., by acclamation at a meeting on Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. J. Hudson, Moss Street. The election of officers will take place on February 15 at the annual meeting, and on this occasion the students of the Normal School will be guests of the chapter at tea, which will follow the meeting. Mrs. Gillespie, Mrs. E. Ellis and Mrs. W. Duncan were nominated as councilors for Provincial Chapter. The milk fund secretary, Miss Parsell, reported that 190 half-pint bottles of milk were being supplied to the schools daily. A donation of $10 towards the milk fund was received from Miss Lawson, of the Kingston Street School, being part of the proceeds of a concert given by the pupils. Saturday, September 27, has been set as the chapter's annual tag day.

Canadian Daughters' League

The regular meeting of Assembly 30, Canadian Daughters' League, was held in Sons of Canada Hall with a good attendance. Several applications for membership were received and many cards of greeting were sent in from various assemblies. "Far West" was the name chosen for the Assembly, this being considered the most distinctive of the several submitted. Reports of various committees promised a very busy season for this Assembly. Vacancies in office were filled as follows: Mrs. Edwards, chaplain; Miss Hocking, sergeant-at-arms; Miss Haines, assistant sergeant-at-arms, and Mrs. Moore, outer guard. The membership and their friends will be entertained at the home of Mrs. Barr on Thursday evening.

Women's Institutes of Vancouver Island

COBBLE HILL

The annual meeting of the Cobble Hill Women's Institute was held in the hall Thursday afternoon, Mrs. C. Wace, president, in the chair, and twelve members present. The reports for the last year were satisfactory, the Institute having fully maintained its activities, ending up the year with a balance in hand of $102.55, the gross income for that period being $546.38. The meeting stressed the desirability of installing an efficient heating apparatus for the hall. After having outlined their plans for the coming year, the delegate to the Cowichan Health Centre, Mrs. H. Kayll, was appointed, and Mrs. B. McMillan will represent the Institute on the board of hall trustees. Tea was provided by the directors, and Mrs. W. C. Campbell was appointed tea convener for this year. Election of officers resulted as follows: Directors, Mrs. C. Wace, Mrs. T. P. Barry, Mrs. George Frayne, Mrs. W. Campbell, Mrs. W. Alsdorf. Mrs. B. McMillan was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

COLWOOD

The regular monthly meeting of Colwood Women's Institute was held in the institute room on Wednesday afternoon with a good attendance of members and a number of visitors were present. Letters were read by the secretary from Mrs. Dunsmuir and Miss Kelly, the president, who hopes to return from the East in February. Mrs. T. Godfrey reported on inquiries made regarding a boys' challenge basketball cup which will be donated by the Institute for the newly-formed league, and rules to be complied with by all competing schools. A length discussion took place on the resolution the Kelowna Women's Institute on the Mothers' Pension Act, which it was decided to table for one month. At the conclusion of the business meeting Rev. G. C. F. Pringle, minister of the Centennial Church, Victoria, formerly of the Sky Pilot, a mission boat, was introduced to the gathering by Mrs. J. Hopwood. The speaker recalled incidents which occurred during the Great War when he was chaplain to the Canadian Cameron Highlanders, and afterwards gave a reading from his book entitled, "Adventures in Service," recently published, which gave an insight into the work carried on by the United Church Marine Mission. Lasqueti Island, forty miles from Vancouver at the head of the Strait of Georgia, was visited by Rev. Mr. Pringle eight years ago, he being the first minister to visit the island, and found 130 inhabitants. Service was held in the little schoolhouse and the hearty welcome extended to the preacher was given in pleasing detail. At the close of the much-enjoyed address, a hearty vote of thanks was given Mr. Pringle by the members, and tea was served by Mrs. J. Hopwood and Mrs. G. M. Piercy.

NOBODY TO BLAME FOR IT

Farmer Giles found himself in a serious predicament. The march of modern progress had brought the railway perilously near his fields, and his chickens were constantly straying on the lines and being killed.

At last he thought of a plan. He paid a visit to a railway station, and shortly returned with a large white card. This he nailed to the chickenhouse.

"What's yon for, master?" asked a farmhand, pointing to the card.

"Whoi, Garge,"—and Giles tapped his hand with his stick impressively—"that's our local timetable, and if the little ijuts get run over now it'll be their own fault!"

Churches Report Growth At Annual Gatherings of Congregations and Vestries

A number of Anglican vestry meetings and congregational gatherings in churches of other denominations have been held this week. Among them are the following:

ST. PAUL'S PRESBYTERIAN

The annual congregational meeting of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church was held in the auditorium of the church on Thursday evening, the minister, Rev. J. S. Patterson, presiding. Mr. George McCandless acted as secretary for the meeting. Reports were submitted by the following organizations: Session, treasurer, Sabbath school, mission band, two C.G.I.T. groups, Women's Missionary Society, Ladies' Aid, Young Women's Auxiliary, Christian Endeavor Society.

All these reports were highly satisfactory and encouraging with all obligations met. Outside of the local work the different organizations have given away almost $900 for missionary and benevolent purposes. St. Paul's is not only self supporting but its great aim and ambition is to become increasingly a missionary church.

ST. BARNABAS

The annual vestry meeting of St. Barnabas Church, held in the church hall on Thursday evening, was well attended. Satisfactory reports were received concerning the church finances and of the various church organizations. The vestry especially expressed its appreciation of the retiring wardens: Mr. R. H. L. MacDowell and Mr. P. E. Corby, and its gratitude to the Guild of St. Barnabas. Votes of thanks were passed to the church societies, and to all who had worked for the church.

The rector, Rev. N. E. Smith, commended the efforts of church officers and congregation and he made reference to the good work of the choir and of the Sunday school staff. He also spoke with gratification of improvements in church property.

The following officers were chosen for the ensuing year: Rector's warden, Mr. G. E. Norris; people's warden, Mr. W. G. Dyer; church committee, Mrs. Bassett, Miss E. F. Roberts and Messrs. Bannerman, Bishop, Corby, Gedrim, Lindgren, Locke, Oliver, Yerburgh; delegates to the synod, Messrs. Bannerman, Corby, Norris and Usher; delegates to the ruridecanal conference, Miss E. Roberts and Messrs. Bannerman and Simpson.

ST. PAUL'S, ESQUIMALT

St. Paul's Church, Esquimalt, vestry meeting was held in the church house. The people's warden, Major G. Sisman, read a favorable report on the year's finances; a large portion of the rectory loan had been repaid, leaving about $500 to pay off in 1930.

Interesting accounts of the activities of the Sunday school, W.A., Girls' Auxiliary, Chancel Guild, Tennis Club and Boy Scouts were given, showing a busy and successful year for all parish organizations.

Election of officers for 1930 followed. The rector stated that he was glad to announce that Eng.-Commander A. D. M. Curry had consented to act as rector's warden for the second time. Major G. Sisman was elected by acclamation as people's warden. Church committee nominated were: Mr. W. E. A. Barclay, Captain. O. R. Parker, Mr. L. B. Lloyd, Captain J. E. McDonald, Mr. A. Neville Smith, Mr. D. A. Storey, Mr. R. B. Punnett.

Lay delegates to synod: Lieut.-Col. J. A. Hall, Major G. Sisman, Eng.-Comdr. A. D. Curry, Mr. W. E. A. Barclay and Mr. A. Neville Smith.

Ruridecanal conference, Mr. W. E. A. Barclay, Mr. L. B. Lloyd and Mr. Duncalfe; auditor, Mr. A. Wolfenden.

Lieut.-Col. J. A. Hall moved that the following resolution be spread upon the vestry minutes: "That this vestry wishes to record with gratitude to Almighty God the happy consecration and opening for Divine service of the new cathedral in Victoria, and the realization of the inspired ambition of his lordship, the bishop."

S. LUKE'S, CEDAR HILL

The annual vestry meeting of St. Luke's parish was held in the hall, Rev. S. Hyall in the chair. The rector, church wardens and various societies made their reports, all showing satisfactory progress, and Col. Phillips was warmly congratulated on his handling of the finances. A vote of thanks was passed to all responsible for the parish societies and activities. Election of officials and other parish business followed. After adjournment the W.A. very kindly provided refreshments.

GRACE LUTHERAN

The annual business meeting of the Grace Lutheran Church was held on Wednesday evening, when a good number of the members faced the cold wind to attend to the business of the church.

Reports were received from the Sunday school, the Women's Missionary Society and the Brotherhood. All reports showed that encouraging progress had been made during the year, particularly in the work of the Sunday school. The report of the congregational treasurer showed a substantial development in the finances of the church.

The new officers elected were: Mr. B. Brandson as secretary of the congregation; Mr. K. G. Ingle, Mr. Jens Jensen and Mr. Carl Modin as members of the church council. Mr. Alfred Nelson was elected as delegate to the conventions of synod and conference. Committees were appointed with the following chairmen: Property and finance, Mr. Robert Sams; music and literature, Mr. B. Brandson; ushers, Mr. C. Raaflaub; altar committee, Miss G. Rasmussen. A vote of appreciation for the splendid work of the past year was extended to the choirs, the officers and other organizations of the church.

CUMBERLAND UNITED

The annual meeting of the Cumberland United Church was held on Wednesday evening with the pastor, Rev. J. R. Hewitt, presiding. Reports of the various units of the church revealed the fact that 1929 was one of the best in the history of the church, much good work being accomplished.

After the reports had been received the election for the board of management took place, with the following being elected: Messrs. D. MacLean, Alex. McKinnon, Stanley Mounce, Thomas Bannerman, John Mann, Alex. Henderson, Charles Nash, Dr. G. K. MacNaughton, Dr. E. R. Hicks and Mesdames G. Richardson, J. Lockner and Conrod.

Alderman Under Charge of Theft Is Still Wanted

STRATFORD, Ont., Jan. 17.—While police here still have no word of the whereabouts of Alderman Tom Brown, missing Stratford lawyer, who is charged with theft from his clients here, police authorities say that $22,400 is only a partial list of reported defalcations. Some of the clients' entire fortunes have disappeared. Mrs. Mary Chippenden, an elderly widow, has reported purchasing a $9,000 debenture from Brown last April, the lawyer later obtaining her endorsation, which would enable him to dispose of it. She has ascertained this debenture was sold without her knowledge.

settlement, occupation and purchase, he continued, the British Empire had been moulded; and by the vision of statesmanship and the expansion of authority little by little, responsible government had come about in Canada.

Justice, trust in her people, and the gradual giving to parts of the Empire the right to govern themselves had been the policy of the people of the British Isles; and, he declared, there was one great tangible bond of unity and that was the Crown.

SYMBOL OF UNITY

"Protectorate, Colony or Dominion," Mr. Bennett observed, "the symbol of unity, the golden thread that runs through our constitutional system, the Crown."

Canada has behind her a great tradition, the Dominion leader stated, and the trusteeship of the people of this country within the British Empire was enormous. Let the men and women of this Dominion especially, Mr. Bennett urged, realize the vast responsibility and work in the direction of the much-desired goal of universal peace.

RUSSIAN TRADE DISAPPOINTING TO GOVERNMENT

Campaign to Provide Funds to Collectivize Farms on Immense Scale Is Proving Failure

TAKING REVENGE UPON PEASANTRY

By CARROLL BINDER

(Copyright, 1930, by The Chicago Daily News Foreign Service.)

MOSCOW, U.S.S.R., Jan. 17.—The Soviet export campaign, which is relied upon to supply funds for purchasing tractors for the vast collective farms, machinery and technical services for an equally vast industrialization programme, is falling considerably short of official expectations. In as much as the five-year plan of Soviet economy, involving every aspect of Russian production and the life of the people, is dependent upon it, this shortcoming has serious implications unless it is speedily rectified.

Soviet officialdom and the press are frankly facing the situation and indulging in the customary unsparing self-criticism. Severe punitive measures are administered to those deemed responsible.

EXPORTS DISAPPEARING

Under the Government plan, exports this year should total 600,000,000 rubles ($300,000,000), which represents a 37 per cent increase over the year ending September 30, 1929. Industrial exports are scheduled to increase 47 per cent. The totals for the first quarter, published today, are admittedly disappointing.

Exports for the quarter ending January 1 are 11 per cent less than planned. Exports over the European frontier amounted to 23 per cent more than for the same quarter of the preceding year, but this is not what the nation needs in the way of the foreign values. The policy of doing without foreign goods of every character except heavy machinery, has kept imports down to 203,300,000 rubles ($101,650,000), but that favorable balance is inadequate for present Soviet requirements.

Lumber cutting and the export situation, on which great hopes were placed, are particularly disappointing, and are much discussed in the press nowadays. Inefficiency of local authorities and counter revolutionary propaganda by the kulaks are held responsible. Accused of obstructionism, 150 kulaks are now being tried in the lumber regions, and one has already been sentenced to death.

FESTIVAL WINS WARM APPLAUSE

Capacity Audience Witnesses Excellent Programme at Third Entertainment of Series

Another magnificent collation of sea fare was provided last night at the Empress Hotel for the capacity audience which crowded the ballroom for the third night's programme of the Sea Music Festival. The collation was extended beyond the figurative into the literal, one of the special delicacies which must have dazzled the eyes of any dinnerless folk on the spectators' side of the footlights being a big salmon, temptingly served, on the banquet table of that very merry gathering known as "The Order of Good Cheer." It was a sample of the veracity with which the detail of this historic institution was probably reproduced. The costuming is picturesque, and to judge by the good things which found their way to the table, including caviar, snipe and sea larks, the first comers to Canada must have been bon vivants, on occasion, in a very real sense.

This ballad opera, which incorporates French-Canadian folk chanteys and songs of the period of Henry IV of France, the English version of the story reconstructed by J. Murray Gibbon from the French of Louvigny de Montigny, the music by Healey Willan, has real historical value. In Ulysse Paquin, who carried the role of the genial Baron de Poutrincourt, there was a fine central figure who occupied his place with distinction. Sharing the honors with him musically were Alfred Heather, whose singing of "Thus Saith the King" proved him an artist of no mean power, and Herbert Hewetson, whose best song was "When We Were Sailing," a condensed epic sung very sympathetically. Of all the characters about the festive board, none more realistically played his part than the snub-nosed serving man, whose manner consistently simulated what the Scots folk call "a puir silly fool."

"Bound for the Rio Grande," the other ballad-opera which is featured, again "brought the house down." It is unquestionably the outstanding feature of the festival, as a permanent feature, its very character seeming to condense the essence of what is understood by the public in the name "Sea Festival."

All these fine old chanteys, "Shenandoah," "A-Roving," "Blow the Man Down," "A Long Time Ago," "Rio Grande," "Goodbye, Fare You Well," "Blow, Boys, Blow," strike a familiar something which belongs to the very bone and marrow of the English idiom. There is certainly much to be said for the manner of their singing. Led by such actor-artists as Mr. John Goss, and with a chorus comprising Alfred Heather, Sydney Nicholls, Herbert Hewetson, Ulysse Pacquin and other fine voices, the songs could hardly be less than magnificent, both musically and in point of humor and sentiment.

Again the audience showed its gleeful appreciation.

The other outstandingly popular features of the programme were Mrs. Gertrude Huntley Green's beautiful group of piano numbers, and Mr. Herbert Heyner's group of sea songs. Mrs. Green's group comprised the curiously-titled "A.D. MDCXX.," by Edward MacDowell, a majestic composition; Percy Grainger's delightful, spontaneous, delicately boisterous romp, "Molly on the Shore," and Ravel's "Frolic of the Waters," tender, mocking, elfin laughter of which the player so subtly interpreted. These things were all exquisitely played and the artist again had a noisy ovation. Mr. Heyner may not have known when he selected the Easthope Martin group of sea songs that the author of the verses, Miss Cicely Fox Smith, at one time lived in Victoria and is remembered here still. It is a rare pleasure to hear things so well sung.

He was an ardent lover but a poor speller. He thought it safer to write to the girl's father for her hand. His note ran: "I want your daughter—the flour of your family."

"The flour of my family is good," replied the old man. "Are you sure it isn't my dough you're after?"

HIS FINGERS WERE STIFF AS STICKS WITH RHEUMATISM

Mr. Geo. Currie, in a most "human" letter, says: "Only last Spring I was blowing about how supple I was—then one night I stiffened up in bed so I couldn't move hand or foot."

Fortunately Mr. Currie had got a box of T-R-C's (Templeton's Rheumatic Capsules) on the recommendation of a friend whose father had used them with great benefit. Mrs. Currie brought her husband two T-R-C's with a cup of tea, and they soon eased the pain so he could sleep. "When morning came," he continues, "I was able to dress. I have only taken five $1 boxes of T-R-C's, but already I'm 50% better. I can move my fingers, which were stiff as sticks. My arms and shoulders are getting supple again. I can walk easier. T-R-C's have certainly worked well with me."

Repeatedly T-R-C's have given speedy, safe relief from acute Rheumatic suffering. And, when taken faithfully and correctly, T-R-C's have conquered even the most stubborn Rheumatism. Safe and swift also for Sciatica, Neuritis, Neuralgia and Lumbago. No harmful or habit-forming drugs.

There is no mystery about the action of T-R-C's. They enter the blood stream. Go to the root of the trouble. Help your body throw off the poisons that are making your life miserable. Buy a box. Get back your normal health again. 50c and $1 at your dealer's. 145

Manitoba Begins To Extend Power Line for Hydro

WINNIPEG, Jan. 17.—Manitoba Government is asking for tenders for the construction of a power line extending from Portage la Prairie to Brandon, Man. The move is looked on as the Government's initial step in a new campaign to extend its power commission service in the province. Negotiations are to commence within a few days with a view to purchase of the power plant of the Canada Gas Company at Brandon. Recently the Brandon council agreed to handle power distribution if the Government took over the privately-owned power plant.

The ball will take place next Wednesday evening at the Empress Hotel.

Fashion Fancies

By Marie Belmont

As measured in miles, its a long way from the Sunny South to the Frozen North, but in fashion it's but a step. For in the shops you see fashions for the South side by side with costumes especially designed for the Northern resorts.

A particularly appealing skiing outfit is the one shown here. Of dark blue wool gabardine, the blouse strikes a Russian note in its makeup. The monk-like cap with its attached cape is of white Angora and fastens in the front with a hookless fastener.

Churches and Their World-Wide Work

DR. WILSON AT METROPOLITAN

First Church Minister to Preach at the Morning Service on "Failing Yet Succeeding"

EVENING SERMON BY REV. H. A. IRELAND

Two of the city's leading pastors will occupy the pulpit of Metropolitan Church on Sunday in the absence of Dr. Sipprell.

At 11 o'clock Dr. W. G. Wilson, of First United Church, who has recently returned from a European tour, will take as his subject, "Failing Yet Succeeding."

At the evening service Rev. H. A. Ireland, chairman of the Presbytery committee of evangelism and social service, will take for his subject "The Divine Spirit the Guide to Truth."

FOR 45 YEARS

Mr. S. V. Ware Will Speak on Scripture Union Started Here in 1885

The preacher on Sunday morning at the Church of Our Lord will be Mr. S. V. Ware, secretary missioner of the Scripture Union for Western Canada. The Scripture Union was established in England in the year 1879 and a branch was opened in Victoria under the management of Miss Rhoda Cridge in 1885. It has remained in operation in connection with the Reformed Episcopal Church since that date under the name of the Marifield Branch.

The preacher for the evening will be the rector. Well-known hymns and special music will be sung at this service.

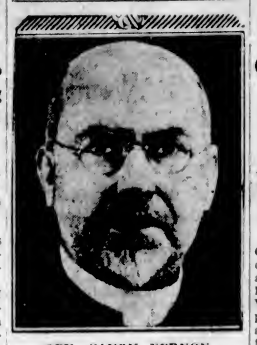
REV. H. NIXON ON "THE ETERNAL CITY"

Fairfield United Congregation Hold Annual Meeting on Wednesday

Services of special interest await all who worship at Fairfield tomorrow. The pastor, Rev. Hugh Nixon, will preach morning and evening, speaking at 11 o'clock on "The Eternal City," and in the evening on "A Neglected Heritage." The morning music will comprise a baritone solo by Mr. Ivan Green and an anthem by the choir, and the evening a duet by Mrs. E. Woodward and Miss Grace Platt and anthem with soloists, Mrs. Rowley and Mr. Abbott.

A congregational meeting will be held on Wednesday, January 22, at 8 o'clock, at which the year's work will be reviewed and new officers elected.

Favors Divorce Courts For Ontario



REV. CANON VERNON

Of Toronto, secretary of the Social Service Committee of the Church of England, endorses the establishment of divorce courts in Ontario by the bringing of a test case before the courts of the province.

WORTH OF A SMALL GIFT

St. Andrew's Minister to Speak at Morning Service on the Widow's Offering

The pulpit of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Douglas Street, will be occupied as usual tomorrow morning and evening by the minister, Rev. H. P. S. Luttrell, B.A., who will take as his subject in the morning "The Value of Two Mites" (Mark xii, 42), and in the evening "When Ridicule Failed" (Nehemiah iv, 1-6).

Life Is Named For Christian Science Topic

All churches and societies of Christ, Scientist, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass., will have the subject of "Life" for their lesson-sermon on Sunday, with the following golden text from John v, 24: "Verily, verily, I say unto you, he that heareth My word, and believeth on Him that sent Me, hath everlasting life, and shall not come into condemnation; but is passed from death unto life."

Sunday morning services at First Church of Christ, Scientist, Victoria, are held at 11 o'clock. Evening services are at 7:30 o'clock. Wednesday evening services, which include testimonies of healing, are held at 8 o'clock. A free reading room for the public is maintained in the Sayward Building.

DEAN TALKS ON CONFUCIANISM

Christianity Will Be Contrasted With Asiatic Ethical System in Epiphany Sermon

YOUTH SERVICE AT 3 O'CLOCK

Tomorrow's services in Christ Church Cathedral include three celebrations of Holy Communion—at 6 and 8 o'clock and after Morning Prayer at 11 o'clock. The Dean, Very Rev. C. S. Quainton, will preach at the 11 o'clock service, and also at choral Evensong at 7:30. At the evening service the sermon will deal with the subject, "Christianity and Confucianism," being a second of a series of three sermons during the Epiphany season. An afternoon service for boys and girls of all ages and for parents with young children will be conducted at 3 o'clock by Rev. E. W. P. Carter.

Weekday services, at 9:30 and 5:15 o'clock will be held in the chapel of the Memorial Hall, also Holy Communion on Thursday and Saturday next (St. Paul's Day) at 8 o'clock. On Wednesday morning there will be a corporate communion service at 9:30 o'clock in the cathedral for the delegates to the annual meeting of the Diocesan Board and other members of the Woman's Auxiliary. The preacher at this service will be Ven. H. A. Collison, rector of Quamichan.

TELLS OF HIS FIRST DRINK

REV. G. PRINGLE TO GIVE TALE OF KLONDIKE STAMPEDE

Centennial Church Offers Good Music and Comfortable Building

Centennial congregation is promised the great pleasure of another "Story Night" on Sunday evening when, in place of the conventional sermon, Mr. Pringle will describe one of his delightfully interesting Yukon experiences in the wild Klondike "stampede" days of thirty years ago. It will be given under the intriguing caption of "My First Roadhouse Drink." In the story there will be a clear and impressive lesson in character building. The message will be of real value to all, but will be especially welcome to young men and women, many of whom are now being thrown, for the first time, on their own resources in facing the battle of life with its insistent temptations and its difficult and momentous decisions.

The morning sermon will centre around "The Mind of Christ," a subject of perennial interest to the hearts and minds of all Christians. In the morning Mr. Joe Almond will sing a solo. There will be other enjoyable and helpful choir music at both services. Centennial church has a good heating system and is warm and comfortable on cold Sundays.

MRS. G. GRANT ON "POWER AND JUSTICE OF THE LOVE OF GOD"

At the morning service at the Unity Centre, 739 Yates Street, the speaker will be Mrs. Gordon Grant. Subject of address to be "The Power and Justice of the Love of God." The usual children's sermonette will be given, followed by the children's chorus. In the evening the subject of Mrs. Grant's address will be "The Christ Consciousness." This will be the second talk on this subject and will be continued during the next two weeks.

On Tuesday afternoon there will be the usual rest and healing meeting. At the meeting last week the names of two people were brought into the meeting for healing and both were healed. The subject for study will be "Effectual Prayer." On Thursday evening at 8 o'clock the lessons of the correspondence course will be continued. On Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock a new class in the junior work of the correspondence school will be opened and all interested are invited to attend.

EMMANUEL TO HOLD BUSINESS MEETING

"Christian Leadership" Will Be Morning Theme of Rev. Henry Knox

Convinced of the need of giving leadership in the application of Christian principles to life, Rev. Henry Knox will preach on "Christian Leadership" at the service tomorrow morning in Emmanuel Baptist Church. Anthem, "From the Rising of the Sun" (Ouseley). "The Gospel of Hope" will be the subject of the evening sermon. Anthem, "Blessed Be Thou" (Kent). The Lord's Supper will be observed at this service.

The annual business meeting of the church will be held in the schoolroom on Wednesday, January 22. Supper will be served by the Ladies' Aid Society at 6:30 o'clock, and the business meeting will begin at 7:30. Reports from all departments of the church will be read, the election of officers will take place and other business will be transacted.

Abbey Becomes Cathedral

OFFA, the King of the Mercians, repenting of his many sins, founded a religious house in honor of St. Alban in the year 791. It was under Benedictine rule and used as a church and as a sanctuary giving relief to travelers and any in need. It exerted great influence in the religious world of the time and at the period of the Conquest it was the most important abbey in England. Even up to the time of its suppression, in 1539, the abbots of St. Albans disputed precedence with those of Westminster. This ancient church stood until nearly the end of the eleventh century, at which time most of it was removed by Abbot Paul of Caen, to make room for a greater structure.

The new church was the greatest in England, with an area of over 30,000 square feet and a nave almost three hundred feet long, a great central tower, twelve bays, a Chapter house and cloisters. A Lady Chapel was completed in 1326 by Hugh de Eversden, a chapel declared to be a perfect gem of English Middle Pointed art.

St. Albans is associated with much of historical interest. The first battle of the Wars of the Roses was fought near this church in 1455 between Richard, Duke of York, and Henry VI. Many nobles, killed on the field, were buried in the Lady Chapel the next day.

The great church was sold by Edward VI to the Inhabitants of St. Albans for four hundred pounds as a parish church and remained so until 1875 when a bishopric was erected there. A complete restoration at a cost of several hundred thousand dollars was completed in 1878.

REV. T. C. HIPP, OF VANCOUVER, TO LECTURE TWICE

Rev. T. Christie Hipp, of Vancouver, will be the speaker at New Thought Temple on Sunday. Dr. Hipp is leader of the Unity Fellowship in Vancouver, and also the district president for Western Canada for the International New Thought Alliance.

At 8 o'clock his subject will be "What New Thought Will Do for You," and in the evening, "Solving Life's Problems."

Mr. William Ellis and Mrs. J. B. Shaw will be the solists. Everyone interested in New Thought should hear these lectures by this capable speaker.

ST. MARY'S TO HOLD VESTRY ON MONDAY

Usual Services Will Be Held at Oak Bay Church With Sermon by Rector

There will be a celebration of Holy Communion in St. Mary's tomorrow at 8 o'clock, Matins and Sermon at 11, and Evensong and sermon at 7. The rector will preach at both services. The senior session of the Sunday school will meet at 9.45 o'clock, and the junior session at 11.

The annual meeting of the parishioners will be held in St. Mary's Hall on Monday evening commencing at 8 o'clock.

GIVES TALK ON SPIRITUALISM

The following services will be held at St. Mark's Church, Cloverdale, tomorrow: Holy Communion at 8 o'clock; Holy Communion and sermon at 11, and Evensong at 7 o'clock. Rev. O. L. Jull, vicar of the parish, will preach in the morning, his sermon subject to be "Turning Water Into Wine," and at Evensong Mr. Jull will speak upon "Some Thoughts on Spiritualism."

The annual vestry meeting of the church will be held in St. Mark's Hall, Tennysen Road, on Wednesday at 8 o'clock.

Prayer Called For Parley on Armaments

THE Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America with which several of the Canadian communions are associated has suggested to all its affiliated churches that on January 19 there be special prayer for peace in view of the Conference upon Naval Armaments which convenes in London on January 21.

Dr. W. T. Gunn, the Moderator of the United Church of Canada, in addressing the members of this church through The New Outlook, speaks of "a hunger in the hearts of men and women that steps should be taken to make war for ever impossible," and suggests as one of the petitions to be offered "that the members of the Conference may be led to take such steps as will guide the nations into the way of peace."

CHESLEY, OF SEATTLE, TO LECTURE HERE AT PROGRESSIVE THOUGHT

Chesley, of Seattle, will speak at both services in the Progressive Thought Temple on Sunday. At 11 o'clock she has chosen for her theme "Information About the Eskimos in Northern Canada." In the evening at 7:30 Chesley will conduct a "Special Success Lecture," during which she will distribute "Success Babies." The regular weekly health talk will be under the direction of Dr. A. F. Barton, who will speak on "How to Live to Be One Hundred Years Old."

St. Paul's Presbyterian

Rev. J. S. Patterson, minister of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, will take as his subjects for Sunday, at the morning worship at 11 o'clock, "Pentecostal Power," and at 7:30 p.m. "Lovest Thou Me?" Bright singing will be given from 7:15 p.m. and special music at each service.

Church Briefs

Divine service will be conducted tomorrow at the Gorge Presbyterian Church, Tillicum Road, at 11 o'clock, and at Erskine Presbyterian, corner of Harriett and Lurline Roads, at 7. Rev. O. A. Thomson, the minister, will conduct the services at both churches, his sermon subject to be "The Gospel of John." For the weeknight services at both churches Mr. Thomson will continue his study upon "The Person and Work of the Holy Spirit."

Services will be conducted tomorrow at the Douglas Street Baptist Church, Cloverdale, at 11 o'clock, and in the evening at 7:30 o'clock Rev. F. W. McKinnon, the pastor, will take for his subject in the morning "God's Cure for a Troubled Heart," to be followed by the children's sermonette. In the evening Rev. S. V. Ware, secretary and missioner of children's special service and Scripture Union of Canada, will speak. Prayer meeting will be held on Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock, and the B.Y.P.U. on Friday at 8 o'clock.

On Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock a service of unusual interest will be held in the First Spiritual Church, Harmony Hall, 724 Government Street, when the pastor, Mrs. Cora Frampton, will take as the theme of her address, "Will Your Anchor Hold?" At the close of the service there will be clairvoyant descriptions and messages. All are welcome.

On Sunday morning at Wilkinson Road and in the afternoon at Garden City the pastor will preach on "Hope Maketh Not Ashamed" (Rom. v, 5). Special prayer will be offered for the approaching disarmament Conference at London. In the evening at Wilkinson Road, Mr. Fred Robins, director of religious education at Metropolitan Church, will speak to the Young People's Club at 6:45 o'clock on "Looking Ahead to Service." His sermon theme following will be "The Church's One Foundation." The annual meeting of the Garden City congregation will be held on Wednesday night, January 22, when reports of the departments of work will be given.

An Argentine railway has placed orders for $2,500,000 of rolling stock in Britain.

SILENCE TO BE PASTOR'S TOPIC

Morning at First United, 'Knowledge and Silence'; Evening, 'Human Curiosity and Divine Silence'

BIBLE CLASSES DEBATE MONDAY

The morning service in First United Church will be conducted by Rev. Bruce G. Gray. The subject of the sermon will be "Knowledge and Silence," and will attempt to show that the inward voice which men hear is evidence of the reality and nearness of God and that to this day it guides and inspires those who listen to it. Dr. Wilson will conduct the evening service, taking for his subject "Human Curiosity and Divine Silence." The speaker will take the position that in approach to the mysterious, motives determine in a large measure the Divine response; for Christianity exists in the world, not to gratify mere curiosity, but to furnish a satisfying answer to the cry of a needy soul.

There will be special music by the choir at both services. The second inter-Bible class debate will take place on Monday night, and since the subject under discussion is a particularly atractive one, there is likely to be a large attendance of the young people.

Victoria West United

At the morning service at Victoria West United Church tomorrow, the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be administered. All the members and friends of the church are cordially urged to be present at this helpful service. At the evening gathering, the pastor, Rev. H. J. Armitage, will speak on "The Vision That Saves." The choirs will render anthems at the above services. The Sunday school will meet at 12:15 o'clock, at the close of the morning service. On Wednesday evening next, January 22, at 8 o'clock, the annual congregational meeting will be held. Reports will be given by all the various departments, and the Ladies' Aid will serve refreshments. The members and friends of the congregation are extended a cordial welcome to this annual gathering.

FLAG FOR LEAGUE OF NATIONS

The League of Nations is to have its own flag, and has accepted the offer of a wealthy Dutchman to award three cash prizes totaling about $750 for the three designs considered most suitable. The competition is open to people of all ages in all nations.

"RETRIAL OF JESUS," TOPIC

Striking Theme of Rev. J. B. Rowell Deals With New Attitude of Jews to Jesus as Messiah

Another startling sign of the times will be dealt with at the Central Baptist Church on Sunday evening when the pastor, Rev. J. B. Rowell, will speak on the subject, "The Retrial of Jesus—Jewish Sanhedrin Being Appointed to Investigate the Trial Under Which Jesus Was Crucified." In dealing with this subject Mr. Rowell will speak on the Jewish revival and the change of attitude toward Jesus the Messiah. In the morning the pastor's subject will be "Saint and Saviour Satisfied"; and the Lord's Supper will be observed.

Attention is called to the change of time for the meeting of the Sunday school, which will be in the afternoon at 2:30 o'clock instead of the morning.

TO TELL STORY OF THE CHURCH

CANON CHADWICK GIVES EPIPHANY SERIES ON CHURCH HISTORY

St. John's Young People to Hold Annual Banquet on Monday Evening

"The Coming of the Church of England to Canada" will be the subject of a short Epiphany series of sermons to be delivered by the rector of St. John's Church, Rev. Canon F. A. Chadwick, in the Quadra Street Church on successive Sunday mornings. The theme of this series of sermons will follow the study book of the Missionary Society of the Church of England, which is highly recommended to all church people to study during 1930. The title of the book is "The Old Church in the New Land," and is a very interesting description of the commencement and work of the Church of England in Canada.

The services at St. John's will consist of Holy Communion at 8 o'clock, Morning Prayer at 11 and Evensong at 7:30. A short organ recital will be given by Mr. G. J. Burnett just before the evening service, commencing at 7:10 o'clock. The Sunday school will meet at 2:30 o'clock and the Anglican Young People's Bible Class will assemble in the church vestry at the same hour.

A lecture under the auspices of the British-Israel Association on "The Great Pyramid and the Mystery Number 666" will be delivered by Mr. E. E. Richards on Monday January 20, at 8 o'clock in the Gordon Block, 739 Yates Street. All a welcome.

BOY SOLD BY AUCTION AT CITY TEMPLE

Enacted Drama in Which Citizens Will Make Bid for Canadian Boyhood on Platform

AUCTIONEER IS DR. C. DAVIES

Dr. Clem Davies will present the first of his enacted dramas at the Victoria City Temple on Sunday night. H ewill present a stirring message with a group of distinguished people who have made a success of their lives and long for boyhood to do better even than they. A boy will be sold by auction, and as he stands on the block he will be bid for by outstanding sections of influence and activity.

The following are the spheres represented and their bidders: Politics, Hon. Jas. W. Jones, Speaker, B. C. Legislature; business, James Parfitt (Parfitt Bros., contractors); clergy, Rev. R. S. Baker, M.A., clergyman; law, Harold Beckwith, barrister and solicitor; medicine, Dr. Ernest Hall, M.D., C.M., L.R.C.P. (Edin); education, H. W. Creelman, principal Burnside School; salesmanship, G. A. A. Hebden, sales manager, Diggon's; stock speculation, Alderman Woodward, Victoria City Council; Y.M.C.A., Vivien Shoemaker, boys' work secretary, Victoria Y.M.C.A.; bootlegging, F. A. Willis, agent; gay sport, James Pudney, character actor, Stevenson's radio plays; auctioneer, Clem Davies; boy, Dennis Fairbairn, Victoria High School. All these gentlemen have entered into the spirit of the thing and will make an eloquent plea to secure the boy, who in education and physique is a splendid type of young Canadianism.

The evening anthem will be "The Radiant Morn Hath Passed," by Woodward. Miss Isabelle Crawford sings "There Is a Green Hill," by Gounod. The morning anthem will be "Lift Up Your Heads" (Hopkins). Dr. Davies' morning theme will be "The Professional Healing Systems of Victoria, or Facts, Fads and Fancies of Healing."

REV. A. J. VINCENT AT FIRST BAPTIST

Acquisition of Spiritual Power to Be Treated by Preacher

Rev. A. J. Vincent will preach at both services at First Baptist Church tomorrow. His morning subject will be "The Proof We Have Reached the Place of Power," and in the evening he will preach on "The Progress of God's Love Gift." Mr. J. W. Buckler will sing "The Gentle Shepherd" at the morning service and Mr. Stanley Honeysurch "My Task" in the evening.

BUS REFERENDUM

Turning the Spotlight on Thursday Night's Meeting

You May Not Have Been at This Meeting and, Therefore, Missed a Number of Very Important and Vital Points That Were Brought to Light

For instance:

1. A taxpayer wanted to know whether the Reeve and Council recommended the ratepayers to vote in favor of the referendum.

THE REEVE REFUSED TO BE COMMITTED ON THIS POINT

2. And what about the statement made by the Blue Line, which was brought to light at the meeting: "We have been operating two months AT A LOSS OF $23.00 DAILY. WE WILL SELL OUT TO YOU (the B.C.E.R.) for $30,000 goodwill." Nuf sed. Ask anybody at the meeting.

Who in their senses would pay $30,000 for the privilege of losing $23 a day?

3. Another ratepayer asked: "Suppose, now, the B.C. Electric is out of it, and in a year or so the Blue Line find they cannot make it go and they give up. What would then be our position?"

The Reeve: "We should be out of it, with no service. If a man has his house burned down he is on the street."

4. And about this talk of the B.C.E.R. trying to freeze the Blue Line out of Oak Bay. It was brought to light at this meeting that at the request of the Blue Line the B.C.E.R. made an offer to purchase for $5,000.

If offering to purchase a daily liability of $23.00 can be considered a "freeze out," some people don't know when they are lucky.

5. And there was the important question raised by another taxpayer who wanted to know what power the Council had to enforce a fulfilment of the conditions in the agreement between the Blue Line and the Council.

The answer was: "No authority other than the cancellation of the Franchise."

What would be the good of that? It would simply mean Oak Bay might be without any form of transportation. This circumstance also places the Council at a disadvantage, should the Blue Line later state they must have a higher fare or cease operation.

6. In answer to a taxpayer as to what the B.C. Electric was prepared to do in the matter of a co-ordinated bus and street car service, Mr. Goward replied that the Company was prepared to inaugurate a bus service, in conjunction with the street railway system, from the Municipality into Victoria, and a service within the Municipality, on routes to be decided upon satisfactory to the Council, with universal transfers.

Stop Look Listen

Wait until you know all the terms in the agreement between the Blue Line and the Council and what prospect there is of their being carried out.

There is no hurry or necessity to give anyone an exclusive franchise.

Delay in the granting of an exclusive franchise is not going to hurt anybody—yourself, the Blue Line or the B.C.E.R.

PLAY SAFE

Vote Against the Granting of an Exclusive Franchise

Such action on your part at least cannot do any harm, and it most assuredly will leave you master of your transportation situation.

B. C. ELECTRIC

If you require transportation to the poll, please telephone 2117 and a car will be placed at your disposal.

English Speed King Sails for New York; Will Race Gar Wood

Sir Henry Segrave, Who Drove His Motorboat, Miss England, to Victory Last Year, Building New Craft for Coming Event

BY WALTER TRUMBULL

Major Segrave is due to arrive in New York next Wednesday on the Homeric. He really is Sir Henry Segrave now. England knighted him for his accomplishments in the matter of speed on the water.

You may remember that Sir Henry, about a year ago, drove his "Golden Arrow," a 900 horsepower Leon Irving Napier car, up and down Daytona Beach at an average speed of something over 231 miles per hour. It was in trying to break this record that poor Lee Bible was killed.

Traveling at this speed takes great experience and iron nerve. Figure for yourself the difference an inch in direction would make before a car travelling at such a rate could be straightened out again and brought under control. That is why they try for records at Daytona, where the beach is level, tremendously wide and hard, and where the sand gives just the necessary amount of traction.

SIR H. O. D. SEGRAVE

H. G. Ferguson drove the Blue Streak, an outboard motor boat, at a rate of better than forty-seven miles per hour. On a windswept Hudson River, an outboard motor boat almost equaled the speed of one of the fastest trains from Albany to New York.

From the huge ocean greyhound Bremen, to the smallest motor-driven canoe, speeds are increasing. The airplane and the motor car are still the leaders in records, but boats are now traveling at a rate that the automobile of a few years ago couldn't equal.

All human existence is speeding up. The telephone, telegraph and radio make news which used to take months to travel, almost instantaneous. And there appears to be almost no limit to the rate of possible human transport by water, land or air.

MISS ENGLAND WON

Later, Sir Henry drove his motorboat, Miss England, to victory over Gar Wood in a match race, and I believe also beat Mr. Wood's boat in a match race in Venice. The first of these matches consisted of two races, each boat winning one; but the result was decided on points, and in one race the Wood boat didn't finish. It turned out later that it might have finished, as the injury it suffered was to the steering gear, and the boat might have been run at low speed and steered by the twin propellers; but Mr. Wood believed that the committee would order a third race and permitted his boat to be towed in.

This season, Sir Henry and Gar Wood are to meet again, and their new boats will be the fastest that ever took the water. Segrave's boat will be the Miss England II, and is now being built at a yard on the Thames by Scott-Payne, the wealthy young Englishman, who was a flying ace in the war and who now is a designer of racing craft.

Gar Wood has driven the Miss America VIII better than seventy-five miles per hour, but that speed may not mean much in the coming contest. These new boats are designed to be capable of a speed of 100 miles an hour. To control a boat at any such speed takes tremendous courage and ability. Riding these speeding shells of wood with their powerful engines and shooting them through and over the water, is about like sitting the prize bucker at a rodeo.

HOYT BEST DRIVER

In this connection it is interesting to note that Richcard F. Hoyt, the young New York banker and sportsman, is considered about the best driver of a racing boat in the United States. So good is Mr. Hoyt that I am told that Gar Wood has expressed a desire to have him drive against Sir Henry.

Hoyt won the gold cup trophy with his Imp last season, averaging above forty-eight miles per hour. He has driven the Imp for one three-mile lap at the rate of over fifty-three miles per hour.

It wasn't so many years ago that twenty miles per hour was considered great speed for a motor boat. Now boats attain over twice that speed with outboard motors.

Fighter Pulls Boner on His Manager

By AL DEMAREE
(Former Pitcher New York Giants)

Many stories have been written of how the biter is often bitten and in no sport does it happen oftener than in the prize ring.

Ed Smith, the old-time fight referee, once told me about two managers of fighters framing with their men to lay down in a fight so they could put their money on their opponent.

One of the quitters beat the other to the canvas and was counted out.

As the winner returned to his corner, wondering what it was all about, he was greeted with a torrent of abuse from his manager.

"You dirty double-crossing so and so," his manager roared, in what he considered righteous wrath. "I ought to beat you up myself. What chance has an honest manager when his own fighters frame on him?"

GUN ROYAL WINS MIAMI FEATURE

Covers Six Furlongs on Muddy Track in 1.13 to Finish Three Lengths in Front of Herrick

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 17.—With the track a sea of mud, the Miami Jockey Club opened its forty-five days of Winter racing at Hialeah Park yesterday. An estimated crowd of 5,000 turned out to watch the thoroughbreds inaugurate Florida's racing season. A crack field of eight three-year-olds and upward battled over six muddy furlongs in the Miami Inaugural Handicap for the honor of winning the meet's opening feature. The honor went to M. Storm's Gun Royal, who stepped the sprint distance in 1:13 to lead C. E. Hamilton's Herrick to the wire by three lengths. George D. Widener's Partisan was third.

In the also ran group was Tutti Frutti, the highly touted South American horse, which finished fifth. The winner paid 7 to 2 to win, 6 to 5 to place and 3 to 5 to show.

FAVORITES WIN

Despite the unfavorable condition of the track the favorites scored with regularity, the victory of Pegg's Pride at 8 to 1 in the fifth race being the only upset of the programme.

The envelope system of betting was used—a system in which the bettor placed his money in an envelope, wrote the bet with the name of the horse on the outside and signed his name or initials. The system was similar to the oral used on the New York tracks. All wagers were paid off immediately after the race by the bookmakers.

CARDINALS SWAMP BAPTISTS, 80-2, IN LEAGUE CAGE TILT

First United Cardinals of the Sunday School Basketball League, established what is considered a new record last night at the First United Gymnasium when they trounced Douglas Street Baptists 80-2 in a regular league fixture. Wallace, with thirty-eight points, and Holdridge with thirty points, did the major share of the scoring for the winners. Bell netted the only points scored by the Baptists. At halftime the Cardinals were leading a 36-2 count.

Neil Perry refereed and the teams were:

Baptists—Bell (2), Ralph, Ward, Davidson and Maycock.

Bright.—The neighbors who called their first baby "Bill" became he came on the first of the month.

Rugby and Soccer Teams Must Take Another Lay-Off

LOCAL soccer and Rugby teams will take an enforced rest today on account of the unplayable conditions of the fields. This marks the second week that such fixtures have been canceled.

GOLFING STARS PREPARE FOR $25,000 MEET

EIGHTEEN-HOLE EVENT CARDED

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Jan. 17.—Those who roam the nation's golf links seeking glory and gold today gathered here in anticipation of the world's largest golfing money event, the Agua Caliente $25,000 Open, which takes place across the border in Baja California, beginning on Monday.

The four-day seventy-two-hole medal tournament, with its picked field of nearly a hundred of fairways fame, holds as its first place stake $10,000 of Mexican gold at United States values. The greater share of this array of links stylists is camped on this side of the international line, anxiously awaiting the opportunity of chasing par over the new and untried Agua Caliente course. Tomorrow most of them will appear in an eighteen-hole $1,000 event to be held at the picturesque little town of LaJolla, near here. At the head of this chosen field of professionals and amateurs stands Denny Shute, a new member of the crown wearers, by virtue of the young Columbus, Ohio, professional's startling victory in the recent Los Angeles $10,000 Open.

J. O. CAMERON IS RE-ELECTED HEAD OF UPLANDS CLUB

At the annual meeting of the Uplands Golf Club on Thursday night, J. O. Cameron was re-elected president while D. A. Macdonald was reappointed as vice-president. The majority of last year's officers were re-elected to their positions.

The complete list of officials follows: J. O. Cameron, president; D. O. Macdonald, vice-president; R. L. Challoner, captain; F. C. Dillabough, vice-captain; F. C. Dillabough, chairman of house and entertainment committee; W. G. Leith, chairman of greens committee; R. L. Challoner, chairman of match committee; D. A. Macdonald, chairman of finance committee.

PRACTICE SOCCER

Victoria West Division I juveniles will play the Maple Leafs Division II juvenile eleven in a friendly soccer match at Central Park at 2 o'clock today. The teams will be selected from:

Jones' Chip From Sand Handy Shot

BY SOL METZGER

The shot that turned the play-off of the last United States Open to a Jones flood tide was Bobby's chip dead to the pin for a birdie 4 on the fifth hole. Up to that time it had been all Espinosa.

A great stroke saver and a mighty handy shot, this chip from a trap to the green. It's the most difficult of to master, too. But it's a shot that yields to practice. Fortunately you can practice it in any home during the Winter. But before you attempt it let me show you the method of Bobby Jones for playing it.

Bobby says there are two ways of missing it. Either you strike the ball with the edge of the blade of your niblick, thus shooting it across both trap and green like a scurrying rabbit, or you take too much sand to prevent the face of your club meeting the ball. A dud results. Next: Jones' stance for chip.

English Lightweight Gains Decisive Win Over Tony Canzoneri

Jack (Kid) Berg, Batters Former Featherweight Champion to All Corners of Ring in Slashing Battle

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—Jack "Kid" Berg, British lightweight ace, gave Tony Canzoneri, former featherweight champion, the fiercest beating of the Italian's career tonight in winning a ten-round decision at Madison Square Garden. There were no knock downs. Berg weighed 134½ and Canzoneri 133.

A gallant little fighting man, "Smiling" Tony Canzoneri, slipped suddenly from the list of ring masters tonight and headed down from the heights, battered into the worst defeat of his brilliant career by a spindle-armed Jewish lad from England, Jack "Kid" Berg.

Awed and almost unbelieving, 18,800 of the faithful sat rooted in their chairs in Madison Square Garden until it became too obvious to doubt longer that the great little Italian, former featherweight champion and within the year challenger for the lightweight crown, was but a shadow of himself—and this on the night he would have needed everything he ever had to whip the Whitechapel whirlwind.

BATTERS CANZONERI

From the first round on, with the possible exception only of the third round, Berg, a slender youth who never stops punching, battered Canzoneri from one set of strands to another. He ripped and slashed at Tony's body and smashed everlastingly at the Italian's smiling face.

For a few moments in the first round, and again in the third, Canzoneri, who is still only twenty-four year old, battled with his old swashbuckling skill and abandon, blocking, weaving, slamming shots from either hand into the thin, dark, pinched features of the Jewish boy. But Tony could not keep the pace.

LONG SHOTS RULE AT NEW ORLEANS

Clemence Pays $109.70 in Winning Sixth Race—For Top Price—Outsiders Take Six Events

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—The track was good at the fair grounds yesterday, but it was no day for the form player. Scoring a win in every race but the sixth, the longshots made a clean sweep of the New Orleans track. Hilary started off with a victory in the opener, paying $17.20 for a $2 investment. Then followed the longest shot of the programme, Clemence, scoring in a six-furlong claiming event for three years and paying $109.70 for a $2 win ticket.

Princess Isabel was more highly considered in third and paid only $9 to win. But Star o' Morn went across in the feature, known as the Blenville, and paid $49.20 to win, the victory of Broad Axe in the fifth was worth $15.20 for $2, but Dear Ines beat the outsiders' string in the sixth. She paid $5.50. Sun Roman closed the card with a $1.20 triumph.

At Oriental Park, Havana, the pronounced mudders had their day. Tropical storms turned the track into a veritable quagmire. Due to scratches the feature of the day was withdrawn and a dash of five and one-half furlongs substituted. Sandler's John Shirley was an easy winner, with Phi Delta second and Okay third. The rain kept the crowd to the smallest of the season.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Jan. 17.—Billy Wells, of London, and Billy Light, of St. Paul, fought ten rounds to a draw here tonight. The verdict was given by two judges and the referee. Light weighed 149 and Wells 144.

World's Speed Mark Bettered By Australian

WELLINGTON, N.Z., Jan. 17.—Norman Smith, of Australia, bettered the world's automobile straightaway record for ten miles on North Auckland Beach today. He covered the distance in 4 minutes 2 1-5 seconds, an average speed of 148.637 miles an hour.

Available records said the present world's straightaway auto record for ten miles is 4:09:35, an average of 148.409 miles an hour. The record was set by Ralph de Palma at Daytona Beach, February 16, 1929.

District Loop Title Will Be Decided Tonight

With a seven-point lead, a trio of cage teams representing Keating will be at home to a like number from West Road this evening at Temperance Hall in the final games of a series to decide the district championship.

In the first game, Keating girls will clash with a fair sex team from West Road, while the intermediate teams from the districts will lock in the second encounter. The senior quintettes will battle it out in the feature fixture, Alan Le Marquand will handle all three games, the first of which will commence at 7:30 o'clock.

LEAGUE SOCCER TO BE RESUMED

Many Fine Matches Expected in First Division Games in England Today Villa Plays Sheffield

SCOTTISH TEAMS IN CUP FIXTURES

LONDON, Jan. 17 (C.P. Cable).—After a week spent in third round Cup ties and replays, English soccer clubs will return to league games on Saturday. The First Division fixtures contain several fine matches, notably Aston Villa's visit to Sheffield Wednesday. The latter are on top of the championship table and the Villa are fourth on the list.

Bolton Wanderers and Manchester City clash at Bolton and the Wanderers will strive hard for a win, particularly as they are now out of the Cup games. Manchester City, on the other hand, need points to keep away from Derby County, who are tied with them in second place. Derby County play at Everton, which is one of the richest clubs in England and is next to Grimsby Town at the bottom of the table in the First Division.

Oldham Athletic and Blackpool are at the head of the Second Division and should remain in the same position after tomorrow's games. Oldham can beat Notts Forest, while Blackpool should have little trouble with Tottenham Hotspurs. In Scotland, league games have been delayed by the first round of the Scottish Cup competition, with Queen's Park and Rangers as the feature match.

NANAIMO BASKETBALL

NANAIMO, Jan. 18.—In local exhibition basketball games last evening, the Felixes, senior girls' basketball team defeated the Pirates 14 to 11, having come from behind a halftime score of 2-6. The High School teams lost both events in the preliminaries, the girls losing to the Pirates, 20-10, and the boys losing to the Wide Awakes, 25 to 22.

In the main event the Felixes were off color for the first half and their every attempt at combination was broken up by the Pirates' defence.

Both teams played better basketball in the second half, and the excitement was keen when the score held 11-11 for about seven minutes of the last quarter.

Dr. Hardy Will Retire

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 17.—After thirty-five years of association with the sport, both as player and official, Dr. Sumner Hardy, president of the California Lawn Tennis Association, today announced his decision to retire from all tennis activities. Dr. Hardy declared that when his thirty years of continuous service as president of the California State Lawn Tennis Association is completed in March he will not permit his name to be proposed again for the office.

Vancouver Chalks Up 4 to 3 Win Over Cubs In Overtime Struggle

F. Jewra Nets Deciding Marker—Coupez Scores Lone Tally in Portland's Victory Over Seattle—Lions and Bucks Deadlocked

Portland	11	5	2	26	14	24
Seattle	6	8	4	27	33	16
Victoria	3	13	2	27	49	8

Next Game—Monday, January 20, Vancouver vs. Victoria, at Vancouver.

VANCOUVER, Jan. 17. — Vancouver Lions kept apace with their toughest rivals, Portland Buckaroos, in the race for Pacific Coast Hockey League honors when they humbled the orphaned Victoria Cubs, 4-2, in an overtime battle here tonight.

It was husky Joe Jerwa, who, crashing his way through the Victoria defence less than two minutes after the face-off in the overtime period, flipped the rubber past Robertson to send the scant 300 fans home happy.

The Cubs, though outclassed in the matter of speed, played a far better combination game than did the Lions. Their forward passing game was faultless, while the Lions paid little attention to this branch of puck chasing. In the second period, the fastest of the night, the Lions skated their rivals off their feet, swarmed in and around the Cub net, had several chances at a wide open goal, but shot high, wide and handsome, everywhere but at the gaping goalmouth.

CUMMINGS SCORES

Don Cummings, still far from his effective self, had enough on the puck to score the first goal of the game, six minutes after the opening.

Exactly one minute later the Cubs attacked en masse and during the melee Lowe picked up the puck and batted it home to tie the count. The Islanders continued to press, Redpath and Kelly standing out in the attacks by their speed and aggressiveness. Five minutes from the end of the period the scarlet pack tore in on Jackson. The goalie flopped to stop the puck, and while prostrate Leacock flipped the rubber to Redpath, who hoisted it over Jackson to put the Cubs one up. Redpath made it three to one less than three minutes after the face-off, in the second, with a high floater that fooled Jackson.

This was the signal for a savage rally on the part of the Lions, and it took Beattie, with some clever assistance from Joe Jerwa, just forty-six seconds to put the Lions in the running again with a neat goal from close in.

The third period started tamely, the Cubs being content to hold what they had, and the Lions not making much of a job of attacking.

F. Jerwa forced the game into overtime when he rushed down centre ice, crashed his way through the husky Cub defence, and though tripped and chopped as he came in on the net, managed to push the puck past Robertson.

Brother Joe broke the tie that Frank had created in the extra session.

NINE STRAIGHT

SEATTLE, Jan. 18.—The Portland Buckaroos made its ninth straight victory here tonight by defeating the Seattle Eskimos 1 to 0 in a Pacific Coast Hockey League game.

The Bucks fooled Winkler completely when "Army" Armstrong faked a shot and passed to Louis Coupez, who sank the rubber behind Seattle's veteran goalkeeper without any difficulty, 10 minutes 19 seconds after the first period started. From the moment they took the lead the Buckaroos were the masters. They skated faster, checked better and played a team game, while the Eskimos were allowing them to come into the secondary defence to shoot at Winkler's twines without a great amount of opposition. The loss of the burly Townsend, because of injuries, was felt by the Seattle club.

On the defence the Bucks were almost impregnable, making the Seattle forwards shoot at Andy Aitkenhead from just inside the blue line and sometimes past it. The Buck goalie made some sensational stops to keep the Eskimos blanked, but most of them were bullet drives from far out in front. Only two or three times were the Esks able to drive through the defence put up by Jack Pratt and Joe McGoldrick, Portland played a strong defensive game after scoring.

The super-team play of the Bucks was outstanding, compared to the rugged work of the Eskimos, who were unable to keep up the pace set by the Oregon representatives.

Tonight's defeat was the seventh out of ten for the Eskimos.

How can teamwork be developed between the two guards?

Answered by

E. S. DEAN

Basketball Coach, Indiana University. Tied for Western Conference Championship

Teamwork between the two guards plays a big part in both defensive and offensive play. The type of guards will determine greatly the kind of teamwork necessary.

First the most usual combination is the big back guard and the smaller running guard. In this case the big guard takes the burden of defence while the floor guard is strong both offensively and defensively. The floor guard will advance the ball and drive through in offence while the big guard will move around near centre of floor always available for back passes ready for defence.

The coach has a real problem with two small guards. It is advantageous in that these two small guards can seesaw back and forth in the offence which is harder on the defence. The little boys are at a disadvantage on the back board. One guard can block out the follow-up man while the other recovers the ball from the board. This takes much practice and teamwork between these men. Lorber and Alward of 1925 Indiana team is a good example of the small type guard. Due to lack of height these men had to make up that disadvantage through individual defensive technique.

The guards must use their voice and arms much in telling each other what they intend to do. By pointing out their man and by talking their work is simplified. In shifting men the guards must talk

DATES RELEASED FOR SWIM MEETS

BY FRANK W. BLANKLEY
Chairman Swimming Committee, National Amateur Athletic Union.

CHICAGO Jan. 17.—From the Atlantic Coast to the mid-Pacific shores of Hawaii the Amateur Athletic Union has planned a programme for an active swimming year for 1930. The four major events are the men's and women's indoor and outdoor swimming and diving championships. The women's indoor championships will be held March 13, 14, 15 and 16 in Miami, Florida, and themen's indoor events will be decided in the Lake Shore Athletic Club Pool, Chicago, April 2, 3, 4, and 5. Both the men's and women's outdoor championships will be held at Los Angeles, probably in August, the dates yet to be selected. In addition to these major events, forty-four individual junior championships will be scattered in Hawaii and various parts of the country, including New York, Detroit, Boston, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Pittsburgh, Omaha, Portland, Ore., Chicago and New Haven. The men's long distance championship will be held in St. Louis and the women's long distance in New York.

Interest at this time is focused on the women's championships at Miami. All of last year's champions will be on hand to defend their titles.

Floored Twice, "Aberdeen Assasin" Comes Back and Fights Opponent to Standstill—Judges and Referee All Disagree

CHICAGO, Jan. 17. — Twice knocked to the floor, Leo Lomski, the "Aberdeen Assassin," came back to fight James J. Braddock, knock-out conqueror of Tuffy Griffiths, to a standstill in their ten-round battle in the Coliseum tonight and receive a draw verdict that met with howls of disapproval.

Lomski, forcing the battle and overwhelming outscoring the New Jersey puncher, was credited by ringside experts with winning seven of the ten rounds. The judges and referee, however, all disagreed on their decision, with the result that the match was called a draw. The referee, Davey Miller, declared for a draw, with one judge casting his vote for Braddock and the other for Lomski.

Braddock, deadly with his right, knocked Lomski flat on his face in the second round with a short right cross to the chin, but Lomski jumped to his feet at the count of two. He was floored again in the fifth with another short right to the chin, but refused to take a count, bouncing off the floor as soon as he landed.

Lomski outgamed, outfought and outpunched the New Jersey light-heavyweight and the 5,432 spectators who paid $15,539, remained to boo the decision for fully five minutes. It was the general opinion of sports writers that Braddock was entitled to three rounds, the second, ninth and tenth.

Lomski carried the fight to his taller and heavier foe, showing contempt for Braddock's hitting prowess. He continually circled the New Jersey battler, throwing left hooks to the body and head in a tireless attack. Braddock could offer no defence for Lomski's baffling left hand shots and was frequently smacked five or six times without a return.

DETROIT, Mich., Jan. 17.—Dick Dunn, manager of Olympia Arena, today announced he had signed Mickey Walker to fight the winner of the Leo Lomski-James Braddock bout, scheduled in Chicago tonight. The match will be on February 7 here. Dunn said all three fighters had signed an agreement for the fight.

GENARO WILL MEET YOUTH IN TITLE GO

Yvon Trevidic, Eighteen, Thought to Be Youngest Boxer to Get Shot at Championship

CHAMPION FAVORED TO RETAIN CROWN

His chance comes tomorrow night when he meets Frankie Genaro, of New York, generally recognized world's champion in the flyweight class, at the Velodrome d'Hiver over the twelve-round route.

Trevidic, a red-headed fiery flyweight, has scored nineteen victories out of twenty fights, eighteen of them by knockouts and one on a decision. The twentieth fight was a draw.

Genaro, who has been suffering from a boil under his right armpit, had to ask for a postponement after an operation as the battle originally was scheduled for January 11. He does not yet appear in the pink of condition, but nevertheless is favored to defeat the youngster at odds of 8 to 5.

Genaro's right to the world's flyweight championship is in dispute in the United States. The little New Yorker holds the National Boxing Association's 112-pound championship, but the New York State Athletic Commission does not recognize any titleholder in the division.

They were arguing about sex equality

"Well," said the husband, "there is one good, sweet thing that a woman can never have, and which her husband (if she has one) can always possess."

"There is not," replied the wife in angry tones.

"Oh, yes, there is," he remarked quietly—"a wife."

"Well, sir" replied the assistant, "that is on account of the recent drought, you know."

TEAMS ARE CHOSEN FOR EXHIBITION

Squads From First and Third Divisions of Lower Island Badminton League to Meet Tonight

MATCH IS BILLED AT THE ARMORIES

Representative teams from the First and Third Divisions of the Lower Island Badminton League will meet tonight at the Armories at 7:30 o'clock, in an exhibition match. This match was arranged in order that the Third Division players may improve their playing for the forthcoming Vancouver Island championships which will be held at the end of the month.

The selection of the First Division team from the Garrison and Willows clubs was made yesterday by C. Hugo Rayment and Ross Hocking, president and secretary of the Lower Island League, respectively.

Following a study of the various players, they were ranked as follows:

Men's Doubles

McIlraith and Anderson, North Saanich.

Le Quesne and Pennington, Langford Leghorns.

Paterson and Cox, Graham-Paige.

Poyntz and Huxtable, J.B.A.A.

Simmons and Simmons, Christ Church.

Witter and Harper, Y.M.C.A.

Bagley and Watson, Saanichton Athletic Association.

Women's Doubles

Iris Goddard and Mrs. McIlraith, North Saanich.

Miss Boyer and Mrs. Erickson, Emmanuel Baptists.

Mrs. White and Miss Taylor, Fairfield.

Mrs. Bayles and Mrs. Le Quesne.

Misses M. and E. Stubbs, Graham-Paiges.

Miss Campbell and Miss Marconinni, Y.M.C.A.

Mrs. Poyntz and Miss Weeks, J.B.A.A.

Miss Strongitharm and Miss Fatt, Christ Church.

Miss Hughes and Miss Love, Saanichton Athletic Club.

Mixed Doubles

Miss Boyer and Blake, Emmanuel Baptists.

Miss Goddard and Anderson, North Saanich.

Mr. and Mrs. McIlraith, North Saanich.

Mr. and Mrs. Erikson, Emmanuel Baptists.

Mrs. White and Fish, Fairfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Le Quesne, Langford.

Miss Stubbs and Paterson, Graham-Paiges.

Mr. and Mrs. Poyntz, J.B.A.A.

Miss Lowe and Watson, Saanichton Athletic Association.

Miss Fatt and Simmons, Christ Church.

Miss Taylor and White, Fairfield.

Mrs. Bayles and Pennington, Langford Leghorns.

Miss Stubbs and Cox, Graham-Paiges.

Miss Weeks and Huxtable.

Miss Marconinni and Harper, Y.M.C.A.

Miss Hughes and Bagley, Saanichton.

Miss Strongitharm and Simmons.

The combined Garrison-Willows team follows:

Men's Doubles

Rayment and Paterson, Garrison.

Fleitt and Gibson, Garrison.

Ismay and Clarke, Willows.

Merston and Holmes, Garrison.

Hope and Rose, Willows.

J. P. Phillips and Webb, Willows.

Woods and Matson, Garrison.

Ridewood and Hunter, Garrison.

Exham and Wickett, Willows.

Women's Doubles

Mrs. Nicholson and Miss Pitts, Garrison.

Misses Oates and Porritt, Garrison.

Mrs. Gibson and Miss H. Wilson, Garrison.

TIT FOR TAT

Trumbull Says:

Selections of respective Walker Cup teams created great interest to golfing world.

Miami bout between Scott and Sharkey will draw big attendance.

With Bobby Jones and Cyril Tolley captaining the teams, all golf fans will be intensely interested in the Walker Cup matches, when the United States and Great Britain meet on the links. Mr. Jones probably is the best golfer in the game and Mr. Tolley certainly is not the least colorful. Small fault can be found with the selections of the U. S. G. A. The team will be composed of great golfers, most of them veterans and all of them good competitors. Youth will be represented in the person of the eighteen-year-old Donald Moe. As a matter of fact, none of the players have attained old age. Jones, for example, has been playing tournament golf for some fourteen years, but he still is considered youthful in the legal profession.

BOBBY JONES

It might be an interesting thing if these Walker matches could be enlarged to permit the playing of junior teams. For these teams no golfer would be eligible who was over twenty-one. That would give some of the college and schoolboys a fine Summer vacation.

From the standpoint of the surgeons, Gene Tunney passed a most satisfactory day yesterday. They say that the former heavyweight champion is getting along fine. Tunney himself wasn't quite so happy about it. The reaction from the strain had set in and he was feeling just about as miserable as any other patient after an operation. Even the flood of arriving telegrams failed to bring him any great joy, although one was from Jack Dempsey, and others from sympathizers equally distinguished.

About all Tunney is interested in just now is feeling well and strong enough again to close the apartment on Fifth Avenue, where he and Mrs. Tunney have been living for several months, and to get somewhere in the southland, where there is bigger and better sunshine than New York can boast at this season. In about another week, Gene should be sitting up and taking notice.

The great Shires, with his well-known inferiority complex, has demanded $5,000 for boxing four rounds at Madison Square Garden, New York. At latest reports, assistants still were treating Matchmaker Tom McArdle with smelling salts and other restoratives. Tom doesn't think Shires could fight $5,000 worth in forty rounds.

It is, however, a matter of business rather than boxing. Shires has performed to packed arenas, the fans knowing that he would do his best to fight, whether he knew how or not. A man is worth what he can draw at the gate and Shires is not one to underestimate the financial value. He probably will be seen at the Garden and he probably will be well paid.

Babe Ruth is not the only sports notable in Florida. Knute Rockne is now with his family at Miami Beach. If Rock sticks to the beach and keeps away from Steve Hannagan and Frank Bruen and the Miami race track, he probably will get a good rest.

As for the Babe, a two-year contract was mailed to him from the Yankee offices yesterday. Just what figures it contained was not announced. It is likely that Ruth and Colonel Ruppert will come to an agreement without difficulty. The Babe wants a lot of money, but he is worth a lot of money. He and Dempsey are the two greatest gate attractions in the world of sport.

Phil Scott has left the other side of the ocean and he is on his way to Miami, where he is to meet and argue with Mr. Sharkey. That it was Mr. Scott's advent which induced William F. Carey to plan to leave immediately for Brazil, is hotly denied; but some feared that it might look that way, so Mr. Carey will postpone his South American trip. He has only a couple of railroads to build down there, anyhow, while his presence in Miami is needed to build up the ballyhoo, a tougher job.

Still, I am willing not only to predict that the Miami bout will be well attended, but also that the customers may get more for their money than they did last season.

They are planning some first-class preliminaries.

Immigrants From Canada as Those In U.S. in 1790

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—The question of how many Canadians there were in the United States in 1790 is raised by a bill introduced in the House of Representatives today by Representative Bacon, of New York. Mr. Bacon proposes that the annual immigration from Mexico be limited to 2,500, and immigration from other countries of the western hemisphere be limited upon the quota previous to the Immigration Act of 1924.

Under this plan, Canadian immigrants would be admitted to the United States on the basis of a percentage of Canadian residents in 1790.

Congress has now in hand three projects for restricting immigration from the western hemisphere.

Two harassed fathers were comparing notes on the modernities of their respective daughters. "Well," said one, "we actually have to disconnect our 'phone at night." "What's the idea of that?" asked the other. "You see, our daughter is a somnambulist, but instead of walking in her sleep she always goes to the 'phone and calls a taxi."

Peden Bros. Turn Tables On C.P.S. in Fast Tussle

Sporting Goods Store Five Chalk Up 31-23 Victory in Cage Tilt—West Road and High School "A" Win

Swarming down upon their opponents in the second half with bitter vengeance for the setback handed them last week, Peden Brothers, contenders for the senior "A" city championship basketball title, subdued Ernie Harwood's band of C.P.S. hoopsters last night at the High School gymnasium in a fast contest, 31-23. In the second game, High School "A" intermediate quintette downed their colleagues, High School "B," in another fast fixture, 24-16.

In what proved to be the feature battle, West Road put it over their neighboring rivals from Keating, 34-23, in a game that was in doubt until the final whistle blew. Although the teams were separated by nine points when the last toot sounded, the members of each team were dropping baskets so fast and furious that picking a winner would have been a difficult task.

Peden's victory over the lumbermen was indirectly due to the brilliant shooting ability of Bill White and "Chuck" Chapman, youthful forwards. These youngsters, who are still in their teens, were eluding their checks time and time again and dropping home telling field goals.

During the first half the teams played a hard-checking game. First one aggregation would take the lead and then the other, until the interval arrived with the ultimate winners holding a one-point lead, the score being 14-13.

In the second period both teams went out after victory and as a result they abolished the idea of close checking, which featured the preceding stanza. White had a wonderful opportunity to hang up a scoring record had he been a little more accurate with his shots. The majority of the time he was laying under the hoop, unchecked, and although he led the scorers on both teams, he missed many more baskets by inaccurate shooting.

As time was drawing near Peden's gradually forged ahead and with a few minutes left on the timekeeper's clock, they had obtained a good enough lead to play a defensive game.

White, with fifteen, and C. Chapman, with eleven points, led the scorers, while Ross and Little played fine games as guards for the winners. Stew Skillings, with ten points; Martin, with four, and Fagerberg, with five starred for the losers.

The teams:

Peden Brothers—White (15), A. Chapman, C. Chapman (11), Ross (1), Little (2), L. Patrick (2).

HIGH "A" WIN

After holding a two-point lead when the half time period arrived, High School "B" team dropped the decision to their colleagues, High School "A," 24-16. Both teams fought tooth and nail throughout and the "B" lads held a 12-10 lead at half time. In the last period the "A" team forwards stepped out and managed to overcome the small deficit and finish on the long end of the count.

The teams:

High School "A"—MacKeachie (4), Macdonald, Sheppard (2), L. Patrick (12), Peden, Chapman (4).

High School "B"—Halket (2), M. Patrick (8), Hood (6), Elford and Fox.

KEATING DEFEATED

Claude Sluggett and G. Lannon were the big noises in West Road's victory over Keating. Both these players were in rare form and when the final whistle sounded they had accounted for 24 points between them, one more than their opponents obtained.

The winners started out at a fast pace and shortly after the game got under way they had tossed home twice as many points as Keating. However, after some fine forward rushes the teams reached the rest period with one point separating them. The score board read: West Road, 20; Keating, 19. As the second half progressed, West Road stretched their lead and finally finished with plenty to spare.

Claude Sluggett with fourteen points, G. Lannon with ten points, and M. and J. Lannon were the pick of the winners, while Ralph Michell with nine points and Ray Kersey with one less, starred for the losers.

Alan Le Marquand refereed all games. The teams:

West Road—J. Lannon (6), Andrews, C. Sluggett (14), Clarence (4), G. Lannon (10) and M. Lannon.

Keating—R. Michell (9), F. Atkinson (3), Emmert, Sutton (2), Kersey (8), Marchant (1) and P. Atkinson.

Athletics Covered Cubs' Signals in World Series—Batters Frightened When Tipped Off, Says Big League Umpire

By GEORGE MORIARTY
Big League Umpire.

The stove league season is being enlivened by discussion of the report that the Athletics covered the Cubs' battery signals in the world series last fall.

Many fans have asked me about it. Third Baseman Jimmy Dykes is credited with the remark that the A's peeked at Catcher Taylor's finger work.

Of course there are a few avenues of legitimate signal-swiping. A catcher's failure to cover his signals properly gives the coacher at third base an opportunity to tip off what pitch is coming. If the catcher's knees are close enough together when he squats, the coacher's vision is shut off.

Dauss could not effectively hide his curve ball grip from the eagle eyes of Bender and Coombs when they were on the coaching lines. Dauss realized his delet and was a beaten pitcher before he entered the box.

Now, you ask: "How does the coacher get the information to the batter?"

That is accomplished by a word signal. For insiance, assume the batter's name is Jim, as in the case of Foxx. Coacher and batter have an understanding that the name Jim, uttered in a short sentence or exclamation, augurs a fast ball. Another name or word foretells the arrival of a curve. The vital requirement is that the name must be uttered the instant before the ball is pitched.

A batter has a big advantage these slugging days if he can be set for a certain pitch. You may recall Bing Miller's statement that he passed a few pitches in order to swing at Pat Malone's curve ball in that fatal ninth inning of the concluding game. Miller hits a curve ball most effectively to right field.

Signals can be stolen from second base if the base-runner at that station is crafty enough to interpret the catcher's finger movements.

ATHLETICS CONSISTENT

The Athletics have been, perhaps, the most consistent signal-stealing club in the majors. Their craftiness dates to the days of Bender, Coomos and Danny Murphy. These players were veritable hawks in this line.

However, their skill did not depend upon the catcher's carelessness. They also mined their information by watching the pitcher. After the pitcher had wound up and swiveled to a sideway position with his arm in back of him ready to throw, these signal-swipers foretold the pitch by his grip of the ball.

Eddie Collins, Mack's lieutenant and third base coacher, is the equal of his former teammates at signal-stealing, and I would not be surprised to learn that he tipped off signals on a few occasions in the last world series.

George Dauss, old Detroit pitcher, had one of the best and sharpest breaking curves in the game, yet the Philadelphia club always seemed to have his number.

Some batters are actually frightened when they are tipped-off to the pitch, and therefore accept the information reluctantly or not at all. This is caused by the possibility of their being set to hit a curve ball on the coacher's tip-off, and then having a fast one shave them under the chin instead.

We know it is impossible for the batter to hit every forecast pitch to safe territory, yet to the type of batter who solicits the tip-off from the coacher, it is a tremendous advantage. To prove it let us assume that Eddie Collins tipped-off Foxx and Simmons, to the specific kind of a pitch each one of these sluggers parked in the bleachers at Wrigley Field in the first game of the series. A fairly good day's work, isn't it?

It is possible that the A's picked off a few signals, but I do not believe they swiped them wholesale.

(Special to The Colonist. Copyright, 1930.)

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 17.—To those cities who think that their death rate from automobile accidents is too high, let them take a look at Los Angeles and country. Over the Christmas holiday there were reported in that vicinity no less than fourteen deaths and 289 injured, nine of whom are believed dying.

Seven inquests were held and police of the whole state are searching everywhere for drunken, reckless and hit-and-run drivers who left a toll of death and injury in their wake.

This was the worst Christmas in the history of the city in regard to accidents. More than 200 people were treated in the city hospital, while the country hospitals accounted for nearly a hundred.

One of the saddest cases was that of an eighteen-year-old girl who was killed when she ran in front of her own car which had started to roll down the hill. She was killed instantly.

MAROONED ON ROOF OF SHACK

(Special to The Colonist. Copyright, 1930.)

TORONTO, Jan. 17. — A whole family of five, clinging helplessly to the roof of their shack on a flooded island in the Humber river, provided a real-life movie thriller when life-savers pushed their way through the ice-blocked river to the rescue. It was the Johnstown flood, Uncle Tom's Cabin, and the Isle of Lost Ships, all shuffled together. And a few yards away, oblivious to the most fantastic rescue drama ever enacted in this city, came sounds of dancing feet and jazz music from a nearby roadhouse.

The life-savers, emulating Eliza crossing on the ice-bergs, succeeded in reaching the family, but even they encountered unexpected difficulty. Squatting on the roof of the dilapidated shack, sat the head of the family, holding a loaded shot gun. He was afraid to move away for fear he would not get his "home" back again.

Convinced by the life-savers however, the squatter and his family agreed to be rescued. Twice the rescuers had to go back at the risk of their lives through a formidable flooded and blockaded river. Over ice cakes they shoved their boats. Blocks of ice, too small to hold their weight, shot from under their feet and plunged them into the river.

Police listened last night to the weird story of the squatter Dier and how his family maintained their home on the little island with the aid of a double-barreled shot-gun.

"Anything to get rent free," exclaimed this man, who was dressed almost in rags.

In the midst of his story, his mind suddenly reverted to an unexplainable persecution as to the cause of his family's wretchedness.

"It's an ancient grudge," he said. "I realized about twenty years ago that we were all born under a mysterious curse." Incoherently he muttered something about being a "Mormonizer."

KINDNESS ITSELF

She was a good wife in most ways but she had one great failing. Never could she be persuaded to sew a button on for him.

At last he made up his mind to see what effect sarcasm would have upon her.

"Oh, by the way, my dear," he said, when she was about to go out shopping next, "you might get me some needles and thread, will you?"

"You silly, extravagent boy," she cooed, "you can always borrow mine, you know."

English Relationship to Italy Stronger Than Ever

Italian People Show Preference for British—London to Show Italian Art—Remarkable Parallel Extending Over Wide Period of History

(Lieutenant Francisco Gualtieri, Italian dramatist, poet, journalist and musician, is a graduate of the University of Toronto and of the University of Rome. While in Canada he took a great interest in Canadians, whom he admired above all people, save, perhaps, his own countrymen, and of whose immigration problems he was an intense student.)

By H. H. GUALTIERI

(Special to The Colonist. Copyright, 1930)

ROME, Jan. 17.—The relations between Italian and English peoples go back to the dawn of Christian history. I say Italian, but I should more properly say "Roman," because it was due to the fascinating appeal of the Eternal City that all the countries beyong the Alps made their way down to the shores of the Tiber. Since then the contact has been closer and closer, and as years passed by, England and Italy found themselves with a rich patrimony of friendship which was rooted in the traditions of both countries.

Today the English-speaking people who live or visit in Italy are more than ever before. It may be accredited to the fact that tourist travel today has opened its way throughout the world, but is much more properly accredited, I think, to the war.

Before 1914 each nation had its own life to live and its own problems to face, but it was only with the signing of the Armistice that we have learned how to look in others' eyes to see the shades of our own grief. It was only since 1918 that we have seen the boundaries of countries breaking down and have heard of international relationship and of spiritual bonds common to all.

Then came the Americans; you find them everywhere today, in the hotels and in the cathedrals, on the deck of a yacht or in a wagon, at the opera and in the tearoom. (A few days The New York Herald Tribune stated that if prohibitionism had done nothing more than to promote travel, it had certainly rendered a good service).

But you see, they are not English. I do not say that Italians do not like them (it would be unfair to both), but I think they like English better, because, after all, the English are good friends of old. Long before Columbus opened his way through the silent mystery of the ocean, there were couriers running between London and Rome.

MOVEMENTS OF POETS

The intellectual relationship of both countries has always been as it could be cherished for a real work of love, and so warm as no other countries could ever foster. There has always been a moment in the life of an English poet when he found that the northern fog was a little too heavy on his brain, and he sought in Italy an opening in the blue sky toward which to raise the offer of his songs.

Shakespeare, Brown, Milton, Chaucer, Marlowe, Gray, Browning, Wordsworth, Scott, Rogers, Shelley, Keats, Clough, Lander, Tennyson are men who have all brought in their art and to the world the fruits of their contact with Rome.

Only yesterday a journalist friend of mine was telling me what a warm reception was offered to Mr. G. K. Chesterton by the Roman association of the press.

"Is it true," he asked, "that Chesterton and Bernard Shaw are the most notorious writers in the contemporary English literature?"

"I think they are." And after a short pause he added:

"We should know a little more of the English contemporary thought, shouldn't we?"

"I think we should."

Japanese Prince Is Bethrothed to High Birth Lady

TOKIO, Jan. 17. — The formal betrothal of Prince Tacamatsu, brother of Emperor Hirohito, to Princess Kikuko Tokugawa, a granddaughter of the last Shogun, was celebrated today with a ceremony of exchanging gifts.

In accordance with an ancient custom regulating Imperial marriages, Prince Takamatsu sent his prospective bride ceremonial court garments, a wooden fan, two casks of rice wine and a quantity of choice fish. The Tokugawa family, following the same custom, also sent the wine and fish.

The wedding date has not yet been decided upon, but probably will be some time in February. The Imperial couple expect to leave Japan in April on a round-the-world wedding journey, which will include a State visit to England. They plan to return by way of America, probably early in 1931.

"Do you play much tennis, Mr. Meek?"

"No. I play a perfectly shocking game."

Gordon McLeod English Players Will Open on Monday in "The Crooked Billet"

The people of Victoria and district have become cognizant during the past week that an all-English company of actors has come to settle in order to present each week a new play to the public, and that this company is composed of artists of the highest order, as they have proved to audiences who witnessed them in "The Ringer" when they gave that fine play of Edgar Wallace's at Christmas at the Royal.

Monday next is the opening night of their present season when the comedy thriller, "The Crooked Billet," will be presented. Those who appreciate a thoroughly good evening's entertainment with a big spice of excitement will find it at the Royal on Monday and for the remainder of the week.

It is hoped that the audience will all be seated by 8:25 o'clock, as at the rise of the curtain an exciting incident takes place which has a great bearing on the plot of the play and no one should miss any of the thrills which occur from beginning to finish.

Further announcements of the future programme will appear in the next week-end editions of this paper.

COLUMBIA THEATRE Laura La Plante, star of Universal's mystery special, "The Last Warning," showing at the Columbia Theatre for the last times today, was born in the old French Market district of St. Louis. From there her family moved to San Diego, Cal. Her one ambition was the screen, and her first entry into motion pictures was as an extra.

DOMINION THEATRE "Flight," the Columbia all-talking drama scheduled to play at the Dominion Theatre for the last times today, follows to the minutest detail the regulations and official conduct of the United States Aerial Marine Corps. The battle scenes of the film are the most gigantic in motion pictures. For sheer realism nothing has approached them. Jack Holt, Lila Lee and Ralph Graves are the leading players. Frank R. Capra directed.

PLAYHOUSE THEATRE Tom Ricketts, character actor appearing at the Playhouse Theatre in Columbia's all-talking crook melodrama, "Light Fingers," began his theatrical career many years ago. He was a director and actor on the legitimate stage before entering the motion picture field.

VARIETY THEATRE Toby Leitch's most spectacularly successful production, "The Awakening of John Slater,"—an absorbing comedy drama in three acts—will be presented by the popular Toby Leitch Players at the Variety Theatre for the last times this afternoon and tonight. In a role written expressly for him by Charles Harrison, author of many big Broadway hits, Toby is magnificent. His wit and humor convulse his audience whenever he is on the stage. "The Awakening of John Slater" is a story of engrossing heart interest, sparkling with the inimitable comedy of Toby Leitch. It is decidedly worth seeing.

COLISEUM THEATRE Dorothy Gulliver has ceased to be collegiate and has turned song and dance artist in the Tiffany-Stahl all-talking picture, "Painted Faces," now showing at the Coliseum Theatre. The cute and clever Miss Gulliver is the vaudeville partner of Barton Hepburn in this story, starring Joe E. Brown, and she puts over, with much originality, a snappy number called "Bashful Baby."

CAPITOL THEATRE "The Virginian," now playing at the Capitol Theatre, brings together for the first time three of Hollywood's most popular young screen players. They are Gary Cooper, Richard Arlen and Mary Brian. All three have been under contract to Paramount since the beginning of their film careers. Cooper has never been in the same picture with Miss Brian, although they have been working on adjoining lots for four years.

Trading of Land Planned to Give Outlet to Peace

PRINCE RUPERT, B.C., Jan. 17.—That Canada should try to trade the Rainy Hollow District of Atlin, B.C., for a small strip of land at the mouth of the Taku River, and another at the mouth of the Stikine River, in order to give Canada access to the Interior through her own territory was a suggestion made by Mr. C. L. Monroe, Provincial Government agent at Prince Rupert and formerly of Atlin, in an address here.

The Rainy Hollow district is in the Interior, and is approached by way of Haines or from White Horse. For thirty years there have been a few Crown-granted mineral claims there, but there is practically no resident population. While its value would probably be greater than the small areas of land at the mouth of each of the rivers. It would be the only trade which seemed feasible in order to enable Canadians to get to the Interior without the formalities of bonding through American territory, Mr. Monroe said.

This was not, of course, a mere idea on Cobham's part. He had been given the man's name, and he had only to communicate with Glasgow to prove the professor's assertion one way or another. The thing was only tragic in the sense that it showed how little importance could be attached to a process that was a manifestation of the unfortunate scientist's mania.

He rose. "Thank you, sir. I believe you, and I assure you that you will not be troubled again by us."

Professor Demetrius received his apology with surprising good nature. In the last few minutes he had realized that he might be placed in a very uncomfortable position. Like so many who suffer from mental aberrations, he was sharp enough in many ways.

Cobham got away from him with relief, but went no farther than the nearest postoffice, where he looked up the Glasgow telephone directory, and found Mr. Macpherson, a chemical manufacturer. He got through a trunk call within ten minutes.

Mr. Macpherson at once agreed that Professor Demetrius had visited him, and confirmed the latter's account of the day on which he had left Glasgow.

"I was sorry for the little man," he said. "I had heard he was running some process for that fellow Cupolis, and though the idea appeared absurd to me, I thought there must be something in it, since it had that financial backing. When Cupolis' affairs came out, of course, I thought there might be a flaw. Still, some one put him on to me, and I had him down here."

"There was nothing in it?"

"Air! Hot air! I could hardly get a sensible word out of him, and I didn't understand his process when he had talked to me for hours about it. And then he was so suspicious, and so sure he was going to have the thing stolen, that it was really uncomfortable work talking to him. In the end I had him stay another day, but I made up my mind he was quite mad."

Cobham smiled to himself. "At all events, his story tallies with yours, sir, and that is all I want."

His visit to London had been both satisfactory and unsatisfactory. It was something at least to have eliminated another suspect, for the multiplication of possible murders is the thing that fogs a detective most.

It occurred to him, however, to visit Scotland Yard before he returned. London headquarters was always helpful when appealed to, and he knew that the officers there would know the details of the Tendon Oaks crime by now almost as well as himself.

And it was at Scotland Yard that he was to receive the greatest surprise yet.

He was received with some interest by an officer whom he knew slightly. The latter had once come down to Hindon in search of a motor chief, who was suspected of a larger crime.

"Well, superintendent," said the Londoner, how goes the murder?"

"Not badly," said Cobham. "I have a few loose ends to tie up, but on the whole I am not ill pleased."

"I suppose you wouldn't call it suicide?" said the other.

"I certainly should not."

"But there was that dagger you found in the room."

Cobham grinned. "We didn't give everything away at the inquest. Between you and me, that dagger had nothing to do with it."

"Can you prove that beyond doubt?"

"I think so. And the police surgeon is sure of it. Why do you ask? I know you chaps do pull off some wonderful coups, but it will need some talk to convince me that Cupolis killed himself."

The other man laughed. "Oh, I don't say he did. But a bit of what may be evidence for you came our way the other day when we were investigating another case. Only this morning I heard more of it and was thinking of letting you know."

"Why wasn't it offered to us?"

"Well, the fellow who knows about it isn't sure. He is an ironmonger, a very respectable fellow, and these tradesmen don't like to be hauled into court for nothing. Our man was investigating some pilfering for him and they got into talk."

Cobham was keen and eager now. "About my case?"

"Well, in a way, yes. This ironmonger had read in the papers about the grapnel you found, and he had sold a grapnel about that size some months ago—at least he had had it made for a customer."

"Good heavens!" cried Cobham. "That's news! Go on!"

"This morning our man tells me the ironmonger brought him a paper with a photograph in it, and he said he would be pretty ready to swear it was that of the man who bought the grapnel."

"Cupolis, my dear fellow! A Greek though he gave his name as Dubois."

OVER AGAIN?

A countryman who had come to London and prospered in business invited a friend from his native village to spend a holiday with him. On the first day he took him to dinner at an expensive restaurant.

They went through the various courses, and when they had finished, the host inquired: "Well, what do you think of that for a dinner?"

"Great!" replied the friend enthusiastically, "now have one with me!"

EARLY ROUTES OF TRAPPERS SHOWN

A fascinating description of the old transportation routes of the Hudson's Bay Company from the time it received its charter in 1670 down to 1870, a tremendously interesting period in its history, was given by Sir Charles Piers, Bart., at a meeting held in the Provincial Archives last evening under the auspices of the British Columbia Historical Society. Mr. Beaumont Boggs, the president, was in the chair, and introduced the speaker with a brief reference to the work which Sir Charles is doing in creating a museum of wonderful historical interest in the Hudson's Bay Company's store in Vancouver.

For the purpose of the lecture the Historical Society had prepared a very fine skeleton map of Canada on which were shown the principal rivers and lakes, mountains and plateaus, with the various Hudson's Bay Company's posts indicated thereon and the trade routes drawn in different colors.

At a dinner at the Julia Francis Restaurant given in his honor by the executive of the society prior to the lecture, Sir Charles Piers told something about the work he is doing in connection with the museum in the Hudson's Bay Company's store in Vancouver. One of the illuminating features of this from the spectator's standpoint will probably be the relief map which he has prepared as a permanent exhibition, and which shows the transportation routes, some of the old conveyances such as the Red River carts; models of Forts Vancouver (at the mouth of the Willamette River), Victoria, Garry, Chippewyan and others.

Present at the dinner in addition to Sir Charles Piers were the president of the society, Mr. Beaumont Boggs; Mrs. Howe, wife of the Hon. S. L. Howe, honorary president of the society; Mr. W. A. Newcomb, Major Nation, Miss Alma Russell, the Hon. Mr. Justice Martin, Major and Mrs. Longstaff, Mrs. Cree, Mrs. W. F. Bullen, Mr. G. S. McTavish, Mr. John Hosie, Mr. C. F. Denton, Mr. Charteris Pemberton and Mr. Donald Fraser.

Health and Diet Advice

By DR. FRANK McCOY

Dr. McCoy's menus suggested for the week beginning Sunday, January 19:

Sunday — Breakfast: Breakfast food (retoasted), with milk or cream, applesauce. Lunch: Potato on the half shell, spinach, salad of head lettuce. Dinner: Baked chicken with Shredded Wheat dressing, baked parsnips, cooked lettuce, grapefruit whip.

Monday — Breakfast: Coddled eggs, Melba toast, stewed prunes. Lunch: Cucumber and olive sandwiches, raw celery. Dinner: Vegetable soup, stuffed beef rolls, carrots, turnip salad, baked apples a la mode.

Tuesday—Breakfast: Crisp bacon, waffle, with maple syrup (waffle should be browned through). Lunch: Cornbread, string beans, ripe olives. Dinner: Roast mutton, cooked lettuce, combination salad with cheese dressing, carrot and date pudding.

Wednesday — Breakfast: Baked eggs, wholewheat muffins, peanut butter. Stewed raisins. Lunch: Cooked oyster plant, stuffed celery. Dinner: Celery soup, roast beef, stewed tomatoes, spinach, cup custard.

Thursday — Breakfast: *Spinach omelet, Melba toast, stewed prunes. Lunch: Mushroom soup, shredded lettuce and cabbage. Dinner: Roast pork, steamed rutabaga, string beans, salad of grated raw carrots, stewed apples.

Friday — Breakfast: Wholewheat mush, with milk or cream (no sugar), stewed figs. Lunch: Baked squash, vegetables moulded in gelatin (chopped carrots, peas and string beans). Dinner: Broiled filet of sole, artichoke hearts (canned), salad of sliced tomatoes, apricot whip.

Saturday — Breakfast: Broiled ham, coddled egg, Melba toast, stewed apples. Lunch: Cottage cheese, sliced pineapple. Dinner: Vegetable soup, Salisbury steak, baked ground beets and carrots, celery, junket.

*Spinach Omelet—Beat lightly with a fork the desired number of whole eggs, adding a tablespoonful of milk or cream to each egg used. Pour into hot, oiled omelet pan or skillet, let cook for a few seconds, then add evenly over omelet that dishful of left-over spinach, chopped fine and heated through. Sprinkle broken bits of well-browned bacon and fold omelet over all. When sufficiently browned, turn omelet into hot platter, garnish with parsley, and serve immediately.

PROPOSALS FOR WILLOWS TOLD

Mr. W. H. Mearns, Secretary of Agricultural Association, Outlines Plans to Chamber Directors

BUILDING PROPOSED FOR HOME PRODUCTS

Proposed plans for the renovation of the Willows grounds were shown to the directors of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce at the regular luncheon meeting of that body, which was held yesterday in the Chamber of Commerce Cafe, by Mr. W. H. Mearns, secretary of the British Columbia Agricultural Association.

Mr. Mearns was introduced by Mr. J. Parfitt, chairman of the industrial group, and stated that it would be impossible to erect a Home Products Building during the ensuing year. The building featured on the plans measured 100 feet by 200 feet, and provision had been made for extensive lawns, planted with flowers, shrubs and small trees.

It was intended that the race track should be moved farther north to make room for a new Horse Show Building. The track would still measure three-quarters of a mile in length, and provision would have to be made for an increased sheep barn.

"If we should be able to make a start upon this scheme as soon as this year's fair is over," continued Mr. Mearns, "we should be able to complete the job by June or July of next year. I may add that this is the plan of the grounds which Premier Tolmie has had in mind for some years."

Upon a motion of Mayor H. C. Holmes it was decided that the entire question should be referred to the home products committee of the chamber for consideration, the committee to report back to the directors at an early date.

Tacoma Front Is Greatly Damaged By Fierce Gale

TACOMA, Jan. 17. — Extensive damage was inflicted on the waterfront here last night by a gale that reached a velocity of fifty miles an hour. The Point Defiance ferry slip was totally destroyed, the boat houses and pavilion at Point Defiance Park were damaged to the extent of several thousand dollars and several small craft sunk. Several lumber mills here have been forced to shut down as a result of the storm.

The above deal is interesting for two reasons: First, because, in the bidding, but one North and South pair in a Duplicate Contract Match arrived at a slam contract; and second, because, in the play, but two pairs made a Grand Slam, easily in the hand. I can speak with positive knowledge why one of the North and South pairs, partner and self, did not arrive at a slam bid. It was because one or the other slipped a cog. Now, I will tell my story.

I read my partner's jump assist to four Hearts to mean "finished business" in so far as partner's values were concerned. But, if partner held six supporting tricks, then I certainly held at least two rebids—provided partner held my missing Heart honors. So considered, I bid five Hearts, inviting a slam by partner if holding such missing honors. The logic, or plain common sense of the situation is that I would not increase a jump game assist with but one rebid in my hand. Consequently, it should have been obvious to my partner that if I could bid five Hearts lacking the King-Jack-Ten, I must be inviting a slam if partner holds these missing honors, regardless of the fact that partner may have bid his full supporting strength in the first place.

Of course, on the strict mathematics of the count of my hand, 6½ probable tricks, plus the 6 probable tricks shown by partner's raise, I could have bid the slam myself, but I still think my precautionary five bid to be correct with my holding. As to the play of the hand, I will give it as it took place at my table.

SALIENT POINTS OF BIDDING

Auction: South opens with but one Heart, originally lacking slightly the requirements for a two bid concluding the bidding. It will be noted that I make this explanation in Auction bidding for the reason that I am advocating the use of the original two bid in Auction if the values held justify such bid.

Contract: South opens the bidding, as in Auction, with but one Heart. West passing, North, with slightly better than six supporting tricks, jumps the contract to four Hearts. Following this jump assist, South bids five Hearts to invite a six bid from partner if holding his missing Heart honors. North accepts this invitation and bids six Hearts, as it is obvious to him that if South can bid five Hearts lacking the King-Jack-Ten, he must be trying for a slam, and that six or probably seven must be in the hand. Playing absolutely safe, he bids for a small Slam as a "bird in the hand is worth two in the bush."

THE PLAY

West opens his Jack of Clubs in preference to underleading either of his Kings. The Dummy going down, South can count twelve positive tricks, six Hearts, Ace of Spades, Ace of Diamonds, Ace-King of Clubs and two Diamond ruffs. An additional trick may be made unless one of the adversaries holds five Clubs.

So considered, South wins first trick with the Ace of Clubs and leads one round of Hearts to find out whether the Hearts are split 2-1 or 3-0. Finding them split 2-1 he leads a second round of Hearts, follows with the King of Clubs and a small Club, trumping in own hand. He then leads the Ace of Diamonds, and a small Diamond, trumping in Dummy. He next leads a fourth round of Clubs, trumping in own hand. The two hands are now set for thirteen tricks.

Pimples on Face

SEVERE WEATHER THROWS MEN OUT

Conditions on Fraser River Cause Mills to Close and Create Much Stoppage of Work

NEW WESTMINSTER, Jan. 17.—More than 1,000 employees have been thrown out of employment owing to mills on the Fraser River having been forced to shut down because of ice conditions.

The ship channel up to Port Mann has been kept open by the Federal Government snag boat Sampson acting as an ice-breaker, but thick ice has formed along the river banks.

The plants that have ceased operating are: The Canadian Western Lumber Company, Ltd., plant at Fraser Mills, employing 700 men; the International Wood Products Sawmill, the Laminated Materials Company, Ltd. plant, and the Western Mills, Ltd., plant.

Other plants will be forced to shut down soon if conditions do not improve.

Skating at Port Hammond is in full swing, six inches of ice being reported there.

Bride (proudly)—Oh, Gerald, how wonderful you are. It's doing it.

Oak Bay Electors

These Are Bus Franchise Facts

REEVE'S REPORT

On Saturday the electorate of Oak Bay will be called upon to vote on the following question:

"Are you in favor of the Corporation of the District of Oak Bay entering into an agreement with the Veterans' Sightseeing and Transportation Company Limited (Blue Line) granting to the said company the exclusive right to operate motor buses within the Municipality of the District of Oak Bay, subject to the assent of the Legislature?"

I feel that some explanation of this matter and the reason for submitting this question should be given.

When the Veterans' Sightseeing & Transportation Company Limited, which I will hereafter call the Blue Line, first negotiated with the council regarding bus service, they asked for a franchise for fifteen years. They were informed that the council had no power to grant a franchise, but we had certain powers under the Municipal Act to regulate and prohibit motor traffic and define routes. The 'Blue Line' were asked if they wished to proceed under these powers. Their first reply was "No," but later offered to start an experimental service with such protection, using their sightseeing equipment.

Realizing that no such service could be put on a commercial or permanent basis unless protected from competition from other bus lines, the council agreed to pass such by-laws as it had power to do, with a view to giving such protection.

This the council has done in By-Laws No. 584 and 599.

An action has been started in the Supreme Court to quash both these by-laws by the B.C. Electric Railway Company.

The Blue Line was not satisfied with the protection afforded by these by-laws, claiming quite correctly that there was no guarantee of permanency, as they might be amended or repealed by this or any subsequent council, and that no company could be expected to invest $50,000 or $60,000 in necessary equipment on such a basis.

Learning that negotiations were in progress between the B.C. Electric Railway Company and the Blue Line, the council refused to make any decision in the matter of an application to the Legislature for further powers, as we would not place ourselves in a position to be used by either party to the negotiations.

On receiving assurance that all negotiations had definitely ceased, the council after full consideration decided that the Blue Line should have the opportunity of securing the necessary powers from the Legislature to allow the council to enter into an agreement giving exclusive rights to the Blue Line to operate motor bus services in Oak Bay.

The council has been asked by a petition from over twenty per cent of the electorate to submit a referendum on the question, and in compliance with the petition the question will be submitted to you on Saturday.

I might point out that this referendum does not settle the matter. The council has no power to enter into the proposed agreement. This power must come from the Legislature, who may also require the agreement to be submitted to the ratepayers for ratification.

"I might add that the agreement has been drafted after full consideration by the council and is now ready to be signed by the Veterans' Sightseeing & Transportation Company Limited, and awaits final approval by the council.

I will now read to you two letters which have an important bearing on the question and which outline another phase of the situation.

To the Reeve and Council of the Municipality of Oak Bay, Oak Bay, V.I., B.C.

Dear Sirs:

At a meeting of the Reeve and Council held on the evening of December 6, at which the writer was present, the question of transportation service to and within the municipality was discussed; and though, in a general way, the services now being given by this company were reviewed and the probability of further service by us was offered, nothing absolutely definite was suggested.

Since that meeting I have had an opportunity of going into the whole question with our president in Vancouver, and I now wish to lay the following before you:

The B.C. Electric Railway Company, which takes care of the very large proportion of the transportation needs of Victoria and the adjoining municipalities, has been giving transportation to the residents of the Oak Bay Municipality in good times and in bad times and in all weathers for nearly forty years. It has, as you know, three lines entering the municipality, viz., the Willows line, with which is incorporated the Uplands; the Oak Bay line and the Foul Bay line.

Owing to the extremely large number of privately owned motor cars, these services barely pay operating expenses. Notwithstanding this, our company has always believed that to a great majority of the residents our services are absolutely essential, and the more frequent the service the more the real needs of the community are taken care of. For this reason our company, in the face of poor returns, has given a service far in advance of what is really justified by the travel. On the Uplands a fifteen-minute service is given. On the Willows from about noon until 8 p.m. a service every seven and a half minutes is given, and on Foul Bay a twelve-minute service. And we believe that these services have been and are now a vital necessity to the residents of Oak Bay.

As mentioned at the meeting, we realize that further service is now demanded by the residents, and our company is prepared, therefore, to inaugurate a bus service from the municipality into Victoria and a service within the municipality on routes to be decided upon, satisfactory to your council.

The question of fare is, of course, an important one, and we do not believe that a satisfactory service with the most modern up-to-date bus equipment can be given and maintained from the municipality to Victoria at less than an eight-cent fare. We suggest, then that the fare should be eight cents, said fare to carry transfer privileges, which would give the residents direct transportation from any point within the municipality to any point now reached by the company's systems in Victoria, Esquimalt and Saanich. The fare from any point within the municipality to any other point within the municipality to be six cents.

It might be thought advisable to try this out for six months, fare to be adjusted, if necessary, at the end of that time—and this would be quite satisfactory to our company.

The whole question of transportation appears to us to be a very, very serious one, not merely for the present but far more serious for the future. In many cities and municipalities on this continent in the past few years dual services have been tried, and though for a short time they may have appeared satisfactory, in the end it has been found that a co-ordinated service conducted on proper business lines by a responsible transportation company has been the only satisfactory one. I trust, therefore, that before any irrevocable decision is reached all these matters will be most seriously considered.

Yours very truly,
A. T. GOWARD,
Vice-President.

OAK BAY REPLY

Messrs. B.C. Electric Rly. Co.,
Fort and Langley Streets,
Victoria, B.C.

Dear Sirs:

Your letter of December 17, signed by A. T. Goward, was considered by the municipal council in committee of the whole on December 19. Your offer to inaugurate a bus service in and to Oak Bay is noted. The council regrets exceedingly that this offer was not made some time ago, when it would have received the hearty approval of the council. The council would have been glad to enter into an arrangement with your company for a bus service, and could have done so but for your action. The council gave you every opportunity and held other parties at bay until your decision was made. However, to the regret and disappointment of the council, your company decided to reject the opportunities given, and compelled the council to look elsewhere for improved transportation service. As you are fully aware, the council has now made arrangements with the Blue Line for a bus service, and the service has been in operation since September last.

For purposes of record, we are instructed to set before you a sketch of recent incidents affecting transportation in Oak Bay.

The Oak Bay car line was in operation before the incorporation of the municipality, and the Uplands line was completed in 1913. Our population then was about 2,800; it is now over 5,800. Since 1913 your company has not extended its trackage and has done very little, if anything, to improve transportation facilities in and to the municipality, in spite of repeated representations on behalf of Oak Bay residents. There may have been financial difficulties in the way, but it is felt that these could have been overcome if your company had exercised a reasonable amount of initiative.

In 1920, under the guise of a private act for the city of Victoria, legislation was obtained favoring your company, but prejudicial to the transportation interests of Oak Bay. This act compelled any rival concern to use a terminus at least one and a quarter miles from the city limits, and effectively prevented the operation of a direct bus service between the southeast part of the municipality and Victoria. Oak Bay was not consulted in connection with this legislation, and the municipality was not a consenting party thereto.

In or about 1921, a petition was presented to your company signed by more than 200 residents in the Shoal Bay district asking for an extension of your system. In an interview with some of the petitioners, Mr. Goward stated that it was unlikely the trackage would be extended but that the company was seriously considering the use of trackless trolley cars.

In 1922, your company was approached by Councillor Hayward, on behalf of the Oak Bay Council, regarding an extension of your system to Central Avenue or Shoal Bay district. Mr. Goward stated to Councillor Hayward that the company was unlikely to extend its car line but was considering other means of transportation and would advise the council later. No further advice was sent, and no other means of transportation was provided by your company.

On December 31, 1928, your company was advised that the Oak Bay Council had received a largely signed petition from residents in the area south of Oak Bay Avenue requesting the installation of a bus service. The letter continued in part: "The council therefore would be glad to know whether your company is now prepared to install a bus service in the southern part of Oak Bay to supplement and feed your car services at Foul Bay and Oak Bay." No immediate attention was given to this letter, though interim replies were sent on January 2 and March 22, 1929.

In March, 1929, preliminary proposals were received from three concerns to start a bus service. These included the Blue Line and Mr. Matson's company (the Vancouver Island Coach Lines, Limited). The latter company had already made some informal approaches to the council in 1928.

On April 9, Mr. Goward was invited to meet the Oak Bay Council. On April 10 Mr. Goward met the municipal clerk at the Municipal Hall, and on April 11 met the council. At that time he was aware that other parties were considering the installation of a bus service to Oak Bay. The reeve assured him that the Oak Bay Council wished to co-operate with the B.C. Electric Railway Company in the matter of buses. Mr. Goward stated, however, "We have no idea at present of going into the bus business." Reference was made to the possibility of a bus service by Mr. Matson's company, and Mr. Goward stated he would see them regarding the submission of a proposal to the council. He intimated that your company was prepared to co-operate with Mr. Matson's company if the one and a quarter mile proviso was observed.

On April 17, Mr. Matson's company submitted a definite proposal but withdrew it on May 9, on the alleged ground that the service would not pay by reason of the one and a quarter mile condition.

Your company and the Matson company having refused to operate a bus service, arrangements were then made with the Blue Line (the Veterans' Sightseeing & Transportation Company, Limited). Their service was started in September and the owners have assured the council of their intention to continue operation.

In October your company brought pressure to bear on the City Council to force the Blue Line to change its route in the city. At a meeting on October 30 between representatives of the Blue Line, your company and the council, Mr. Goward declared that his company could not prevent a bus line running to Oak Bay, and continued: "All we want is to get the buses off Fort Street." The Blue Line consented to the change in route, though doubts were expressed as to the right of your company to obtain such a change.

On December 16 your company gave notice of an intention to apply to the courts for the quashing of a by-law passed by the council dealing with motor vehicles plying for hire.

On December 17 your company submitted a proposal to establish a bus service, and makes no mention therein of the existing bus service or the proposed litigation instigated by your company.

In conclusion the council again expresses its regret that your company did not see fit to make its offer at a time it could have been accepted without difficulty.

DISCLOSED AT OAK BAY MEETING

The Reeve assured the electors that the franchise gave them complete protection.

In answer to a question, the Reeve said suspension of transportation would mean, "We should be without service—like a man who has lost his house by fire." In other words, hardship, as great as that suffered by the residents of Saanich when the B.C.E.R. tore up the interurban tracks, would result.

The Blue Line is not talking abandonment. And if the B.C.E.R. stage another "retirement" like Saanich, the Blue Line will gladly serve you then as now.

The B.C.E.R. admitted they were wrong in refusing to consider the petitions of Oak Bay residents. They said Blue Line convenience had disrupted their Oak Bay business, and asked that the door, which they shut and barred, be opened so that they might creep in and oust the Blue Line.

If the Blue Line fail to get a franchise, the B.C.E.R. will doubtless want one before putting buses on the route.

The B.C.E.R. could not run an Oak Bay service as promised at the meeting. They would have to observe the one-and-one-quarter-mile terminus regulation just as the Blue Line do.

The B.C.E.R. have no Oak Bay franchise and the Council have very little control over them. But there would be rigid and complete control over the Blue Line—therein is the electors' protection.

The Council have submitetd the referendum, and the verdict must be pronounced by the electors. But the Council were adamant in refusing the B.C.E.R.'s request for reconsideration, because THAT COMPANY DEFINITELY AND POSITIVELY REPUDIATED ALL OVERTURES—UNTIL BLUE LINE SUCCESS WAS ASSURED.

The company that deserted Saanich, assert their right to discontinue any unprofitable service if and when they wish, and who gave Oak Bay residents a long WALKING MONOPOLY which the Blue Line took away, calls for repudiation on Saturday.

Your council were petitioned to negotiate for a bus service.
The B.C. Electric refused to give it.
The Blue Line responded and is providing satisfactory transportation.
The council's lawyer drafted an agreement satisfactory to the council, and today you are asked to support the considered opinion of a council which was returned to office by acclamation.
And when you vote, compare the attitude of the B.C.E.R. with the Blue Line's proven bus service and their intention to continue it.

Barrage by Bears at N.Y. Results in Further Drop In Prices of Most Stocks

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—Bear traders kept up their barrage on the stock market today, and succeeded in driving the entire list moderately lower, but uncovered few vulnerable spots. They were unable to bring any considerable volume of stock on to the market, and trading slackened moderately, the day's turnover totaling 2,679,470 shares, compared with 3,043,620 yesterday.

The market remains almost entirely professional, although trading has picked up a little during the past three sessions. Bearish operations of the past two days have depressed the price index of ninety leading stocks nearly 3 points, while the gradual rise of the three preceding sessions resulted in a net gain of only about 1 1-2 points.

Credit continued plentiful, call money renewing at 4 1-2 per cent and again dropping to 4.

Heavy selling of the radio, motor and copper shares appeared during the morning, but encountering considerable resistance in most of these shares, speculators for the fall curtailed operations, until the last half-hour, when a drive against the utility and chemicals was launched, which drove several traders long on these stocks to take profits on their recent upturn.

United States Steel, which recently offered its stock to employees at 169, touched 168 3-4, but closed at 169, off 1 1-2. General Motors received powerful support and closed fractionally higher.

Leading foreign exchanges eased further, sterling cables reaching a new low for the month at 4.86 11-16.

Activity in bonds diminished with the approach of the week-end. Prices, however, held up well, giving the list a firm appearance despite the counter attractions available in the form of the recent new offerings.

REACTION IS AGAIN NOTED

Closing Prices at Toronto Mostly Below Opening Quotes With Some Pick-ups Near End of Session

(Stobie, Forlong & Co.)

TORONTO, Jan. 17.—Continuation of yesterday's reactionary price tendency was noted on the Toronto Standard Stock and Mining Exchange today and closing prices in those stocks which traded spectacularly during the recent sessions to new highs were, on most instances, below opening quotes. This price reaction was more or less expected by keen market observers as profits would naturally be taken by traders who had bought when prices were very much below normal.

However, some pickups near the end of the session, it is thought in some quarters, may be the forerunner of another upward movement in certain selectvie issues. Howey Gold was the heaviest trader of the day from a higher opening, but under persistent selling receded to a low of $1.16 before closing at $1.20, a net loss of 3 cents. The Lindsleys also traded actively and shared in the general profit taking movement. Falconbridge Nickel declined to a low of $3.45 before closing at $5.60, down 20 cents from the previous close. Sherritt-Gordon showed recessions of 20 cents. Sudbury Basin was down 34 cents, to close at $4.36. Ventures suffered least from the day's activity, closing unchanged at $3. International Nickel opened 10 cents higher but closed 75 cents down. The gold issues showed their usual steady tone, fluctuating within small price ranges.

The future for gold mining issues is considered very bright. For the most part the majority of stock is under accumulation. International Nickel will contribute importantly to gold production. Early substantial appreciation is anticipated in these and other gold issues.

Oil issues traded in the same manner as the mining issues, opening quotes in most cases were near closing quotes, but declines at the end of today's were noted in practically all issues. A. P. Consolidated closed 31 cents lower. Associated, although one of the strongest traders, was 10 cents down. Baltac 26 down, Commonwealth 20, C. & E. 35, Dalhousie 45, Eastcrest 15, Foothills 35, Home 90, Mayland 50, Southwest Petroleum 30 and Calmont 30 cents down. Trading volume was less than yesterday's and considerably below that of the days when buying was the keynote of trade.

REACTION SEEN IN THE MARKET

Many Issues Show Tendency to Reclimb During Any Relaxation of Pressure

(Branson, Brown & Co., Ltd.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—The market today has been mainly reactionary, starting with the absorption of overnight selling orders which, however, were well taken toward the end of the first hour, when the list began to take on firmer tone. This, however, was maintained but for a comparatively short while, when concerted selling reappeared, originating, it was said, from operators sojourning at Winter resorts. It may be said, however, that the professional selling was not followed by the rank and file of traders, as the volume of trading noticeably slowed down on any severe drive, which is a significant commentary on how well-lodged the great body of stocks are among those who are looking with confidence toward the more distant future.

As it was, there was an observable tendency among many issues to realize during any momentary relaxation of selling pressure. The concessions ranged from 1 to 5 points among the favorites with the less active issues recording fractional fluctuations. In the final hour, a rally occurred, bringing some of the stock close to yesterday's finals, but some fresh selling directed at the leaders during the final few minutes caused them to record a net loss of 2 or 3 points. The rank and file of issues, however, closed with but fractional net losses, if any.

The news budget of the day contained little to directly affect the market, the most outstanding item being that Anaconda was curtailing production further. A feature of the day was the firmness in the motor group, probably the result of covering of short lines put out yesterday, when these stocks were particularly weak. The selling today seems to have been mostly professional and does not seem to have succeeded in dislodging any great amount of stock in the hands of prominent holders. We think this attests the underlying vigor of the market, and we believe adherence to the buying side at this time will prove profitable.

Improvement Not in Sight Says Whitney

(Branson, Brown & Co., Ltd.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—Whitney, of Wall Street, says: The market has again given a technical performance which can only be classified as another market failure, which must be interpreted to mean that no further improvement can be expected until reaction has first rebound from the October-November break, too large a quantity of stock has been found at that level to permit further progress. We are again faced, therefore, with a condition where, for the short swing outlook, technical conditions are going to overwhigh improving fundaments, and therefore for the trader who is interested in the short swing as opposed to the long, there is only one thing to do, and that is to close out long commitments and wait until the technical position of the market again is such that it does not outweigh the improvement in fundamentals.

There are numberless stocks which will not decline in this reaction, in fact, from present indications the most extensive back-up is quite logically to be expected in such groups as are typified by U.S. Steel, American Can and the two groups, coppers and motors, which appear as the still uncertain or weak spots in what is an improving general business or fundamental situation.

Since this is the outlook for the immediate future, common sense procedure calls for closing out long commitments in the average issues if for no other reason than to avoid the possibility of loss during a time when conditions within the market itself operates against any profit being derived from the maintenance of long positions even in sound issues. In other words, those intrinsically sound and intrinsically cheap at prevailing prices, and there are many, will either decline moderately or stand still while the readjustment in the remaining portion of the list is made.

WINNIPEG HAS SMALL PANIC AT THE START

Prices Break Over Four Cents in First Period — Slack Taken Out With Good Buying

(Branson, Brown & Co., Ltd.)

WINNIPEG, Jan. 17. — Wheat: The fact that Liverpool practically followed our break of 3c yesterday, caused a small-sized panic on the Winnipeg market at the opening this morning, with practically every one selling wheat with plenty of stop loss selling, and prices broke over 4c over the first period. On the sharp decline, the market met some good buying from seaboard houses, and while the business was not large, the slack was taken out of the pit and the heavy selling dried up when it was seen that Chicago was holding firmer than Winnipeg. Later in the day, there was considerable short covering, which resulted in a good upturn, all of earlier loss being regained.

Export business was insignificant overnight and was confined to a few scattered lots in a small way. The cash market was featureless, with only an add car trading as usual. There was some improvement in spreads on certain grades early, which partially offset the decline in the futures market, but these eased off later and closed practically unchanged.

New York estimated that 600,000 bushels of wheat was worked on the break, largely Manitobas. Despite the heavy loss in wheat prices recently the situation does not look strong. Upturns are to be expected, but the general trend is expected to be lower unless foreign demand develops on a broad basis.

Coarse Grains: These markets suffered extreme losses during the first part of the day, oats breaking 5 1-2c, barley 8 1-2c, the May future actually getting 3c under May oats, while rye broke 7 1-4c to 9c, with general stop loss selling in evidence. A fair recovery was made later, but all markets closed weak, the demand being poor and the cash demand generally dull.

Flax: This market held steady, compared with other markets, with the same pressure not in evidence, but trade very light, with crushers showing no interest.

BROKER LOANS UP $13,000,000

(Branson, Brown & Co., Ltd.)

Brokers' loans increased $1,000,000 in the week ended Wednesday, according to the weekly report yesterday of the Federal Rserve. The total now stands at $3,365,000,000.

The Chilian Senate approved yesterday a new fifty-year concession authorizing the Chile Telephone Company, associated with the International Telephone & Telegraph Company, to penetrate with its own lines to every region of the country and to connect with systems operating in all other nations. The new concession applies both to land line and radio telephone business.

Banking officials interested in the financing of the short term obligations of the Fox Film Company, and the Fox Theatre Corporation through holding of claims, said that they had not been consulted in connection with the Fox Security Corporation's plans for funding $35,000,000 of the obligations. They said, however, that if the plan were successful it would clear away many of the pressing obligations, but that much more than the $35,000,000 announced as the objective of the new securities corporation would be needed entirely to fund the short term commitments of the Fox interests.

The time-honored method of cutting prices to get rid of surplus inventories has come back to the oil industry, at least temporarily, after trial of the new plan of conservation or cutting supply to fit demand. For this reason investors in oil stock will watch carefully those companies which in the next few months adapt their operations to conditions. Despite the low price levels of crude and gasoline, some companies will make money, while it is inevitable that others will suffer and record smaller profits. Well-managed oil corporations foresaw months ago that the industry was committing hari-kari by its mad rush to get oil out of the ground before it was actually required, and have made provision for the fact by letting competitors produce at a loss while they reduced their own operations and banked resources for the future. It is such companies which will emerge from the current condition of disorganized price in the best financial condition.

Manufacturing a varied line of cigars, the success of this company over a long period of years indicates the energy and wisdom of management, in the final analysis the most solid basis of successful industrial investment. Since early in 1928 the company has bought in and retired more than one-third of the preferred stock issue of $1,000,000, and 1929 earnings are indicated at around $5.00 per common share outstanding. A strong sales organization promises an exceptionally bright future for the company.

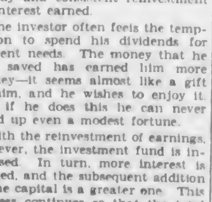
Money at Work

Earning - Saving - Investing



It will not increase if you do not reinvest it.

Reinvestment of earned interest is the secret of increasing your capital.

There is no magic formula by which capital can be made to increase. The only way to build up your investment fund is by the steady and consistent reinvestment of interest earned.

The investor often feels the temptation to spend his dividends for current needs. The money that he has saved has earned him more money—it seems almost like a gift to him, and he wishes to enjoy it. But if he does this he can never build up even a modest fortune.

With the reinvestment of earnings, however, the investment fund is increased. In turn, more interest is earned, and the subsequent addition to the capital is a greater one. This process continues so that the total investment fund will grow with surprising rapidity through reinvestment of the income it produces.

Profit Taking in Oils Causes Reaction in Values and Prices Drop to Lower Levels

EARLY LOSSES ARE FAIRLY REGAINED

VANCOUVER, Jan. 17. — Profit taking in the oils sent prices downward again today on the Stock Exchange, but late support coming out cut down the losses considerably; but the general list recorded losses ranging from a few cents to $7. The mines were in better demand and displayed moderate strength all day.

Dalhousie, after touching $2.25, came back to close at $2.43, down 37 cents; while Calmont, another heavy trader, lost 28 cents at $2.01 A.P.C. was off 33 cents at $2.02; Mayland eased 25 cents at $2.25, and McLeod dropped back 30 cents at $4.35. Home Oil, on sales of 800 shares, lost 5 cents at $9.40. Royalite closed $7 lower at $57. Southwest Pete and Spooner lost 17 and 13 cents respectively.

Snowflake was the big trader in the mines, touching a high of 26, and closing unchanged at 20. Big Missouri gained 6 cents at 91; Pend Oreille 18 cents at $4.75, and Reeves 3 cents at $1.60.

CONSTRUCTION PROGRESSING

FIND GOOD ORE IN SHAFT AT NORANDA

(Solloway, Mills & Co., Ltd.)

TORONTO, Jan. 17.—Ontario Refining Company's construction programme at the new copper refinery at Copper Cliff is progressing well up to schedule, and it is expected now that part of the plant will be ready for operation in June or July. It will be nearly Fall, however, before the entire refinery is running.

It is understood designs are now under way for a special refinery unit to treat the slimes containing the precious metals precipitates from the electrolytic refining of Inco blister copper. The new building will be about 150 feet square and will be located east of the electrolytic refinery. Steel work on the various buildings comprising the plant is now about 75 per cent completed, and 300 of the 1,200 sectional concrete tanks are in place.

Kirkland Lake Gold has now drilled on the veins struck some time ago on the 375-foot level for a distance of seventy-five feet and the total length of the drift has been all in high grade ore.

Harvey Kirkland has closed down operations and the report at Kirkland Lake is that they are going to diamond drill.

Granada has started hauling in sand and gravel for its new mill, which may be designed along the lines of the new mill which McIntyre will shortly start on.

The new No. 4 shaft of Noranda has reached a depth of 1,500 feet. Some very good ore was encountered in the bottom of the shaft.

Falconbridge's second deep drill hole, which encountered water around 1,800 feet, is reported to have passed into a heavily schisted section around the 2,000-foot horizon.

Details of Big Missouri developments will be given shareholders in the annual report which is yet to be printed and should reach shareholders within the next thirty days.

Anticipating the time when new finances will assure its reopening McMillan Mine at West River, which has been closed down since last November, is being kept pumped out. It is expected that in course of time sufficient funds will be provided to guarantee resuming operation.

The Monarch property of Big Missouri in Nevada is about ready to go into production and higher returns are expected from these operations.

WESTERN ALBERTA MAKING BIG TEST

(Stobie, Forlong & Co.)

CALGARY, Jan. 17. — Entering what is believed to be the poker chip formation, Western Alberta, the potential discovery well of the Highwood structure, now ranks as one of the most important tests in the history of Alberta's petroleum industry. This well on Wednesday was drilling with the latest type of rotary equipment at 2,904 feet. While there are no neighboring wells with which its log can be related, it is expected that Western Alberta will experience drilling conditions similar to typical Turner Valley wells. Should such hold, the well will be in the lime at about 3,150 feet. Production is expected soon after drilling into the limestone has started. Production at Western Alberta will not only greatly enhance the value of the company's 960 acres on the Highwood structure, but will also be extremely important to Nordon Corporation, which holds large leases in this vicinity. Drilling of Western Alberta is being done by Pat Adams, driller of Meriand, the most southerly producer in Turner Valley, and is being supervised by the Nordon Corporation.

BANK REPORTS ARE ENCOURAGING

President and General Manager of Bank of Toronto Discuss Financial Status

TORONTO, Jan. 17.—Mr. W. G. Gooderham, president of the Bank of Toronto, in his remarks to shareholders at the seventy-fourth annual meeting of the bank held here Wednesday referred first of all to the increase in the bank's rest account, which is now $9,000,000, or 150 per cent of the paid-up capital. Mr. Gooderham then discussed briefly the business position and outlook in Canada. "We are clearly in a readjustment period of some importance at the present time, but so far confined chiefly to the stock markets," he said. "Fortunately there has been no speculation in commodities, and there are few excessive inventories to liquidate. We have reason, therefore, to look forward to at least a fair turnover in manufactured goods at steady prices, and normal employment for workers."

SAVINGS UNAFFECTED

The general manager, Mr. H. B. Henwood, referred to the all-around growth of the bank's business during the year. The increase in reserve, he pointed out, now gave the shares a book value of $250, or slightly above their present market quotation. Of the total liabilities to the public, 45.79 per cent are represented by assets which are liquid. Bank premises account had been increased through purchase of properties in Montreal, Toronto and Victoria; thirteen new branch offices were opened during the year. Premises are included in the statement at not more than 50 per cent of their cost.

EMPIRE TRADE

Mr. Henwood referred to Empire trade, and to the study undertaken through the Canadian Chamber of Commerce. He said: "Each and every component part of the British Empire must determine always what tariffs or trade arrangements are best calculated to safeguard their industries and thus promote the comfort of their workers. It remains to be seen whether any system of preference can be devised without detriment to any particular part of the Empire, which will bring about a greater volume of Empire trade.

The general manager concluded with a reference to his visits during the year, among the branches and customers of the bank, and to the expressions of good will toward the bank. He paid tribute to the loyalty of the staff, which now numbers over 1,300.

DOMINION BANK SHOWS ADVANCE

Profits, Commercial Loans and Total Assets Are at New Record Figures — Deposits Well Maintained

STRONG LIQUID POSITION SHOWN

The fifty-ninth annual statement of the Dominion Bank for the year ended December 31, 1929, which has just been mailed to the shareholders, shows new record figures of profits, commercial loans and total assets. Net earnings of $1,522,000 were the highest in the bank's history, showing an increase over 1928 of $115,000, and representing 22.40 per cent on the average paid-up capital.

After payment of the usual dividend and bonus totaling $885,000, the sum of $185,000 was provided for taxation, a contribution of $50,000 made to the officers' pension fund, $300,000 written off on bank premises account—$50,000 more than the previous year—and $102,000 added to profit and loss account, leaving a balance to be carried forward of $374,000.

Deposits at date December 31 were $113,352,000, as compared with $115,341,000 a year ago.

Current loans in Canada $73,690,000 have expanded $11,025,000, an indication of the bank's continued active participation in the development of the country.

The statement shows cash assets at $26,852,000 and immediately available assets of $67,774,000, these figures representing respectively 20.27 per cent and 51.15 per cent of liabilities to public—an exceptionally strong liquid position.

During the year the pair-up capital and reserve fund were each increased by $1,000,000 and the total shareholders' investment is now $16,367,000.

The total assets reach a new high record of $154,181,000.

The annual meeting of the shareholders will be held at the head office in the city of Toronto on Wednesday, January 29.

KE KNEW IT

They entered the paneled hall, and the rich manufacturer pointed to its magnificent appointments.

"See," he said, "I chose every piece myself."

The visitor was duly impressed Suddenly he caught sight of a magnificent picture and started perceptibly.

"Ah," remarked the other, pointing to the distinguished cavalier that stared haughtily down at them from his gilded frame, "that is one of my ancestors."

"And he was very nearly one of mine," returned the visitor. "I bid up to five hundred pounds for him myself."

FINANCING OF PAPER CONCERN

Royal Financial Corporation Handles Issue of Westminster Paper Company

Contract has been closed with the Royal Financial Corporation for the purchase from the Westminster Paper Company, Limited, of $300,000 6.5 per cent twenty-year bonds with interest guaranteed by the city of New Westminster. As soon as legal opinion and other arrangements have been completed, these bonds will be offered for public subscription.

The Royal Financial Corporation has also agreed to distribute a certain block of common stock of the Westminster Paper Company, Limited, in conjunction with a number of brokers in Vancouver, New Westminster and Victoria. The common stock of the Westminster Paper Company has paid handsome dividends since the inception of the company and it is anticipated that this stock will be picked up very rapidly.

The company is now constructing its new plant which, when completed, will cost in the neighborhood of $700,000 and is expected to be in production by about April 1. The plant when completed will be one of the most modern plants of its kind in the Dominion.

C.P.R. EARNINGS

MONTREAL, Jan. 17. — Traffic earnings of the Canadian Pacific Railway for the week ending January 14 were $3,575,000, as compared with $3,436,000 for the corresponding week last year, a decrease of $861,000.

SUGAR MARKET

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—Raw sugar was quiet early today, but the undertone was easier with offerings more liberal and at fractionally lower prices. Store sugars were available at 3.71, while duty free for January and February shipments were offered at 3.74 with buyers showing interest. Refined was unchanged with a fair withdrawal demand but no new business. Prices were listed at 5.20 by all refiners, but second-hands were available at 5.07 1-2.

Farmer Brown's Boy Becomes Suspicious

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

On trifles doth suspicion feed,
And seeks them with untiring greed.
—Old Mother Nature.

It was a week or two after Chatterer the Red Squirrel had found a way of getting into the corncrib that Farmer Brown's Boy began to suspect that someone who shouldn't was paying that cornerib a visit. You see, every day Farmer Brown's Boy went there for corn for the hens; and one morning he noticed that there was a corncob lying in one corner. All the corn was off the cob. He hadn't shelled any corn in the corncrib and he wondered how that bare corncob happened to be there.

But he was busy and he soon after forgot it. Probably he wouldn't have thought of it again had he not discovered another bare corncob a day or two later. Then he started to look about and presently he found an ear from which half the corn had been taken.

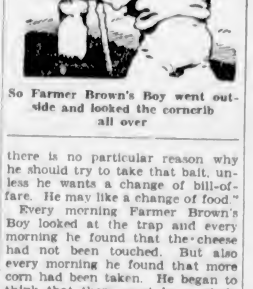
"It must be that mice are in here," said Farmer Brown's Boy. "I don't see how under the sun they could have found a way in, but they must be here. I'll have a look around outside."

So Farmer Brown's Boy went outside and looked the corncrib all over. He even crept underneath it to see if there were any holes in the floor. He made a very thorough search, but of course he found no holes and he could discover no way in which a mouse could possibly have made its way inside. He sat down on the steps and scratched his head thoughtfully. This was a real puzzle.

"There is only one way I can account for this," he said. "It must be that when we brought the corn up from the cornfield a mouse was hidden in the corn and so we brought it up. No mouse could possibly get into this corncrib from outside. That means that the mouse must be living here. I guess I'll have to get a trap."

So Farmer Brown's Boy went over to the barn and got a mousetrap. Then he went into the house and got a bit of cheese to bait the trap. It was a spring trap—the kind that kills its victim instantly. He placed it down in a corner where he had found the corncob.

"I suppose it will be pure luck if I catch him," thought Farmer Brown's Boy. "With all this corn there is no particular reason why he should try to take that bait, unless he wants a change of bill-of-fare. He may like a change of food."



So Farmer Brown's Boy went outside and looked the corncrib all over

Every morning Farmer Brown's Boy looked at the trap and every morning he found that the cheese had not been touched. But also every morning he found that more corn had been taken. He began to think that there must be a whole family of mice there. Of course, the amount of corn wasn't much compared with all the corn there was in that corncrib and Farmer Brown's Boy didn't worry at all over the loss. Still, he wanted to catch that mouse, for he knew a lot about mice and he knew that a mouse family is likely to grow very rapidly. What one mouse might have taken wouldn't be very much; but what a lot of mice might take would be serious. So it was wise to catch that mouse.

He tried different kinds of bait. Still none of it was touched. He began to suspect that that was a very wise mouse indeed, or else that it liked corn so well that other food was no temptation. Finally, he got two or three more traps and set them around in different places. He hoped that that mouse might accidentally step in one. But no mouse did.

Our proposition is sold on a money-back guarantee, with a unique new selling plan and complete personal co-operation. Big sample kit FREE. Better write at once for exclusive territory. Goodwear Clothes Reg'd, Dept. 35, 979 Clarke St., Montreal.

USE OUR MILLIONS TO GET MORE money. Rawleigh's giant industries now expanding; must have more good men in cities and towns. Immense resources, over $17,000,000; established forty years. Four big factories and seven branches, Canada, Australia and United States; annual sales over 36,000,000, no similar industry as big. Hustlers earning $150 to $400 every month; big pay every day. No experience or capital required; everything supplied. World's biggest market; retail nearly 200 products, need daily every home; steady repeaters. Big profits, lowest prices; best values. Food, soap, toilet preparations, stock, poultry supplies, four big lines. You can't beat Rawleigh's proposition. Investigate—then decide. Rawleigh Company, Dept. CN-137-I, Winnipeg, Man.

WORKERS ONLY — IF YOU ARE earnest, ambitious and a worker, there is a place for you in the third largest industry in Canada, with one of the biggest and most successful firms in the line. You will be your own boss and work in your own community, among your own people. You will grow month by month, year by year, and your earnings will grow with you. Write today and tell us about yourself. What you have done, and what your hopes are. If you are the type of man we want, we will train you and teach you. We will set you up in business for yourself and equip you with a stock of goods of your own without the investment of a single cent. Apply Mr. Ed Hopkins, Dept. 75, Box 834, Montreal.

SEMI-BUNGALOW
SPLENDID ELEVATION
VIEW OF THE OLYMPICS, Sooke Hills and surrounding country can be obtained from this attractive and well-planned house. The entrance hall, large living-room and dining-room have HARDWOOD FLOORS. There are two good-sized bedrooms and bathroom on the main floor, and provision has also been made for two more rooms upstairs at slight extra cost. The kitchen has all modern built-in effects and is very bright and cosy. There is a full-size cement basement, laundry tubs and hot-air furnace, also good garage. This is a NEW HOUSE, in the best residential locality of the Oak Bay Municipality, and can be sold on very reasonable terms. If you are looking for a BRIGHT, SUNNY HOUSE, with a good view, not far from car line and accessible to good beach, no better value can be obtained at (on terms)
$5500

NOTE—We strongly recommend inspection of this property at an early date. The adjoining house was sold by us yesterday, and the above, of similar design and construction, offers exceptionally good value. Either two or four bedrooms, according to your requirements. OF INTEREST TO PARTICULAR BUYERS
OWNERS LEAVING FOR EUROPE

OAK BAY, CLOSE TO UPLANDS GOLF CLUB—Nearly new stucco home, containing, on ground floor: Living-room with French doors leading into dining-room, kitchen with practically every built-in feature required, two good bedrooms (one of which could be used as a den); three-piece bathroom. UPSTAIRS: Two good bedrooms and small boxroom. Full cement basement, furnace and garage.

This property is particularly well built and will stand any builder's close inspection. A rather unusual feature is a very pleasant sun parlor running along the south and west sides of the house. There are three splendid lots studded with oak trees, etc., kitchen garden, lawns, choice rose bushes and small chicken house. Property is surrounded by good-class homes costing from $6,000 to $15,000, is nicely fenced and has good cement sidewalks. Electric light, city water; Oak Bay taxes and only about three minutes' walk from street car. The furniture, containing many choice pieces, was mostly imported from the old country and can be purchased with property at a reasonable figure. To one desiring a real home, where seclusion can be enjoyed and yet be not too far from the city, this place would be sure to appeal. The owner is shortly leaving for England and, to make a quick sale, has instructed us to sell at a price of ONLY $7,000 for house and grounds. Furniture extra. Phone for appointment to view. Exclusive.

CLOSE TO QUADRA AND FINLAYSON STREETS—Comfortable bungalow containing double dining and sitting-room, three bedrooms, kitchen, small basement, workshop, etc. Two splendid lots with many full-bearing fruit trees. The location is high and glorious views may be had of the Olympic Range, etc. Quite close to public school, Quadra Street bus and street car. House is in good condition, having recently been reshingled and redecorated. The owner is about to leave for Europe and instructs us to cut the price from $4,000 to $3,150 or near offer. Let us show you this.

Woman's Auxiliary Of West Coast Hospital Elects

PORT ALBERNI, Jan. 17.—Mrs. F. Vradenburg was elected to the presidency of the Women's Auxiliary of the West Coast Hospital at the annual meeting of the organization, held on Friday afternoon last at the United Church Hall, with the retiring president, Mrs. Fred Weaver, in the chair. Gratifying reports were submitted by the various conveners of the committees. Mrs. D. R. Kelly, treasurer, reported that receipts for the year amounted to $1,196. Disbursements were $892, with a balance of $304 to carry forward to 1930. This organization is but small numerically and the results of the year's achievements reflect considerable credit on the band of loyal women who have worked consistently and persistently for the West Coast Hospital.

While a certain portion of the funds has been in the form of donations, the greater part of the receipts has accrued from social activities on the part of the organization.

Other officers elected were: Vice-president, Mrs. Fred Weaver; secretary, Mrs. H. P. Strain; treasurer, Mrs. D. R. Kelly; representative on the board of directors of the hospital, Mrs. H. Bradley; executive committee, Mrs. C. A. Manning, Mrs. W. Saunders and Mrs. Sinclair.

TWO ADDRESSES AT REST HAVEN

DEEP COVE, Jan. 17.—Mr. H. A. Pendray, of Victoria, delighted the Rest Haven Sanitarium staff and guests with an interesting lecture, illustrated by motion pictures, covering a portion of his recent tour through Great Britain and the Continent of Europe.

The pictures, all of which were taken by the lecturer, were very clear and full of life. Scenes in London were particularly good, splendid portraits of the King and Queen enjoying an outing at Braemar, were among those projected. Mr. and Mrs. Pendray are the guests of Rest Haven.

Mr. Dubuis, of Tacoma, Wash., who has recently arrived from Switzerland, gave a much-appreciated lecture, showing some excellent slides, depicting striking events pertaining to the French Revolution and other scenes in French history.

Service will be held in St. John's Church, Colwood, on Sunday at 11 a.m.

COMES NEAREST TO MISSING LINK

Man of Peiping, Who Lived Some Million Years Ago, is Now a Fossil

PEIPING, Jan. 17.—A million years ago Peiping was the home of the nearest approach to the missing link between ape and man so far revealed to science.

This is the opinion of a group of scientists who have been working for a year or two upon fossilized human remains found in an old limestone bed within a few miles of Peiping.

In their view it is the most significant discovery of the kind yet made, even overshadowing in importance such notable finds as the famous "Piltdown man," unearthed in England in 1912, and the so-called "Java ape man," found by the Dutch surgeon Dubois in 1891.

It has been definitely established that the "Peiping man" was more primitive than any hitherto known genus of the strictly human line, but was definitely human, though not of the genus homo to which we of today belong.

According to Dr. Davidson Black, this creature had a well-developed skull, revealing a brain of good size, and his teeth were definitely human, even though his jaw was of characteristic ape formation. Compared with the "Java ape man," he was distinctly more advanced—which in Dr. Davidson Black's opinion confirms the view that the "Java ape man" was an offshoot from the main human line who wandered off south and lost touch with the parent stock, rather than an intermediate link between anthropoid ape and man.

Undoubtedly, in the opinion of Dr. Grabau, this is "the most important find of early human remains yet made. The 'Peiping man' is more entitled to be regarded as the 'missing link' than anything previously found."

Past Year Most Prosperous In History of the Dominion

With Reduced Debt and New High Industry Levels Canada Enters Another Period of Progress Despite Unfavorable Trade Balance

By A. O. O'HALLORAN
(Special to The Colonist. Copyright, 1930.)

Starting out with the wheels of commerce turning over at capacity, with only a slight seasonal slowing down on end, 1929 was a good year and the outlook for 1930 is for a period almost as good.

Reduction in the Dominion's net debt and in Federal taxation; a surplus, the highest on record, by the Province of Ontario; new high levels for construction, manufacturing, production and increased profit from most branches of industry; aggressive development of natural resources and improvement in unemployment and a period free of serious labor troubles are a few highlights of 1929.

The year, however, was not without its drawbacks, but the unfavorable factors were mostly temporary and not expected to have any permanent effect on the nation's business.

A smaller wheat yield in the Prairie Provinces and the withholding of a big portion of the crop from market brought a retrenchment in business in the West and was largely responsible for an unfavorable trade balance, the discount at which the Canadian dollar is quoted in New York and a falling off in the gross revenues of the Canadian railroads and steamship companies.

The drastic break in security prices was another of the bad features, but, as this was not preceded by price inflation and over-extension of business, as were declines in preceding years, the after effect should be more or less negligible on the general business of the country. A reaction in security prices was long overdue, and with the feverish speculation at an end attention can be paid to more useful occupations.

TOTAL TRADE INCREASES

Canada's total trade to the end of October was valued at $2,105,000,000, as compared with $2,091,228,418 for the corresponding period of 1928. Imports increased by $81,000,000, but exports in the same period declined by $66,000,000, and the favorable trade balance of approximately $42,000,000 in 1928 was changed to an unfavorable balance of $105,000,000 in the corresponding months of 1929. Exports of newsprint, motor vehicles, and other key products showed substantial increase, but the extent to which the holding back of wheat affected foreign trade is indicated by the fact there was a falling off in wheat exports of over 68,000,000 bushels in the period under review.

The outlook for trade for 1930 is much brighter. The carry over from 1929 will be added to exports for 1930. Improvement in the economic position of many European countries and the easing of credit in New York, meeting with a withdrawal of funds to the Old Country, should improve the purchasing power of the Old World. The United States stimulated foreign trade through dollar loans in 1929, but for the time being investors are not looking favorably upon foreign securities and Canada should be able to compete on a much more favorable basis in the new year.

MOST PROSPEROUS YEAR

An extensive campaign for the development of the mineral resources of the Dominion was carried out during the year and many millions of dollars added to the wealth of the nation by successful operations. From the Atlantic to the Pacific Coast mining prospects are under development and properties are being brought from the prospect stage to the circle of actual producers. Great strides have been made in uncovering deposits of base metals and the known reserves warrant the construction of refineries in the Dominion. Already plans have been made for the building of two copper refineries in the East and a third in the West.

Prospecting has been carried on extensively and Canada's mineral belt enlarged. Mineral properties are under development in practically all provinces. The older mines of Ontario are still going strong; Quebec is shaping up as a large potential producer; Northern Manitoba and Saskatchewan have contributed the Flin Flon and Sherritt-Gordon. Both should reach production toward the end of 1930; British Columbia established a new high record for mineral production and there has been a distinct revival of interest in the mineral resources of the Maritime Provinces.

Drilling of wells in the Turner Valley fields of Alberta was accompanied by a good deal of success and substantial increases in production of crude oil and naphtha.

PROSPERITY IN INDICES

All indices give evidence of the healthy position of the Dominion. Total value of building permits for the first eleven months of the year was $226,152,532, an increase of over $17,000,000 above the total for the same period of 1928, the previous high record of this ten years' record. The index value of 196.3 compared with 181 in 1928 and 154.1 in 1927.

The Dominion Bureau's index of employment for the month of October was 125.6, contrasted with 118.8 for October, 1928.

The high level at which manufacturing operations were carried on is indicated by increased commercial loans, larger output of electric power and increased production as reported by many industries.

Production of newsprint by Canadian mills aggregated 2,495,628 tons in the first eleven months, as against 2,173,498 tons in 1928. The rate of operations was 85.4 per cent. of capacity contrasted with 81.8 per cent in 1928. In the month of November the rate of operations was 91.2 per cent, the best for the past two years. Negotiations for an increase in the price of newsprint were held in the latter months of the year, but from all appearances this increase will be delayed until the latter half of 1930.

Pig iron and steel production showed a seasonal decline in the month of November but the year's cumulative totals are well in excess of 1928. For the first ten months of the year the output of pig iron amounted to 921,094 tons, an increase from 838,659 tons, and steel to 1,203,625 tons against 1,025,697 in the same months of 1928.

Railway earnings and car loading were lower, but, as said before, this can be attributed to the fact that the wheat remains in storage. In the early months of 1929 the two Canadian roads experienced substantial improvement in earnings, but the ground gained was lost in the late months. Cumulative earnings for the two systems to December 7 were $448,474,856 against $459,298,371 in the preceding year.

Car loadings to December 7 dropped from 3,518,312 to 3,370,535 cars, but this in no way suggests weakness in the industrial structure, as car loadings of manufactured products increased with the drop in wheat accounting for the entire decline.

Profits enjoyed by Canadian corporations were well above the previous year. A compilation of nearly seventy corporations reporting to their shareholders for the 1928-1929 fiscal year indicates an increase of 21.5 per cent. Of the total seventy companies only six reported earnings lower than in the 1927-1928 period. The group comprises financial institutions, public utilities and a wide range of corporations representative of all classes of industry, and improvement in profit was general throughout.

The year was marked by increased dividend disbursements, initial payments and bonuses and extras and total payments to shareholders of Canadian companies for the year were the highest in the history of the Dominion.

Season slowing down of industrial operations that appeared in the final months of 1929 is expected to continue throughout the Winter months of 1930. At present there are signs of a falling off in business in many lines, and this condition will continue for a few months with possibly some improvement around the third or fourth month of the new year. Taking all barometers, the forthcoming year should be a good one for the Dominion, and there is no reason to look for a serious depression in trade in 1930.

STRESSES NEED OF YOUNGER BLOOD

Hon. W. Chisholm, Leader of Provincial Opposition, Draws Lesson From West

HALIFAX, N.S., Jan. 16.—An appeal for participation of youth in public affairs was made in a New Year's message by Hon. William Chisholm, K.C., leader of the Liberal Opposition in the Nova Scotia House of Assembly. He attributed the political and economical success of Western Canada to the predominance of young men in public life, and stressed that politics was "not a sordid nor undignified occupation, but is among the most honorable of all avocations."

The message was as follows:

"There is one wish I have for Nova Scotia as the new year approaches. It has to do with public affairs, or as we sometimes say, public life. I hope that this year will see the youth of Nova Scotia becoming more and more interested in public affairs and political questions. Too long has the burden of politics been left to the older men of this province. The time has arrived when we need in Nova Scotia to a far greater extent than has been the case in the past, a more youthful vision. We want and need the young brains of Nova Scotia to tackle the problems facing our public life. I look at Western Canada and I find that the vital thing in their success politically and economically has been the predominance of young men in the public life of those provinces. What I desire most of all is to see our young men and women give a more intensive study to provincial and national problems; to realize that, after all, politics is the business of the people; that politics lowers or increases our taxes, keeps peace or makes war; that politics is not a sordid nor undignified occupation, but is among the most honorable of all avocations. Young men and women, Nova Scotia needs your vigor, your energy, your foresight, your enthusiasm, and your loyalty today more than ever.

"So it is in 1930 I want to see young men and women of this province openly and actively identified with public life, intensively and assiduously devoting some of their surplus time and energy to the problems which face this country. Upon the youth of Nova Scotia will depend very largely our future prosperity and progress. Now is the time to enlist these young men and women in the public service. If we can in this new year, about to enter, bring to our public affairs the attention and ability of our young men and women, I vision an enlarged field of endeavor which they will find attractive, and in which they will have a splendid opportunity to render signal public service."

Sternwheeler N. R. Lang and Rescue Vessel Ione Become Locked in Frozen Columbia River

VALUABLE CARGO OF PAPER IS TIED UP

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 17.—Tugboats and river steamers today ploughed through ice in the Columbia River, east of Vancouver, Wash., in an effort to free the icebound sternwheel steamer N. R. Lang, of the Western Transportation Company, and the steamer Ione.

The N. R. Lang is loaded with a $30,000 cargo of paper en route from Camas, Wash., to Portalnd. The Ione was sent to the aid of the Lang, but she also became fast in the ice.

QUARANTINE HOURS

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 17. — Steamship companies having ships subject to Government inspection almost unanimously favor lengthening the hours for such inspection from, as at present, sunrise to sunset, to 5 a.m. to 11 p.m., the hours now in force in New York harbor.

A total of 15,721 passengers were brought into San Francisco harbor during the first nine months of 1929. They came on 1,017 ships. On sixty-eight occasions companies reported they were inconvenienced by inability to obtain inspection after sundown.

The next step will be to secure Government consent to the increased hours. Government inspection services involves customs, plant quarantine, medical quarantine and immigration. The customs department is willing to provide service up to 11 p.m. The other federal branches are short-handed and offer a problem.

Steamship companies believe that they would effect considerable operating economy if they were able to dock their ships at night in order to commence unloading early in the morning instead of dropping anchor in the stream pending inspection at sunrise, as is now necessary.

Radiograms received prior to appearance of the vessel said she had sunk with only the captain and a sub-officer aboard, the crew having abandoned her after the collision.

SEEK VANCOUVER AIR MAIL ROUTE OUT OF VICTORIA

Headed by Mr. Ernest F. Marshall, Messrs. W. W. Martin, E. Giroux and E. J. Browning have been instructed by the Junior Chamber of Commerce to ascertain why postal authorities have frowned upon resumption of air mail service to Vancouver, pioneered by the late B.C. Airways in 1928.

An air route from Vancouver to Seattle has existed for some time and the Junior Chamber of Commerce feels that Victoria is being denied her rights in not being allowed to link up with Coast cities.

If a permit is granted to the local seaplane company, there is a strong possibility that a stop will be made daily at Ganges on the morning trip from Vancouver.

MANHATTEN MAKES TRIP WITH FOOD

LONG BEACH, Jan. 17.—Owing to the extreme weather conditions the Manhatten made a trip from Ucluelet to Long Beach with supplies for the settlers. The Manhatten made a landing in the outside coast at Nesawesta as the inlets are frozen over.

Trappers report the trapping exceptionally good in the Ucluelet district owing to the cold weather. An unusual number of skins have been taken already in the vicinity consisting of mink, coon and marten.

UCLUELET HARBOR IS FROZEN OVER

UCLUELET, Jan. 17.—The Ucluelet harbor has been frozen over for several days. The fishermen have had considerable difficulty in getting their boats in and out, and many of the Japanese fishing fleet that are stationed in Ucluelet were damaged by trying to move them in the ice. The cod fishing is in full sway, and the boats that were able to get out all returned with good catches. This is the first time in some years that the harbor has been frozen from end to end.

SS. TOYAMA MARU

Bound for Victoria, the Nippon Yusen Kaisha freighter Toyama Maru sailed from Yokohama on January 12 and is due here on January 26, according to Mr. Alfred H. Hebb, agent. For discharge the ship has 152 tons of cargo, forty-five bales of raw silk and seven cases of silk goods.

Outbound for the Orient, the N.Y.K. liner Yokohama Maru is expected at Rithet piers from Seattle at 4 o'clock on the afternoon of January 25.

The steamer Mayfair has been sold by the Chas. Nelson Company to the South Coast Steamship Company. The vessel is a wooden craft of 420 tons net register; she was built at Aberdeen, Wash., and was launched in 1906, being 173.9 feet long, 38 feet wide and 12 feet deep.

BRITISH CRAFT LOADS IN PORT

MS. BONNINGTON COURT IS ON MAIDEN VOYAGE FROM GLASGOW

Expected to Leave Ogden Point This Evening for Melbourne, Australia

In commande of Capt. Robert Rooks, the United British Steamship Company's Ms. Bonnington Court, now loading 800,000 feet of lumber for Melbourne, is expected to leave port some time this evening, according to King Brothers, shipping agents.

Captain Rooks was here in 1902 aboard Ss. Crusader with a cargo of sugar from Java for Vancouver. While his vessel was in the old Esquimalt drydock for cleaning and painting, he recalled watching drill aboard H.M.S. Condor, which was lost with all hands off Cape Flattery the same year. As far as is known no wreckage or bodies were ever recovered from the ill-fated war craft. The captain was last in these waters two years ago aboard Ss. Kensington Court, bound for Vancouver to load grain.

Built at Port Glasgow by Robert Duncan & Company, the Bonnington Court left Greenock on November 5, 1929, later proceeding to Antwerp to load cement klinker. From Antwerp she called at San Pedro, Port Alberni, New Westminster, Vancouver and Chemainus, loading lumber at the British Columbia ports for Australia.

A shelter deck type vessel, the Bonnington Court is powered by a Burmeister & Wain Diesel engine, giving her a loaded speed of eleven knots. She is 420 feet long, 56 feet in beam, 28 feet deep, 4,909 tons gross, and 3,012 tons net.

Equipped with a direction finder and modern wireless apparatus, the vessel has four holds, eleven steam-driven winches and an oil capacity of 932 tons.

Two steam boilers furnish power for the winches, auxiliary machinery and generators, and are fitted with oil burners for use when the main engine is stopped. By means of patented equipment, exhaust gases from the Diesel engine raise steam in the boilers when the Bonnington Court is at sea. She is the first freighter to arrive here with the new invention.

Mr. D. Evans is first mate on the vessel; Mr. A. Irwing, second mate; Mr. C. Wray, third mate, and Mr. W. Bell chief engineer.

The Bonnington Court is owned by Haldin & Phillips, Limited, of London, who run twenty-six vessels under the name of the United British Steamship Company, formerly the Court Line. During the past two years the company has acquired fourteen new and modern vessels.

Ice on Skeena River Hampers Navigation

PRINCE RUPERT, Jan. 17.—There is more ice in the Skeena River near its mouth now than there has been for several years, navigators report. Some of the ice sheets are of tremendous size, varying in thickness from ten inches to almost ten feet where it has piled up, and during the past week it was impossible to get higher up than Port Essington, the ice extending the full width of the river.

The Ecstall River, near its mouth, is completely frozen over, the ice going up and down with the tides. Even the slough is full of ice above Inverness. The condition, indeed, is somewhat unusual and has been accentuated by the cold snap of the past week.

Edward Luckenbach Is Resting Easily

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 17.—The Luckenbach Steamship Company's Ss. Edward Luckenbach, which went ashore on January 10, near Black Island Light, Newport, R.I., is resting easy and in no immediate danger, according to advices received here.

The vessel, it was stated, had water in Nos. 1 and 2 holds, but none in 3 and 4 holds.

Wreckers are now at work, weather permitting, expect to get all the cargo out of the holds which have no water in them and transfer it to lighters, when it will be towed to Boston.

The vessel went ashore at 2:30 o'clock in the morning in a dense fog.

New Giant British Locomotive Tested

FURNESS VESSEL HERE IN MORNING

Pacific Enterprise Has Six Passengers and 100 Tons of Local Cargo

From Glasgow and Manchester, Captain George Newman will bring the Furness (Pacific) motorship Pacific Enterprise up to Rithet piers at 7 o'clock this morning, according to King Brothers.

Passengers for Victoria are Mr. C. De Trafford Cunningham, Mr. and Mrs. John Freer and three children, Miss Lucinda Corstorphine. Mr. G. Gauld and Miss M. A. Gauld will go to Vancouver with the ship.

For discharge here there are 100 tons of liquor, wool tops, steelware, earthenware, iron goods and drygoods.

CHARCAS PASSES UP

Bound for James Island, the Grace Line freighter Charcas arrived at Race Rocks at 2 o'clock this morning. She will discharge 1,500 tons of sodium nitrate at the Island and load a small parcel of lumber for Chile, according to King Brothers.

Formation of a large lumber syndicate to handle all shipments of lumber to Japan from British Columbia and the Pacific Coast states is now progressing, its foundation having been laid already in Seattle and San Francisco. The chief object of the syndicate is to restrict lumber cargoes to ships owned and operated by Japanese.

The time used is Pacific Standard for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the tables, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

To find the depth of water on the sill of the Esquimalt drydock at any tide, add 18.9 feet to the height of high water as above given.

To find the depth of water on the sill of the Songhees drydock add 30 feet to the height of high water as above given.

First Canadian National Craft Takes to Water

BIRKENHEAD, Eng., Jan. 17.—Miss Ishbel MacDonald, daughter of Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald, saying "I christen you Prince Henry, and wish you and the Canadian National Railways all good luck," today successfully launched the first of three new Canadian National steamships that will go into the Pacific Coast service this Summer.

The Prince Henry will ply between Vancouver, Prince Rupert and the Alaskan ports.

The other two steamers, the Prince David and the Prince Robert, for the Vancouver-Victoria-Seattle service, will be launched in the near future.

HALIFAX AIRPORT NOT DECIDED ON

Nova Scotia Port Finds That Project Would Cost Over $150,000

HALIFAX, Jan. 17.—Will Halifax have a fully equipped airport by the time another year rolls round? That is the question many of her citizens put to themselves as they entered the new year.

An airport is said to be essential to the continued development of the port, both as regards the handling of mails and passengers. Geography has been especially kind to Halifax in the matter. The Government is interested. Its experts have picked the most likely site. The people of Halifax have endorsed the construction of an airport at an estimated cost of $150,000.

All the evidence seems to point one way. But there remains the city council, headed by Mayor L. A. Gastonguay.

Last year the Postmaster-General was most anxious that Halifax should be made the terminus of an airmail route, linking up the Maritime Provinces with Montreal, Ottawa and Toronto. A citizens' committee, headed by Mr. C. H. Wright, of the board of trade, stood ready to lend every assistance. The press was enthusiastic. The prospects were rosy for an airport by 1930. But the city council balked.

It was first decided that possibly the report of the Federal Government experts might be improved upon. Consequently the city engineer was sent on a tour of the airports of the continent. He returned with the recommendation that the clearance for the runways should be a thousand feet wide instead of five hundred feet as originally planned. At approximately the same time it was found that the landowners involved wanted considerably more for their holdings than the assessed valuation on which the estimates were based. This meant that the airport could not be developed at the cost of $150,000 originally planned. It was true the city council could have proceeded to expropriate the properties. But it shied at that procedure. Instead it decided that the operations could not be commenced until a sufficient amount of money had been authorized to complete the enlarged project. At the last meeting of the city council the recommendation of the board of works that an additional $75,000 be borrowed was overwhelmingly defeated, the city engineer being at the same time instructed to report further on an alternative site. And there the matter rests.

The Postmaster-General, Hon. P. J. Veniot, has expressed his views in no uncertain language. He says the people of Halifax are not alive to their opportunities.

Mr. C. H. Wright, heading the board of trade committee, says that Halifax would have had an airport in 1929 if the city council had had the will to act on the decision of the electorate.

Mr. Louis A. Gastonguay, the mayor, when asked as to the prospects of a start being made in the immediate future, replied characteristically: "She's big, she's big." And Alderman E. J. Craig, M.P.P., chairman of the finance committee, when asked the same question, countered with another. It was: "What, no airport?"

NEW PASSENGER SHIP LAUNCHED

PRINCESS ELIZABETH WILL BE USED ON NIGHT TRIANGLE RUN

Is to Have Day Accommoation for Fifteen Hundred and Berths for Over Four Hundred

GLASGOW, Jan. 17.—Another new Canadian Pacific steamer took to the water Thursday when the Princess Elizabeth, 5,000-ton vessel for the British Columbia coastal service, was launched from the yards of the Fairfield Shipbuilding & Engineering Company, at Govan, near Glasgow, by Mrs. R. B. S. Reford, daughter of Mr. W. R. MacInnes, vice-president of the Canadian Pacific.

A large gathering of prominent people, including directors of the Fairfield Company and officials of the Canadian Pacific European organization were present when the graceful vessel was released from the slip and slid gently into the waters of the Clyde, after being named in honor of the young daughter of the Duke and Duchess of York by Mrs. Reford.

Sir George McLaren Brown, European general manager of the Canadian Pacific, addressing the throng of guests and officials on behalf of Mr. E. W. Beatty, chairman and president, and the board of directors, thanked Mrs. Reford for her sponsoring of the new ship, which, he said, would be one of the finest vessels yet seen on the coastal waters of British Columbia.

The Princess Elizabeth is a twin-screw, oil-burning steamer with quadruple expansion engines capable of a speed of sixteen and one-half knots, and has three funnels and five decks. She is 365 feet over all, and will have sleeping accommodation for 435 passengers and day accommodation for 1,500. She is the seventeenth liner, for ocean or coastal service, that has been launched by the Canadian Pacific during the last ten years.

COASTAL SKIPPER BRAVES ATLANTIC

Neptune Takes Forty-Eight Days to Make Tobermory, Scotland

St. John's, Nfld., Jan. 17.—The last of the Bona Vista fleet is safe with arrival at Tobermory, Scotland, of the three-masted schooner Neptune, with all well on board.

Captain Job Barbour, the Wesleyville skipper, accustomed only to coastal navigation, had brought his vessel safely through a forty-eight-day passage of the North Atlantic and completed the record of the ten North Coast vessels that sailed from St. John's with Winter supplies on November 29. Six are drifting derelicts, but more than seventy persons on the ten wrecked vessels were brought safely to port with the loss of one life.

The brief message to Mr. Clyde Lake, Minister of Fisheries, gave no particulars of the Neptune's long sojourn on the Atlantic.

Lumber shipments into the port of San Francisco for the month of December totaled 68,317,000 feet, as compared with a total of 83,282,000 for the month of November, according to a compilation by the marine department of the Chamber of Commerce.
